MONEY OFFERED FOR TRANSIT BILL VOTES, FOES HINT

Legislators Call Five Measures Outrage.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The use of money to influence the passage through the legislature of the five transportation bills was more than intimated by speakers before the City club yesterday noon.

"I believe, but cannot prove," said Howard P. Castle, representative from the seventh district, "that money is available to use among those who would be influenced by money. To others who would not take money the path is open to invest in traction securities which the companies predict will rise if the bills pass. Pressure will be put on others who hold political jobs in Chicago to have them vote 'right' in the general assembly."

Charles E. Merriam spoke about "the shadow of those suspected bills."

Refers to "80 Per cent Source."

Senator James J. Barbour made a reference to "campaign funds, of which 80 per cent came from one source."

Graham Taylor contrasted conditions now with those when the Allen bills were passed, when he recited it was charged that "legislators sold their honor for a few pieces of silver."

The money idea was only one phase of this mass meeting, and it was only a part of the evidence of an uprising of public opinion against the five bills drafted and sponsored by the transit companies.

The Woman's City club said that the bills should not be passed without full and careful consideration, which they said cannot be done in the few remaining days of the session.

The City club, in one of its resolutions, protests against "the treachery to future generations." Another by the same organization asks the directors of the transportation companies "to prevent the betrayal of the interests of Chicago." This organization sent a delegation to Springfield to appear before the house municipalities committee today to use stronger language, if necessary.

Aldermen Seek Amendments.

Perhaps a score of aldermen left last night to urge amendments to the bills. Some of them said they will ask that the bills be killed unless improved; but others were not so vehement in their protests.

The Municipal Ownership league, in its brief sent to every member of the general assembly, said that "the bills are the worst ever proposed—being more serious, dangerous, and drastic than the Allen bills."

This organization says that the situation is desperate and that the indeterminate permit in the pending bills "is the worst possible type."

One of the hottest shots from Prof. Charles E. Merriam was: "The bills are the most brazen assault upon the people and city of Chicago ever introduced in the legislature of this state."

History of Allen Bills.

"When the Allen bills were up," said Graham Taylor, "the mayor was on the side of the people. If that mayor [referring to Carter H. Harrison Jr.] were in office now these bills would never pass. Thank God, we had men like William Kent and George E. Cole. At the Battery D meeting when the Allen and Humphrey bills were under consideration a resolution was passed saying that every senator and representative who voted for the bills was a public enemy and should be treated as a traitor.

"About that time Yerkes gave an astronomical observatory to the University of Chicago, and while we were gazing at the stars he had his hands in our pockets and some of the aldermen had their hands in his pocket. It was then said that the Allen bill was passed because of the golden sunshine of Mr. Yerkes' smile.

"The Humphrey bill was defeated May 12, 1897. Then came the Allen bill which was passed later in that same session of the general assembly. It was repealed in the session of 1899. The repealing bill had passed the senate, it was up for consideration in the house. The speaker invited women friends to sit on his dais in front of him. He put the skirts of the women between him and the house. When he refused to permit discussion, members stood on their desks, threw books and ink wells, forcing the speaker to flee through a rear door.

Recalls "I Will" Motto.

"Have we sleeping sickness now? Who and where are we? Remember we're in Chicago, where the motto is 'I Will.'"

Representative Castle gave a graphic picture of certain conditions in the

150,000 TO SEE COOLIDGE OPEN INDIANA PARK

Simple Program at Hammond Today.

BULLETIN.

Harper's Ferry, W. Va., June 13.—(Special.)—President Coolidge on his special train bearing him to the South Dakota Black hills passed through this city tonight.

From the scenes of inspiration, excitement and emotional tension which attended the Lindbergh homecoming at Washington, President Coolidge this afternoon is to meet the contrast of a quiet picture of rural tranquillity and the serenity of the level prairie land of northern Indiana.

The magnificence of the great railway terminal at Washington from which he entered the train that is carrying him to the summer capital in the Black Hills, also will serve as a contrast to the switching yards at East Chicago where he will be met by his hosts of the Calumet region, who are to escort him to Wicker Memorial park. There the President is to be the speaker at the dedication of the playground to the memory of the war heroes of that district.

Program of Less Than Hour.

The President is scheduled to arrive at East Chicago at 3 o'clock, Chicago daylight saving time. Over paved country roads, through the hamlet of Highland Park and to Wicker park, the Presidential party is to travel by motor car, and at 3:30 o'clock the formal ceremonies will begin, lasting less than an hour. The President and his party will resume their progress to South Dakota at 5 p. m.

Along the highway route, which extends for about twelve miles, state police, city police and national guardsmen are to present an unbroken guard for the presidential party. Simple flag clusters line the route, while at East Chicago, Highland Park and in Hammond the display of bunting is a little more elaborate. But the only bannered sentiment appearing along the entire marked trail, is a small canvass at the little railroad depot in Hammond, from which the President and party will reëmbark for the continuation of the journey to the Black Hills. The banner bears the words: "Godspeed. Come Again." It is the only emotional manifestation displayed in all the great Calumet district.

Agree with Trip Managers.

That there will be an absence of demonstration, a country quietness and a sort of "home folks" atmosphere when the gathering is complete in the pastoral beauty spot which has been transformed into a regional playground, has been the objective of those who have had the arrangements in charge. They acquiesced gladly in the plans of the managers of the presidential trip, who reduce the occasion of President Coolidge's visit to a severe and colorless routine in transportation, with especial stress upon the element of time in the movements to and from the park.

Throughout the Calumet region, at Hammond, Whiting, Gary, Calumet City, East Chicago, Crown Point, Munster, and Highland Park, the hours yesterday were filled with final preparations—and the hope that it will not rain. Every detail considered important to the smooth running of a rather complicated program has been disposed of, according to the chairmen in charge, and at nightfall they announced that all remaining then was the arrival of the guest and his party.

Picturesque Setting.

The President's side trip into the Calumet industrial region will take him away from the centers of busy industry to an oak covered plot of ground bordering the wooded banks of Hart creek, a picturesque natural forest of much nobility in aspect, though limited in area. The setting differs little in appearance from the groves at which patriotic gatherings are held in thousands of American towns on Independence day. A speakers' stand and a few other temporary structures have been erected. They are decorated with bunting and flags, but the presence of new pine lumber still obtrudes.

Those in charge estimate that 150,000 persons will gather to hear President Coolidge. Vacant acreage for miles on each side of the memorial park has been taken over for automo-

BOHEMIAN ART CAFE RAIDED BY U. S.; RUM SEIZED

Forty patrons of the Rubaiyat café at 950 Rush street were interrupted last night when a detail of prohibition enforcement men under Agent Frank White swept in, arrested the owner and a waiter and seized five cases of assorted liquors.

The café is frequented by the Bohemians of the north side art colony. Agent White, accompanied by a woman companion, had made a purchase of liquor shortly before the raid.

Thomas Quigley, living in the Eitel hotel, is owner of the place. The waiter arrested is O. Becker, 1916 Mohawk street. Stella Hand, the café hostess, was notified to appear before the United States commissioner this morning.

Court Decides Alimony Gives No Moral Lien

Improper conduct, subsequent to a divorce, does not affect a woman's right to alimony, the Appellate court held yesterday. The woman may spend her alimony in riotous living, but her husband must continue to pay in accordance with the divorce decree, that tribunal decided.

The opinion was on a petition brought by Dr. Vernon P. Cooley, dentist, of 30 North Michigan boulevard, seeking to be relieved from paying $50 a month to his former wife, Mrs. Margaret Cooley, who obtained a divorce on the grounds of infidelity in 1923. The court sustained the dentist's charge that his wife since the divorce had been guilty of immorality. But it denied him the relief asked.

Still Keeps Alimony Right.

"The question arises," the opinion reads in part, "whether proof of such misconduct extinguishes her right to alimony. We do not think it does. . . . There seems to be no doubt that it is the law in this state that a woman who obtains a divorce from her husband on the grounds of adultery thereafter owes him no greater duty to lead a pure and virtuous life than she owes to society generally, and a claim on him under the order for the payment of alimony, merely is a pecuniary matter, is not affected in any way by what may be called the moral quality of her post-divorce conduct."

The opinion, written by Justices Thomson, O'Connor, and Taylor, quotes Pound's "Law and Morals," a standard text:

"Legal precepts sometimes are, and perhaps sometimes must be, at variance with the requirements of morals. . . . They arise from inherent practical limitations upon effective legal action which make it impossible or inexpedient in a wise social engineering to attempt to secure certain planes or enforce certain duties to the extent that might be desirable from a purely ethical standpoint."

Divorce Not Her Fault.

In conclusion, the decision reads: "In the instant case, where the evidence shows general social misconduct which bears no relation to, and affects the petitioner in no pecuniary way, it is not sufficient, in and of itself, to justify putting an end to the respondent's right to alimony, and, it may be added, by way of emphasis, especially is that true when, as here, the divorce was granted not on account of her fault, but on account of her husband's adultery."

HIGHWAY COP IS ARRESTED ON GIRL'S CHARGES

R. H. Gaskell, an acting sergeant of the county highway police, was stripped of his star yesterday by Sheriff Charles E. Graydon and arrested on a charge of attacking a young woman who had gone riding with him Friday evening, while he was off duty.

With another policeman and a second girl, Gaskell and his companion went to a dance hall in the northern part of the county. After the dance the couples separated. According to the story told by the victim, Gaskell stopped his car near the River and Higgins roads and made advances to her. When she resisted he struck her on the face with his revolver, blacking her eyes and breaking several of her teeth, and then attacked her, she said. The policeman asserted that the charge was a frameup.

Sheriff Graydon went to State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe and received a promise that the case would be considered today by the grand jury. Gaskell is 29 years old, married and the father of three children.

MOB THREATENS ALABAMA PRISON TO TAKE SLAYER

Montgomery, Ala., June 13.—(AP)—A party of 100 or more persons was reported to be en route here from Jackson, Miss., in an effort to take Walter Burley, Negro, charged with the murder of two Jackson women about two weeks ago, according to information received by officials of the state board of administration tonight. Reports were to the effect that the group was prepared to storm Kilby prison, where the Negro is confined, officials said.

Jackson, Miss., June 13.—(AP)—The telephone operator at Brandon, Miss., 15 miles east of Jackson, reported tonight that a caravan of automobiles about thirty strong passed through there late today. Police officials at Jackson denied tonight that they had called the prison authorities at Kilby to warn them of the approach of a mob. They had no information of any such mob, they said.

25 East Hazelcrest Places Are Enjoined

Temporary injunctions for prohibition violations were ordered yesterday against twenty-five places, most of them in East Hazelcrest, by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. East Hazelcrest was raided by Patrick Roche and Clarence L. Converse, special agents of the intelligence unit of the internal revenue department.

Klein Killers Break Jail 3d Time; One Slain

2d Murderer Escapes After Seizing Sheriff

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Railroads and highways all over Illinois were being watched early this morning for a condemned murderer who escaped yesterday when he and three other slayers, known as the "Klein killers," broke jail and fought the authorities a bitter revolver battle on the main streets of Joliet.

The escaped desperado has vowed never again to be placed behind the bars and walls that he has three times conquered for freedom. The authorities have flashed over the country the warning that he will kill rather than be taken alive.

Fifty Shots Exchanged.

Probably fifty shots were exchanged by the fugitives and the authorities after the quartet had made its way to the street. The outcome was:

ESCAPED—Charles Shader, convicted in Chicago years ago of killing a policeman, sentenced to death with five others for the murder of Deputy Warden Peter N. M. Klein in the Stateville penitentiary, successful in this his third jail break.

KILLED—Gregorio Rizo, sent to the penitentiary for a Chicago murder, sentenced to death for the Klein murder, wounded afterwards when his second escape brought him as far as South Chicago where Policeman Leo Grant was killed.

SHOT IN BACK—Walter Stalesky, sent to penitentiary from Chicago for murder; doomed to die afterwards for the Klein murder; foiled in the escape of March 12; free for a few minutes today.

MAULED—Charles Duchowski, Chicago murderer, involved in all three escapes of the Klein murderers, and barely escaped death at the hands of a mob after his attempt yesterday.

ENDANGERED—Sheriff A. Markgraff, who had two bullet holes through his hat.

Panhandler Is Hero.

The hero of the occasion was a panhandler in overalls and jumper, dirty, hungry, and homesick, John L. Bell, aged 22, of Revere, Mass. For perhaps half an hour bullets were whizzing with five hundred persons within range and it was not until Bell took a revolver away from some one, presumably a jail guard, and used it intelligently that the escape was frustrated and the danger to all was over.

Three of the seven men who killed Deputy Warden Klein at the Illinois state penitentiary at Stateville on May 5, 1926, are still available for the hangman, thanks to Bell, and perhaps he is responsible for removing any possibility of another escape for Rizo but he modestly disclaims the credit.

How Escape Was Made.

What happened was this: Four of the doomed men who were being kept in the insecure Will county jail made a key from a beef rib, tricked and overpowered three jail guards, reached the street level with all the jail keys in their possession, confiscated the jail arsenal, seized Sheriff Markgraff and had him lead them to his automobile parked outside and were ready to be driven away when the shooting started.

Joliet police had rushed to the rescue, but the sheriff's wife and his daughter, Linda, aged 14, pleaded with them not to shoot as Markgraff was being used by the prisoners as a foil. Eventually John L. Bell came, saw and conquered. Shader, meanwhile, had climbed out a window of Sheriff Markgraff's garage and was last heard from at Pequot Junction, twenty miles away.

Englewood police last night were Cheered by Millions; Awarded Medals.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh came back today to a screaming, joy-mad New York.

Before the din was stilled 250 harbor craft had churned the bay into a vortex and eight miles of city streets were ankle deep in confetti and ticker tape.

Three weeks ago Lindbergh had stood in line with several thousand New Yorkers patiently waiting his turn to see a movie. Today several million New Yorkers stood in a line, ten deep, stretching from the Battery to Central park, to see the same blonde haired young man.

But in the meantime he had hopped over the ocean and into the hearts of the civilized world.

New York's Record Welcome.

It was a welcome such as New York never before had given any one. Tonight Lindbergh, visibly tired by the day's ordeal, is resting up for the heavy program of the next few days.

The day's proceedings developed a welcome so unanimous, so heartfelt, so huge and so brimming over with good will and simplicity that it brought from the slim, ruddy faced young flyer the statement that it was "the reception of Paris, Brussels, London and Washington rolled into one."

It was a welcome in which all that was unofficial overshadowed all that was official. The formal touch was lost in the roaring of a million-mouthed public and drowned in the screech of harbor craft.

It was 12:25 p. m. when Lindbergh dropped down in the Narrows just outside a boat dotted harbor. He had flown from Washington in an army pursuit plane at the head of a formation of 21 pursuit planes and landed at Mitchel field near the spot of his take-off for the history making flight to Paris. His own plane, "The Spirit of St. Louis," better known now as "we"—had to be left behind in Washington, due to a jammed valve caused by salt water which had seeped into the engine on the trip aboard the Memphis from Paris.

From Mitchel field he took a naval amphibian plane to the narrows, in the lower harbor, where he first was scheduled to end the trip from Washington.

Wild Welcome at Battery.

Lindbergh was transferred to the Macom, the official boat of welcome, and rolled down the bay to the Battery.

When "Lindy" stepped ashore he gave his own greeting to New York, shouting, "Hello, New York," into a microphone that carried his words to millions unable to see him. Overhead twenty planes were circling, and a lone skywriter was spelling "Hail, Lindy," with many a flourish.

Perched above the throng on the shoulders of three of his friends Lindbergh was carried triumphantly to a waiting automobile where he got the foretaste of New York's welcome.

It was at this time that the only untoward event of the day was narrowly averted. Just as the auto started for the city hall, it jerked in such a manner that Lindbergh, who was standing, was thrown violently into the seat and barely escaped falling from the car.

More than a hundred thousand persons were jammed into the narrow opening at the Battery and before his eyes stretched Broadway, a teeming mass of flag decked humanity. Tier after tier of men and women were banked in the windows and on the ledges of the skyscrapers almost as high as the eye could see. The narrow brick gulch was a canyon lined with humanity intent on seeing a hero. It was thick with a snowstorm of paper festooned with ticker tape until the very outlines of the huge office buildings were hidden behind the deluge and the countless spectators were knee deep in the joyful waste.

March a Continuous Triumph.

The Lone Eagle's progress up Broadway behind the soldiers, sailors, and marines brought forth a deep throated cheer from the multitude.

The crowd liked him. It wanted him to know it.

"Lindy, Lindy," roared the throng. It was the prevailing cry, sometimes in a deep bass and more often in the shrill, high pitched voice of an eager woman. All along the route 8,000 police stood with arms linked, holding back the crowd, but it was a happy well behaved crowd and gave them little trouble, except for sporadic breaks.

Riding at this time in an open car with Grover Whalen, chairman of the reception committee, Lindbergh was compelled to stand and wave from time to time. His acknowledgment of the welcome was a short, almost choked, wave of the hand. He soon tired and resumed his seat, but he still had an occasional smile for the multitude.

To onlookers it was apparent he had nothing of the showman's spirit. A bit tired, a little frightened and plainly bewildered at the tumultuous reception, Lindbergh was getting his second taste of New York's welcome.

The paper snowstorm grew thicker until it almost blinded the drivers of the automobiles in the parade. The crowd was banked twenty deep as their hero neared City Hall square.

The broad plaza in front of the historic building was a surging sea of color. Two stands, smothered in bunting, were made more vivid as the sparkling sunshine brought out the medley of hue of frocks of the feminine occupants.

City's Great Acclaim.

The same shy, tousle-haired boy who slipped away in the fog for Paris three weeks ago had officially returned to submit helplessly to a welcome such as no other man has known. He was following in the footsteps of kings, queens, princes, and cardinals, diplomats, and heroes of the wars, but none received such great acclaim.

"Lindy!" roared one hundred thousand voices.

His smile broadened. His cheeks flushed, and the flying colonel, clad plainly as becomes one of his modesty, in a simple blue suit, stepped to the side of Mayor James Walker to receive from him the official welcome of the city.

The mayor presented him with a city medal of honor and a scroll of welcome. The gift of the metropolis.

The youthful colonel was plainly dazed by the welcome. But when he stepped to the microphone at the close of the greeting after Mayor Walker had told him that "six million heartbeats here were thrilling to the story of your courage," the slim youth showed calm.

Had Won the City.

Mayor Walker welcomed Col. Lindbergh as the son of one immigrant to the son of another. He explained to the returning hero that he was not giving the city of New York to him, but that he had won it by his flight across the Atlantic.

"Everybody all over the world, in every language, has been telling you about yourself," the mayor said. "You have been told time after time that you have done the supernatural thing of an air flight from New York to Paris. I am satisfied that you have become convinced of it by this time, And it is not my purpose to reiterate any of the wonderful things that have been said and written about you. But the one thing that occurs to me that has been overlooked is that you are a great grammarian and that you have added significance and a deeper meaning to the word 'we.'

"Not until you landed in Paris did we learn of the aeronautical 'we.' Now you have given to the world a flying pronoun."

Mayor Walker asserted the "we" was a "vindication of the courage, of the intelligence, of the confidence and the hopes of other flyers, including Nungesser and Coli, who now only live in the prayer and the hearts of the people of the entire world."

After telling Col. Lindbergh of the pride and love in which the city held him, Mayor Walker concluded with the presentation of the medal and scroll.

Flyer Faces Microphone.

Col. Lindbergh then faced the microphone. But first he almost pushed it off the platform. Some one standing behind reached out and rescued it, and in clutching at it the young flyer gave it another shove.

High up in a nearby building some one shouted "O, you Lindy!" and the crowd roared. Then Lindbergh flashed his famous smile and began his brief address.

Without a tremor in his voice he expressed his pleasure. He told of the host that swept the field at Le Bourget when he slipped down out of the night sky. He recalled the rush of the Belgian populace and the throng that hemmed him in at Croydon, near London.

"At Croydon," he said, "1,500 of the pride of Scotland Yard were lost in the crowd and I never saw more than two of them at any one time.

"At Washington I received a marvelous reception, but at New York I believe that all four put together would be in about just the same position as those London 'bobbies'."

Cheered for Compliment.

There was a pause here and the crowd, quick to catch the compliment, cheered again and again.

"When I landed at Le Bourget," Col. Lindbergh continued, "I landed looking forward to the pleasure of seeing Europe and the British Isles. I learned to speak of Europe and the British Isles after I landed in London. [Laughter.]

"By the time I had spent about a week in France and a short time in Belgium and England and had opened a few cables from the United States, I found that I did not have much to say about how long I would stay over there.

Battleship Waiting.

"The ambassador in London said that it was not an order to go back home, but there would be a battleship waiting in a few days.

"So I left Europe and the British Isles with the regret that I had been unable to see either Europe or the British Isles. When I started up the Potomac from the Memphis I decided that I was not so sorry that I had taken the ambassador's advice. After spending about an hour in New York I know I am not."

Col. Lindbergh repeated briefly his warning to the public not to expect too rapid development of aviation, pointing out that it will take careful progress for "five or ten years" to bring commercial air traffic across the Atlantic. With a simple "I thank you," Lindy ended his speech and got another big hand.

Col. Lindbergh's mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, was introduced to the cheering crowd. She smiled delightedly at the mayor and Mrs. Walker, and stepped to the front of the platform, where the throng could see her. She was given an ovation second only to that received by her distinguished son.

Then began the long ride up Fifth avenue to Central park. The young flyer was in the automobile with the mayor, following behind 10,000 troops.

The first stop was at the Eternal Light at Madison square—a permanent memorial to the war dead. Here he paused to lay a wreath at the base of the memorial and then went on.

Col. Lindbergh arrived at the Mall in Central park soon after 4 o'clock, where he received the state Medal of Valor from Gov. Alfred E. Smith in the presence of more than 300,000 people.

Sections of the eight thousand police had been rushed ahead by special subway trains and again stood with linked arms all along the line of march to hold back the crowd which had grown even more tremendous than that which lined lower Broadway.

Augmented by thousands of soldiers the street crowd was kept in order and only occasionally was the sound of tinkling glass heard as some huge show window caved in under the pressure of the multitude. From time to time the ambulances stationed every few blocks, and in the parade, stopped to pick up some injured person or woman who had fainted.

New York was dressed up with unprecedented gayety and brilliance to greet the youth who had brought back the age of romance. The line of march, Fifth avenue and every side street, was one vast gallery of Lindbergh pictures from half inch buttons to half acre portraits on the walls of the skyscrapers. Fifth avenue was one great hangar for the "Spirit of St. Louis," which appeared in a thousand different sizes and materials. The flyer and his plane were woven into neckties, cast in boiling lead while you wait, crocheted in yarn, and interpreted in French pastry.

Lindy Gets a Laugh.

As Lindbergh passed along, he turned to smile at a placard on a building which read:

"And Babe Ruth thinks he's a hero!"

The sky became the mounting for the name of the national hero as skywriters far above the avenue rewrote it in letters more than a mile long. Meanwhile, lower down, the air was alive with color. It was filled with billions of lines and dots of colors as the big buildings exploded puffballs from the windows turning into paper bits and making the atmosphere semisolid.

At Madison Square, where thousands of persons had waited hours to see the flying colonel, the cavalcade halted seven minutes. Just then, for the first time, the orderly crowd seemed to be changing into an uncontrollable mob. It rolled out into the avenue, with mounted police and patrolmen fighting a rear guard action to keep the thousands from closing in from behind. They barely succeeded.

3 Women, Boy Hurt.

Heres a large plate glass window crashed in as the bluecoats shoved the crowd back to the sidewalk. An ambulance stood directly in front of the window and another in the mouth of the side street facing it. Part of the crowd attempted to flee and a fresh wave swept forward to see what had happened. Finally, out of the scramble, police bore three women and a boy while movie cameras ground away. The women were not seriously hurt, and the boy was actually beaming over his wounded hand. He knew he'd be in the pictures.

Then a little later Lindbergh passed through the greatest crowd massed at any point of the parade. It was at the intersection of 5th avenue and 42d street, where 15,000 school children stood in front of the public library and 100,000 spectators stood jammed in the street until only a narrow pathway was left for the parade to pass through. Here the din could be heard for blocks with the piping little voices of the children providing an under tone to the rumbling roar of their elders.

Parade Enters Central Park.

The parade wound on to the giant electric arch bearing the sign, "Welcome, Col. Lindbergh," at the entrance to Central park. Passing under it America's greatest flying man rode down a green tree lined driveway flanked on either side by troops standing rigidly at attention. The hills and sidewalks of the park were a solid mass of humanity as far as the eye could reach. Thousands stood so far back on the mounds and hillsides and sheep meadows that they could not have seen the flyer with powerful glasses.

Col. Lindbergh drew up to the gayly decorated reviewing stand where Gov. Smith awaited him with the New York state medal of valor and told him "New York is proud not only of your indescribable achievement, but admires the personality you refuse to exploit."

The young western grinned diffidently.

An Example to Youth.

"New York is proud to bestow on you her medal of valor," the governor continued, "not only for your achievement, which is beyond the power of words to describe, but in admiration of your remarkable personality. You are hailed in the Empire state as an ideal and example for the youth of the nation. Every man, woman, and child in the state of New York joins with the residents of our greatest city in bidding you a welcome home to your own country."

The youth frankly grinned.

"The receptions at Paris and Brussels and London didn't exceed this in sentiment, but they were completely lost in comparison with the volume of New York's greeting," he laughed. "I am happy to see the flags of France entwined here with my own flag, and I thank you for this great welcome."

Speeches Win Hearers.

With those two simple responses he struck the perfect note as he has done so often since the world first made him its hero, for New York's purpose today was to give him a greater greeting than any other he has received. It succeeded, as he admitted, for after he had passed the city's six million were hoarse, the harbor was a screaming tangle of shipping, the heavens were rent and ribboned by airplanes.

New York, with its multitude, was joyously mad.

And in the swelter he, alone, was sane. True, he was a rather frightened young man, but he kept his poise throughout the long, hot day, from the moment he dropped down out of the sky in a milling bay until he was whisked away at the close, to Clarence Mackay's estate at Roslyn, L. I., where he had dinner. Late tonight he returned to the Harry H. Frazee apartment for the night.

Gold Star Mothers Early on Scene to Greet Air Hero

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—A quartet of gray haired women wearing the gold stars which indicated that they had lost sons in the world war took up their positions at an early hour at the curb on lower Broadway. They had come to do honor to Col. Lindbergh, the hero who only yesterday belittled his own epoch making deed when confronted with the shattered, twisted men who had been maimed for life for the part they played in the terrible conflict.

The broiling sun did stunts to the asphalt, and a policeman, guilty of standing too long in one place at Battery park, found his feet stuck to the street. He removed them while those round about told the various jokes about policemen's feet.

Flappers brightly decked in glaring silks, smeared with powder, squirmed and wriggled through the multitudes, giggling greetings to one another, speculating on the good looks of Charlie, chewing gum, squealing angrily when some one stepped on their toes.

One reporter had to walk four blocks from Madison square before he found an unoccupied phone booth. Queues of women and girls stood outside each one, clamoring to call their friends and make dates.

On the balcony of the Union club swayed a six foot model of "The Spirit of St. Louis." In the grand stand in front of the Union League club Jules Henry, first secretary of the French embassy at Washington, reviewed the parade by special invitation of the president and officers of the club.

"Hel Lindy" was the best effort of the skywriting apparatus of an aviator who had attempted to inscribe on the face of the heavens the words "Hello, Lindy."

"What the hell, Lindy," remarked an irreverent young man. "What the hell."

Members of the diplomatic corps took their places on the reviewing stands at 11:30 amid cheers.

Hawkers were selling flags, buttons, parasols, food, drinks, ice cream, and an amazing assortment of souvenirs mysteriously designed to commemorate the arrival of the world's first aeronaut. An old man flat footed it through the city hall park, shouting hoarsely, "Lindaboig's airplane, ten cents—the Spirit o' St. Looie, a dime!"

The showers of ticker tape and torn paper began to give way to firecrackers as the crowd in the windows along lower Broadway grew tired of waiting. As the crackers popped roars of laughter arose from those who were far enough away to see the point of the joke.

"Welcome home, Lindy. We agree, Lindy—Ireland looks good to every one!" said a sign high in the air on a building at 58th street and 5th avenue. It had evidently been placed there by some Lithuanians.

COOLIDGE PHYSICIAN FINDS LINDBERGH'S HEALTH IS PERFECT

Washington, D. C., June 13.—[Special.]—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is in perfect health, according to Maj. James F. Coupal, White House physician, who examined him during his stay at the temporary White House.

Maj. Coupal told the flyer he should be slightly heavier for his height and age. The flyer said he did not desire additional weight.

Mrs. Lindbergh heard this verdict and said:

"He doesn't want to be heavier. He can carry more gas if he keeps under normal weight."

Texas Honors Lindbergh by Naming Town for Him

Brownsville, Tex., June 13.—(AP)—Lindbergh is the newest Texas town. It is in Starr county, just west of Rio Grande City, on a large tract of land being developed for cotton, fruit and truck farming. Its name was announced today by promoters of the development.

LINDBERGH AND MOTHER MACKAY DINNER GUESTS

Watches Dancing; Returns to New York.

Roslyn, L. I., June 13.—[Special.]—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his mother left the thunder of New York's welcome behind them tonight and journeyed to Rosyln to be dinner guests of Clarence H. Mackay, head of the Postal Telegraph company, at Harbor Hill, his estate here.

All the splendor and magnificence of one of Long Island's show places were spread before the young aviator, but if he was dazzled by what he saw he did not betray it.

For hours before he came a crowd had been waiting outside the gates of Harbor Hill, a mile from the house, hoping to catch a glimpse of the hero. Col. Lindbergh rode in a closed car, however, with Mayor Walker on one side of him and Grover Whalen on the other, and the crowd was disappointed.

Mother Follows Him.

Behind the car in which Col. Lindbergh rode came one bearing Mrs. Lindbergh. She was accompanied by Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Whalen, and a line of official automobiles trailed after them.

The automobiles sped up the hill along a winding road. Seven thousand Japanese lanterns of red, white and blue glimmered in the trees and created a scene of rare beauty. At the summit Col. Lindbergh came to Mr. Mackay's famous Versailles garden, where flood light concealed in the shrubbery and on the roof bathed the scene in soft gray light, in competition with the moon shining in the sky.

Far to the west could be seen the twinkling lights of New York's towers; below, on the sound, were steamers threading their way through the night. It was like the fairyland which Col. Lindbergh himself described after piloting his plane at night, above the clouds, by moonlight.

Mackay Meets Lindbergh.

Mr. Mackay came to the driveway to greet his guests. He walked down a green carpeted staircase to the door and shook hands warmly with Mrs. Lindbergh and her son. Then he led them into the house, with footmen in blue velvet on either side of the doorway.

Col. Lindbergh and his mother, followed by the mayor and the other guests, were ushered into the main dining hall, where five tables had been set for eighty persons.

Col. Lindbergh sat at the place of honor at the oblong table, with Mrs. Kenneth O'Brien, Mr. Mackay's daughter, on his left and Mrs. John W. Mackay, the host's mother, on his right. Facing him across the table, sat Mr. Mackay with Mrs. Walker, wife of the mayor, on his left, and Mrs. Lindbergh on his right. Mayor Walker sat alongside Mrs. Mackay, with the Countess de Bondouloir, a niece of Mr. Mackay, to his right.

Many Distinguished Guests.

The list of guests included distinguished names in business, finance, society and aviation. Mr. and Mrs. James A. Burden, hosts to the prince of Wales on his Long Island visit, were there. John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for President in 1924, was there with Mrs. Davis. Others present included Mr. and Mrs. Elbert H. Gary, Thomas W. Lamont, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Iselin, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, J. Pierpont Morgan, Col. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, and James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany.

After dinner several hundred guests came for dancing, while a buffet supper was served. Col. Lindbergh does not dance, but he stood chatting and watching those on the floor.

Both Col. Lindbergh and his mother had been invited to spend the night as Mr. Mackay's guests, but they decided to go to their apartment in Manhattan at 11:30, giving the aviator a long night's sleep before his strenuous program tomorrow.

CONFERENCE, DINNER, ADDRESSES FILL UP TODAY FOR LINDBERGH

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—The schedule of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh tomorrow will be approximately as follows:

8:30 a. m.—Breakfast with his mother at the Harry Frazee apartment in New York.

9:30 a. m. to 12 m.—Conferences with business associates.

1 p. m.—Addresses 100,000 school children following their musical program at the Mall in Central park. Mayor Walker and others will talk.

7 p. m.—Dinner of the City of New York at Hotel Commodore in his honor. He will speak again, together with Gov. Smith, Mayor Walker, Cardinal Hayes and Bishop Manning.

Midnight—Attends a special performance of "The Circus Princess" at the Winter Garden.

LINDY KEEPS HIS IMPRESSIONS OF CAPITAL SECRET

Washington, D. C., June 13.—[Special.]—While Col. Lindbergh sat in his plane preparatory to hopping off for New York today a reporter asked him if he had a farewell message for the capital city.

"Certainly not," responded the flyer, "I'll be back some of these days."

He was even more reticent when asked about his impression of President Coolidge.

"How did you like the President?" he was asked.

"Is this an interview?" he replied. "I'm sorry I can't talk to reporters now."

The reporter persisted.

"Did you enjoy your visit to the White House?"

"Well, you know the answer to that as well as I do," replied the colonel with a grin. And that was that.

AIR COMMERCE MOST HELPED BY LINDY—WILBUR

Washington, D. C., June 13.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur today expressed the opinion that commercial rather than military aviation would be most benefited by the recent trans-Atlantic flights of Col. Lindbergh and Clarence D. Chamberlin.

"I think that Col. Lindbergh's flight will stimulate commercial aviation," Mr. Wilbur said, "because he prepared for his successful attempt by working as an air mail pilot. In that position he had exceptional training because it was necessary for him to fly in all kinds of weather and to keep to regular schedules."

Secretary Wilbur is optimistic that the coming congress will be generous in appropriating funds for naval aviation.

2 ARMY FLYERS KILLED IN CRASH OF THEIR PLANE

Newport News, Va., June 13.—(AP)—First Lieut. F. B. McConnell and Second Lieut. C. Anderson were killed at Langley field today while engaged in air maneuvers. Their machine crashed near the post incinerator and burst into flames as it hit the ground, both airmen being burned almost beyond recognition.

Lieut. McConnell is survived by a widow, who lives in Nashville, Tenn.

One Falls Dead and 100 Faint in Rush to See Lindy

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—One young woman fell dead, a dozen persons were injured in traffic accidents, 100 adults and a score of children were overcome by heat, and at least 1,000 others required treatment of a minor nature, in the great surge of humanity that marked Col. Lindbergh's reception.

Prices realized on Swift & Company's sales of carcass beef in Chicago, for week ending Saturday, June 11, 1927, on shipments sold out, were as follows: Cows, common to good, 11.00 cents to 15.00 cents; steers, common to medium, 13.00 cents to 16.50 cents; steers, good to choice, 17.00 cents to 20.00 cents;

LINDBERGH QUITS CAPITAL IN FLASH OF ACROBATICS

Thrills Big Crowd with Daring Takeoff.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 13.—[Special.]—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today capped the greatest welcome any private individual ever received in the national capital with a daring takeoff in a tiny fighting plane that thrilled the crowd and alarmed hundreds of air men gathered at Bolling field to speed the famous pilot on his way to New York.

Entering the cockpit of a trim, powerful Curtiss pursuit plane, warmed up for his use after the Spirit of St. Louis was found unsafe because of engine trouble, the pilot turned the machine into the wind, opened the throttle and sent it splashing down the rain soaked airways of Bolling field.

Shoots Plane Upward.

Scarcely had the wheels left the ground when he pulled the yellow and black machine almost straight up into the air and sent it waving upward, the powerful motor working at full speed. Experienced air men, recalling the tragic deaths of other famous pilots, held their breath as the machine climbed at an angle that appeared almost vertical to the watchers below.

Four hundred feet up, the young flyer straightened the plane to an even keel and a sight of relief went up from the crowd. Up into the air to about 1,000 feet the pilot cruised, then he suddenly flopped the plane over in what air men term a right hand barrel roll.

For a few moments the air man did stunts in the air as a farewell to the city where he had been signally honored by the President and the citizens, then he turned the machine to the left and headed for New York, escorted by a group of twenty pursuit planes from Selfridge field.

Handled Plane Perfectly.

Army officials who watched the plane disappear at 8:53 o'clock admitted this type of takeoff had been done before, but said it was not the routine way for army flyers to take the air. All admitted, even the highest officials, that Col. Lindbergh "had handled the plane perfectly."

Some pointed out that had it been more heavily loaded, it might have stalled and crashed as it struggled upward. Flyers attributed the stunt to the natural reaction of a self-confident youngster again in an airplane after an enforced layoff.

The colonel's dramatic departure from Washington came after 1,000 aviators and aviation officials had given him a breakfast at the Mayflower hotel. Here he had been awarded the highest honors of the National Geographic society and had been made an honorary member in the National Aeronautic association.

The Hubbard medal of the Geographic society was awarded by Commander Richard Byrd, the latest recipient, while Porter Adams, president of the Aeronautic association, announced that Col. Lindbergh, already a member of that body, had been made an honorary member.

Responding to the introductory address by Mr. Adams, Col. Lindbergh predicted a successful flight would soon be made from San Francisco to the Hawaiian islands.

Col. Lindbergh bade good-by to the President last night and arose this morning at 5 o'clock. Immediately after his share in the breakfast program was completed, the colonel was driven rapidly to the naval air base.

GIVE BYRD'S PLANE FINAL RADIO TEST FOR N. Y.-PARIS HOP

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—The America, tri-motored plane of Commander Richard E. Byrd, will be put through a final radio test tomorrow in preparation for the trans-Atlantic flight which, according to Commander Byrd, will be toward Paris and Paris only.

After these tests the plane will be ready for the flight except for loading. The emergency supplies are on board, but the gas and oil will not be taken on in large quantities until after the tests.

Commander Byrd spent the greater part of Friday assisting in the testing of compasses with an engineer of the Pioneer Instrument company. The big plane did not leave its hangar yesterday. Commander Byrd went to Washington on Saturday to take part in the reception of Col. Lingbergh. He will return to Roosevelt field tomorrow.

Previous to his departure for Washington the commander said that there had been no changes in the plans as outlined by Rodman Wanamaker. It was said that the flight would be made toward Paris. While nothing official could be learned mechanics hinted that the flight might be attempted on Wednesday if the weather is good.

CHAMBERLIN'S MOTHER FAILS TO SEE LINDY

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—Mrs. B. C. Chamberlin of Denison, Ia., mother of Clarence Chamberlin, who piloted the Bellanca monoplane from New York to Germany reached Jersey City at 3:10 p. m. today. She was met by Ray Bolton, a friend of her son, and was taken to the Biltmore hotel in the automobile of former Senator Charles C. Lockwood of New York.

Nearing 5th avenue the party was prevented from crossing by the thickly packed crowd which had a few minutes before witnessed the passing of Col. Lindbergh. Mrs. Chamberlin expressed the desire to view better the parade and alighted from the car in the hope of seeing the young flyer who had preceded her son across the Atlantic. She was disappointed to learn that half of the procession had passed and she could not see Lindbergh.

Now—a three-way lens so You can watch Your Step —for distance, for reading, for walking

Almer Coe & Company now introduce a reading and distance lens—through which one may see his feet and his step. Science has finally overcome the one feature objectionable in all other bifocals, and UNIVIS is the result. The Univis Lens permits one to see where he steps as naturally as he would if he needed no glasses. This is the greatest improvement since the invisible fused bifocals were brought out by Almer Coe & Company twenty years ago. Almer Coe & Company recommend Univis lenses and assume full responsibility for their successful operation and performance. If you are wearing bifocals, let your next pair be UNIVIS. If you have not yet worn them let your first pair be UNIVIS. Step in today and see them.

See This Remarkable Improvement On the Bifocal Principle

You are invited to the nearest Almer Coe store to see this new, perfected, three-way lens, the UNIVIS. Walking up and down stairs and steps, with this lens, is as easy as reading or "seeing at a distance." New comfort, new efficiency, more satisfaction, Almer Coe guaranteed, and made up in all styles. HERO'S MOTHER DODGES RAYS OF LIMELIGHT

Mrs. Lindbergh Disappoints the Interviewers.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's mother is determined that she shall not dim, by sharing it, the glamour of her son's bright hour.

Mrs. Evangeline Lodge Land Lindbergh is equally determined that the world shall not think, through any emotional enthusiasm on her part, that she is the least bit overwhelmed by the glamour which circumstances are now shedding upon her, a Detroit school teacher.

Interview Is Unsatisfactory.

These two cross tugs—a modesty that seems very natural, and an indifference which is very likely studied—made a curious and an unsatisfactory thing of the interview which this pleasant looking woman, made a national figure through the international accomplishment of her only child, gave today for the first time since her son flew to Paris alone and rode back with the world.

Anxious to avoid the publicity that is so new, the aviator's mother has left trains at suburban stations, taken trolley cars to more remote places to motor down obscure streets, and sought to clothe her every plan with a futile secrecy that has rebounded into greater publicity. So today, upon her arrival in New Yory City, she consented to be interviewed.

Suspicious of Every Question.

But, through this combination of shyness and dignity, Mrs. Lindbergh was suspicious of every question mark. She parried the most direct, matter of fact questions. She was wary of being steered into the most restrained enthusiasm.

"May we ask you a few questions?" the newspaper men who had been having such a good time talking to Lindbergh these last few days asked Mrs. Lindbergh this morning as she was ushered into the drawing room of Harry H. Frazee's apartment at 270 Park avenue. This apartment is to be the home, for the next few days, of the famous airman and his mother.

"Yes, you may ask me questions, but I don't know whether I'll answer them," was the reply.

No Idea What Son Will Do.

"What do you think your son would like to do next in his aviation career?"

"I have no ideas as to what my son wants to do."

"Would you fly across the Atlantic with your son?"

"He hasn't asked me."

"Mrs. Lindbergh, I wonder if you'd be good enough to tell us what, of all the ceremonies in Washington, impressed you most?"

But Mrs. Lindbergh wasn't going to make any comment on her experiences while a guest at the White House. She stopped smiling, and straightened out her lips to form a rebuking reply.

"I prefer not to discuss one thing about my Washington visit. It was all very lovely, very."

When they asked her about the times she had flown with her son, about the times that she herself had piloted the ship, she dsiappointed them by giving the answer as if it were the solution of an algebra problem instead of the pleasant reminiscences of a justly proud mother.

Can Pilot a Ship, but Not Very Well.

"Yes," with absolutely no animation, "I have flown with my son. And I can pilot a ship, but not very well."

Another silence.

"Did your son bring you any memento from Paris?"

"I haven't seen any."

And still another silence.

"Would you fly to San Diego with Col. Lindbergh?"

"He hasn't asked me."

"But would you, if he asked you?"

"He hasn't asked me."

The gentle faced woman, with the very friendly smile, seemed to enjoy the conversational checkmates which she made so consistently.

"What are your plans for the next few days, Mrs. Lindbergh?" was the next query.

And the serene voice replied, "They are in the hands of a committee."

"What about next year?" came the follow up question.

Will Teach Next Year.

And then Mrs. Lindbergh, teacher of chemistry in a Detroit high school, gave the first, direct, positive response.

"I have already signed my contract for next year."

And that was that.

Just about this time, Richard B. Blythe, who busied himself in planning Mrs. Lindbergh's schedule, came to announce that it was time for her and Mrs. James J. Walker to motor down to the mayor's office.

"I must go, anyway," the flyer's mother announced, "for I've already said too much."

As she went into her bedroom to put on a large black straw hat and to slip a black satin coat over her flowered print frock, the reporters gathered about her brother, Charles E. Land, also of Detroit. He was jolly and easy to talk with. He laughed a lot when they asked if he, too were a pedagogue.

"Me a teacher? Mercy, no. I'm just Charles' uncle, and a mighty proud uncle," and he beamed his enthusiasm.

Goes to Greet Son.

Presently, Mrs. Lindbergh and Mrs. Walker were seated in the back seat of a big motor car that dominated the road clean down to the city hall. Here the guest, who had arrived early in the morning from Washington, withdrew to rest and wait, once more, for the coming of her son. Along about noon she was again escorted to the automobile, and drove down to Battery park to greet Col. Lindbergh, who had flown a plane over from Washington.

Back again at the city hall, on the platform which held the gaze of thousands of people and before the microphone which caught up the hearing of millions of people, Mrs. Lindbergh was introduced as the "glorious mother." She permitted herself to be pushed gently forward and smiled out over the politicians and priests and people who swarmed around. But when one of the officials gestured toward the microphone and begged a sentence or two, she waved aside the instrument in a quiet, precise manner.

Proud of Son's Speech.

Then, Col. Lindbergh's mother sat down near hm, but a bit to the rear of him. And, in spite of all she had refused to say at that earlier interview, she looked tickled to death when her boy spoke out staunch, sensible sentences, to mighty cheers of applause.

But, consistent through all the mad, blithe exultation, Mrs. Evangeline Lodge Land Lindbergh, Detroit school teacher, seemed determined that nobody should guess that she was tickled to death.

Watchman Dies of Wounds Suffered Fighting Bandits

William H. Grace, 50, of 1817 South May street, a private watchman employed by the Merchants' Service Patrol company, died yesterday of wounds sustained in a battle with two holdup men as they attempted to rob a men's furnishing store at 4017 Lincoln avenue. Robey street police are looking for the men who stole the sedan of Alfred Leoni, 2303 South Western avenue, as the murderers. The machine was used in the robbery and was recovered yesterday near 2440 North Avers avenue, with two bullet holes in it.

FIRST RADIO TRADE SHOW IS OPENED TO 5,000 DELEGATES

HAROLD J. WRAPE.

With more than 5,000 representatives of the radio industry, manufacturers, dealers, jobbers and broadcasters already in Chicago, the first Radio Trade show opened yesterday afternoon at the Stevens hotel. Today, when the conventions of the Radio Manufacturers' association, which are being held in connection with the show, get under way, it is expected between 7,500 and 10,000 delegates will be present.

The official opening of the R. M. A. convention will be at 10 o'clock this morning with Mayor Thompson making the address of welcome. The first meeting of the Federated Radio Trades association, with Harold J. Wrape, president, presiding, will be held this evening. Thursday night the R. M. A. will hold its annual banquet, with Herbert A. Hoover, secretary of commerce, and Merlin H. Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting company as the speakers.

The show at the Stevens is purely a trade affair, with admittance only to members of the radio industry and is for the purpose of giving radio dealers and jobbers an early view of what the manufacturers have to offer for the 1927-'28 radio season. The radio show for the public will be held in the Coliseum in October.

PAIR CONFESSES KILLING TO END ANCIENT GRUDGE

Settlement of a fifteen year old grudge carried by two brothers out of their boyhood days resulted early yesterday in the murder of William O'Hearn by John and Daniel Mangen, 36 and 32, respectively. The body of O'Hearn, who was 38, was found, the head crushed in, in an alley behind his home at 3601 Lowe avenue.

The Mangen brothers confessed early this morning at the detective bureau after seven hours' questioning to Chief of Detectives William E. O'Connor and his deputy, Michael Grady. They said they met O'Hearn Sunday night in a soft drink parlor at 36th street and Parnell avenue, where they drank and the old quarrel was revived.

"We went out into the alley behind his home and waited for him," the Mangen brothers said. "When he came along we hit him over the head with a floor board of our automobile."

CHIEF TO FILE CHARGES AGAINST 3 CAPTAINS TODAY

Formal charges will be filed before the civil service commission today against Capts. Dennis Carroll, Daniel Murphy, and John Stege, Chief of Police Hughes announced yesterday. Those three were suspended Saturday.

The chief refused to say whether the ax will fall next on Capts. Patrick Hogan, Joseph Johnson and Joseph Palczynski.

"I want active men out in command of districts—men who can get out and lead their men in a drive on crime," was his only statement in discussing their status.

As to Carroll, Murphy and Stege, Chief Hughes said he will charge the first two with permitting "open vice and prostitution" in their districts. Stege he will accuse of having sworn falsely that he had never been convicted of a felony. Stege, the chief said, is alleged to have been found guilty of manslaughter.

"As far as I know Stege is a good policeman," Chief Hughes said, "but his name should be cleansed of the stigma or he should be removed from the force."

"It does not seem fair," was Stege's reply, "that after nearly 19 years of faithful service a mistake—if it were one—made before I was of age, should be cast up at me now. A man should be judged by his present conduct."

COUPLE, MARRIED THREE TIMES, ARE AGAIN IN COURT

An attempt by Superior Judge Joseph Sabath to reconcile William Gaertner, 63 years old, and his estranged wife, Mrs. Belva E. Gaertner, 42, to whom he has been married three times, failed yesterday when the couple appeared on her motion for temporary alimony.

"Aren't you willing to go back together?" the judge asked.

"He wants to live by himself," replied Mrs. Gaertner, who was acquitted three years ago in the murder of Walter Law, a young automobile salesman.

"She's had other men," retorted Mr. Gaertner, who, according to his wife, has a $2,500,000 contract with the government for manufacturing war material of his own invention.

Judge Sabath then directed opposing attorneys to try to reach an alimony settlement and, providing they agree, the divorce trial will be held this morning.

Mrs. Gaertner, in her alimony petition, lists her husband's salary as president of the Gaertner Scientific corporation as $50,000 a year. He testified he was receiving only $12,000 a year and had to limit his expenses to $50 a week so as to meet her debts.

CHAMBERLIN, IN VAIN HUNT FOR REST, IS KISSED

But Flyer's Wife Will Arrive Friday.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BADEN-BADEN, June 13.—The train ride of Clarence D. Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine, which they thought would be a flight into privacy, was a triumphal procession.

An airplane flew above them with its lights sweeping the train. Hundreds crowded every station during the night, and along the route peasants stood beside the track to throw roses into the train windows.

When the flyers arrived at Baden-Baden, a charming resort dating from Roman times, they were smothered in flowers. A young peasant girl in her quaint, Black forest costume, elbowed her way through the crowds to Mr. Chamberlin and give him his first public kiss.

This afternoon the former ambassador to Washington, Count von Bernstoff, gave a reception in their honor.

Friday they will go to Bremen to meet their wives, who are to arrive from New York.

GERMAN GIRL TO FLY HERE

BERLIN, June 13.—Thea Rascha, big blonde girl, Germany's only stunt aviatrix, is preparing for a flight to America. She has got Clarence Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine to promise her a Bellanca plane for the flight.

Test Motor Repairs Today.

BERLIN, June 13.—[U. P.]—Repairs to the Bellanca monoplane of Clarence D. Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine are nearing completion. The mechanics hope to reassemble the motor and test it out tomorrow.

Soviet Russia today invited Chamberlin and Levine to fly to Moscow to become the guest of the government.

May Start for India Today.

CRANWELL, Lincolnshire, England, June 13.—(AP)—The big bombing plane in which the British flight Lieutenants C. R. Carr and P. H. MacWorth hope to smash the long distance records set up by Col. Charles A. Lingbergh and Clarence D. Chamberlin, arrived here today. They will hop off for India at 8 a. m. tomorrow, if the weather is favorable.

BUTCHER SLAIN IN STREET ON HIS WAY HOME

Bartholomew Kasparek, a butcher, 2837½ West 51st street, was shot to death late last night in the street in front of 5136 South Mozart street as he was returning to his home after a visit to an apartment building he owned at 5259 South Peoria street. His slayers, police believe, were robbers who held him up. Signs of a struggle were found a half square away and a trail of blood let to where Kasparek fell dead from a bullet wound in the head.

Mrs. Irene Kasparek, wife of the victim, said he had gone to the apartment building to turn off the lawn sprinkler and to collect rents. Only $6 was found in his pockets after he was slain. Mrs. Mary Kohler, 5157 South Mozart street, told the police that she heard a shot, followed by the slamming of an automobile door and the speeding away of the machine.

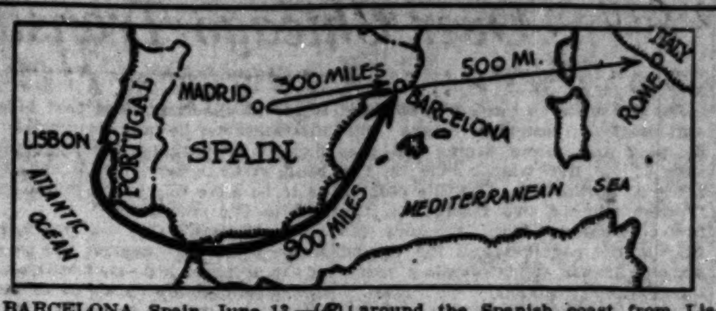
Liquor and alcohol permits of sixteen physicians, druggists, and commercial distributors were revoked during the last week, according to an announcement made yesterday by E. C. Yellowley, prohibition administrator.

DE PINEDO NEARS GOAL



BARCELONA, Spain, June 13.—(AP)—Commander Francesco de Pinedo today drew nearer to the termination of his four continent flight which carried him from Italy to Africa, South America, the United States, Newfoundland, and the Azores.

The Italian flyer, after speeding around the Spanish coast from Lisbon, alighted in Barcelona harbor at 5 p. m. Italian school children here presented him with flowers. He will fly to Madrid tomorrow and leave Thursday morning direct for Rome, 500 miles distant, to complete his long flight.

CITY TO HONOR PAN-AMERICAN GOOD WILL FLYER

Mayor William Hale Thompson and the leaders in practically all of the commercial, industrial, civic, and military organizations of the city will act as a reception committee to welcome Maj. Herbert A. Dargue, commander of the Pan-American flight, who lands in Chicago at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The flyer will land his amphibian ship, New York, on the lake adjacent to the Oak street beach, and then taxi out of the water up on land, where the official reception committee will welcome him.

The remarkable ship will be left in a roped off space on the beach for the public to see, while Maj. Dargue goes to the Hotel La Salle. There he will be the guest of honor of the Association of Commerce, and tell of his 20,000 miles of "good will" flying. Maj. Dargue is accompanied by Walter O. Lochner, president of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries.

U. OF W. CHEMIST DIES; HIS LABORS IN POISON CAUSE?

Madison, Wis., June 13.—(AP)—Prof. Victor Lenher, 54, nationally known chemist and for 27 years connected with the University of Wisconsin, died Sunday of a malady that puzzled physicians.

Physicians and chemists were unable to definitely diagnose the illness which caused death, but the possibility that Prof. Lenher died a martyr to science, through selenium poisoning was expressed. He had made extensive research into the properties of selenium, a toxic member of the sulphur group of chemicals.

He was born in Belmont, Ia., in 1873 and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1893. Later he joined the chemistry staff at Columbia university, but remained only two years before coming to Wisconsin. During the war his scientific ability was directed toward the chemical warfare service.

Eleven Dancers Killed for Snubs to Lieutenant

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil, June 13.—(AP)—Eleven merrymakers were killed and 27 wounded last night by shots fired by soldiers at Nonohay, in northern Rio Grande do Sul. Lieut. Matias Cuardos, it is said, enraged because he had been refused admittance to a dance, ordered the soldiers to fire. The most of the victims were women and children.

Leach Elected Mayor of Minneapolis Fourth Time

Minneapolis, Minn., June 13.—(AP)—George E. Leach today was elected mayor of Minneapolis for the fourth consecutive term. He defeated Ald. O. J. Turner, president of the city council, by more than 5,000 votes. Mayor Leach is a world war veteran and is a brigadier general in the Minnesota National Guard.

Woman Falls from Ship; Drowns with Two Rescuers

LONDON, June 13.—(AP)—The drowning of Mrs. Louise Traynor, an American, and of two sailors was told today by passengers on the steamship California arriving at Glasgow from New York. Mrs. Traynor was standing by the ship's rail, when she suddenly turned and fell into the water. A lifeboat with an officer and five sailors was launched immediately, but sank. Two sailors, Alister Gilchrist and John M. McIsaac, and Mrs. Traynor were not seen again. The woman was on her way to visit her parents, at Kirkintelloch, Dunbarton.

LORD BYNG STIRS ROW; FAILS TO PAY FEE OF NOBILITY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 13.—The refusal of Lord Byng, former governor general of Canada to pay the peerage patent fee of several hundred pounds, due when he was promoted from baron to viscount last October has posed another hard problem for the British treasury department.

In view of Lord Rosebery's recent charges that peerages were bought with money which goes into political funds, Lord Byng refused to pay the fee, declaring titular rewards should not be conditional upon the payment of substantial funds. The treasury department's decision is awaited eagerly by, those who are wondering if Lord Byng can assume the title if he declines to pay and if the fee is not remitted.

Lord Byng's refusal revealed the fact that a long list of political peers never paid for their nobility patents, Lord Balfour heading the list with £2,225 [about $11,125] which normally should have been paid to the treasury for this dignity. His fee was remitted, as were those of Earl Haig, £930 [about $4,650]; Earl Beatty, £930 [$4,650]; Viscount Jellicoe for £755 [about $3,775]; Lord Oxford and Asquith, £775, and Lords Olivier, Thomson, Arnold, and Birkenhead, each £330 [about $1,650]. For some reason these remissions were not recorded, according to Lord Byng, and the British sticklers for precedent are puzzled as to what will happen in his case.

USE OF MONEY TO WIN CAR BILL VOTES IS HINTED

Measures Outrage City, Massmeeting Told.

house in which Sidney Lyon, chairman of the municipalities committee, before which the transportation bills are pending, was not placed in a highly complimentary position.

"The situation in the house is very, very serious," said Mr. Castle. "At present I think that the 56 members of the house from Chicago are committed to the bills with no amendments. That attitude may be changed. Down state representatives are likely to assume the attitude they often take. They may say: 'If Chicago wants the bills, we will vote for them.'

"The bills have been referred to the committee on municipalities. The chairman [Sidney Lyon] seemed exceedingly anxious to have the bills in his committee, which ordinarily should have gone to another committee. The committee on municipalities, as was shown in THE TRIBUNE article yesterday morning has a membership of 29 representatives, of whom 21 are from Cook county. So the responsibility for the bills in the committee, it was pointed out, is squarely on Chicago.

Fears Unamended Passage.

"I believe that if the bills get out of the committee without amendments they will pass the house without amendments.

"What the committee session tomorrow will be it is impossible to predict. It is reported that the house intends to have three sessions a day this week. In that case the committee session, if one is held, will be between two of the sessions. It is not at all ce[illegible]n a committee meeting will be held, or, if it is held, it may not be public. This committee has sent in reports without having a meeting. No time has been announced for the committee meeting. Perhaps it will be held on fifteen minutes' notice and then may be only a perfunctory session."

It was at this point that Mr. Castle said that he believes money is available with which to influence votes.

"You should make it clear to the legislature that Chicago is up in arms," he added.

Calls Companies Audacious.

Prof. Merriam said that it is incredible that the companies would have the audacity to submit the terms provided in these bills.

"They are the terms submitted to a conquered nation," went on the University of Chicago professor. "They perhaps had in mind the treaty of Versailles." Regarding these "piratical bills," he went on:

"The proposed indeterminate permit is another name for a perpetual franchise. The terminable permit is in fact interminable. The purpose of these measures is to leave the street car riders of Chicago at the mercy of the owners of the lines, who will decide whether they prefer profits for themselves or service for the riders, or which shall come first.

"Chicago is not given the alternative of deciding whether it wishes to give a term franchise or an indeterminate permit, but is limited to the form of franchise the companies prefer—namely: the indeterminate permit.

"No Way to Terminate Grant."

"There is no method of terminating the grant made to the company by the city. Chicago cannot even condemn the lines, but must bargain with the company for their purchase, and if the terms are not agreeable the city is helpless.

"In connection with the proposed construction of a subway, the cost of caring for mains, etc., is levied upon the city at a figure that will take about all the city's traction fund.

"The proposed home rule board is about as effective as a rusty blunderbuss. This is bogus home rule of a kind that should deceive no man in his senses. At the spring election the people voted overwhelmingly for home rule, but this was not the kind they had in mind. All parties and all factions are committeed to genuine home rule.

"The proposed bills will make settlement of the traction problem very difficult. The voters are not likely to approve any measure giving a perpetual franchise to a street car company without any form of control over it. The people will repudiate any traction ordinance passed under the shadow of these suspected bills.

"The attitude of the public toward the utility companies will be greatly inflamed, and the effects will be felt for years in this city and throughout the country.

"Would Postpone Relief."

"It is more than probable that the outraged voters of Chicago will overwhelm any one who tries to pass a traction measure of the kind authorized by these bills.

"Under any circumstances it is extremely difficult to obtain popular confidence in a traction settlement, and these proposed piratical bills will only make the situation worse, and postpone the day of relief from our present transportation position."

Senator Barbour told the audience how every amendment not sanctioned by the companies was pigeon holed in the senate.

"There is nothing hidden about these bills," said the senator. "They were prepared by Mr. Insull and his attorneys. They want them."

Lost After Acceptance.

He went on to tell of the important amendments he had proposed, how two of them had been accepted by the sponsors of the bill in committee, adopted by the committee and then lost before they got to the floor of the senate. The senator pointed out the defects in the enabling legislation, and said that he had been told that it was planned to make $110,000,000 out of the merger projected by the pending bills.

"I regret that we in the senate had no help on these bills," said Barbour. "No representative of the city, nor of its legal department nor any alderman ever suggested to me a specific amendment, nor to any one else that I know of. We should not stand by like dumb driven cattle. I trust this meeting will do something effective to avert the evil of tomorrow."

BLAIR URGES PASSAGE

Henry A. Blair, president of the Chicago Surface Lines, yesterday made the following statement on the transit bills issue:

"For the first time in the history of Chicago all of the local transportation interests are in agreement on the fundamentals of the legislation required for the adequate solution of the traction problem. The mayor of the city has endorsed the program and the bills have been passed by the state senate. They are now pending in the house.

"These five measures would enable the city to secure through action of the city council and a vote of the people the greatest local transportation system in the world, consisting of rapd transit, with subways in the loop section and efficient surface lines and bus lines as feeders, all operating as a unit on the basis of one fare.

Outlined Plan Three Years Ago.

"Three years ago—in October, 1924—the outline of a plan to accomplish this was sent by me to the city council. Afterwards it was worked out in detail by competent engineers and accountants and presented to the city council last January. It was stated then, and has been stated repeatedly since, that enabling legislation is necessary to the realization of this or any other unification plan. Until the legislation is obtained the hands of the city council are tied and the transportation companies cannot find the money to proceed in the building up of a system which by 1950, should have a total capital investment of a billion dollars.

"The pending bills were presented in a fair and honest manner. When they were introduced in the general assembly on May 17, a statement signed by the presidents of the three principal local transportation agencies was given to the press, explaining the nature of the measures and their purpose. There was no subterfuge and no effort to mislead.

"Never before have bills gone to the legislature in a more open and frank manner.

Attacked as Corrupt.

"Yet they have been attacked as corrupt. An effort has been made to mislead the people into believing that by some chicanery the city of Chicago was going to be defrauded.

"The attitude of the mayor and the majority of the city council has been most fair. They have endorsed the legislation emphatically and have told the legislature so. The mayor stated that he saw no danger in the measures and believed if they were passed Chicago could solve its transportation muddle.

"Naturally there is opposition in some quarters to some of the features in these bills, as there would be to any bills, but they amply protect the interests of Chicago by giving the city council authority to negotiate the terms of the franchises and the people the right to vote on them. They propose as good a system of local control as is possible if transportation service is to extend beyond the city limits, as it must.

Adopted in Many States.

"The terminable permit is recognized as the best modern form of franchise. It has been adopted in many states, has been approved by the uniform laws committee of the American Bar association and other well known organizations and has been accepted in principle by the city council of Chicago. The only question here has been as to the agency to grant the permit. Under the pending bill the city council would issue the franchise and dictate the terms.

"The effort to prevent the passage of the bills is an effort at nullification. It gets nowhere and would leave the traction problem as befogged in the future as it has been in the past.

"The men in charged of the local transportation companies have frequently been blamed because they did not agree on a program. They are now in agreement and the city administration is in agreement with them. If the bills fail of passage, those responsible must bear the blame for the failure to give Chicago the transportation it must have if it is to continue to grow.

"Without enabling legislation there can be no unification, no subways and no extensions, and there will be no opportunity to secure legislation for two years more."

Appeals Sent to Springfield in Battle Over Chicago Transit Franchise Bills

Resolutions were passed by various organizations yesterday, some condemning and others urging the passage of the five transit bills by the house at Springfield. The City club of Chicago adopted two resolutions, the first condemning state senators for passing the car bills and the second warning transit officials against usurping Chicago's rights.

"We denounce the betrayal of Chicago by a majority of the senators from Cook county in the city's rightful demand for home rule and control of local transportation," reads the first resolution.

"We protest against delivering the streets of Chicago for all time to any private interest as an act of treachery to future generations whose interests it is our present duty to conserve.

"We urge each Cook county representative to have the courage and loyalty to Chicago to demand and secure amendments to the traction bills that will permit genuine terminable franchises, giving the city financial power to purchase, and an effective regulating control."

Warns Transit Officials.

The second resolution called on transit directors and officers "to see to it that the interests of our city be not betrayed by the passage by the legislature of the traction bills in their present form, that they see to it that the bills be so amended that the rights of the citizens be properly safeguarded."

The directors and officials are warned that "it cannot be to the ultimate interest of the companies that bills of this character be jammed through our legislature without the opportunity being given to have them in such form as to be alike fair to the municipality and to the companies."

The Woman's City club in its resolution protested "against the passage of the proposed legislation without full and careful consideration by the members of the general assembly," stating that it is impossible to give, within the few remaining days of the present session the proper consideration required for "legislation which proposes to take from future generations of citizens the right to determine their own needs in matters relating to transportation."

"In any grant of the right to use the streets of the city, there should be retained in the city the right, with the actual ability, to terminate the grant for cause, or to purchase for a reasonable consideration," the resolution says.

The Public Ownership league issued an appeal which says:

"Only three or four days remain. Letters will be too late. Either go to Springfield and see your senator and representatives or call them on long distance phone or wire. The situation is desperate. If these measures pass, municipal progress in Illinois will be set back for at least 50 years."

Electrical Men Back Bills.

The Electrical association, "which represents the thoughts of the entire electrical industry in this area" adopted a resolution favoring the five bills. The president of the association is John F. Gilchrist, senior vice president of the Commonwealth Edison company of Chicago.

The resolution states that the five transit bills "would clear the way for Chicago to deal with the companies, looking forward to the probable building of a unified transportation system such as would fully meet the public's needs." It states that the "proposed legislation takes into consideration all practical suggestions that have been made in the many years past and is the result of deep study on the part of the most expert engineers and students of transportation."

Settlement Is Urged.

The executive committee of the Industrial club urges the passage of the bills because they "provide the groundwork for a satisfactory solution of the entire local transportation problem."

The Electric club insists that the proposed legislation reconciles various conflicting viewpoints and protests against further delay in its passage. A similar resolution was adopted by the Electrical Contractors' association.

The Building Managers' association telegraphed an appeal for the passage of the bills to Springfield "because of the urgent need of a settlement."

Resolutions favorable to the bills also were adopted by the Triangle Lions' club, the Woodlawn Lions' club, the North Central association, the South Park Manor Improvement association, the East Hamilton Park Home Owners' association, and the Garden Homes Improvement Assn.

High Chilean Officials Bound for Tacna-Arica

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 13.—The vice president of the Chilean republic will leave for Tacna and Arica on July 2 aboard an army cruiser, accompanied by six cabinet ministers, including the minister of foreign affairs. It is officially announced that the object of the trip is to visit the nitrate fields at Iquique and Antofagasta, and to preside at the centenary festivities of a regiment of grenadiers in Iquique. Other circles understand the trip to Tacna and Arica implies important future developments referring to Chile and Peru.

SMALL MAY JOIN FORCES OPPOSING FIVE CAR BILLS

Politicians See Move to "Spite Lost Support."

Gov. Small was reported in Chicago yesterday as wavering in his attitude on the five transportation bills pending before the general assembly. In fact, it was said that the governor has almost decided to be against the bills.

Heretofore it has been rumored that the chief executive of the state could be counted upon as favorable to the bills. It was said that he might insist upon some slight amendments, but that he would not attempt to break the back of the measures with amendments.

May Insist on Referendum.

Yesterday it was reported that the governor will insist that there must be a referendum on the indeterminate franchise bill, if passed. This is not inconsistent with his former position. In his last biennial message the governor said:

"The present franchises of the Chicago Surface Lines are about to expire. The people of the city of Chicago, at every opportunity, have voted in favor of municipal ownership and operation of their local transportation facilities. Believing that the voters of that great city are entitled to have the opportunity to approve or disapprove any traction legislation affecting their interests, I repeat the recommendations which I have made on this subject in my previous biennial messages and again urge you to provide for a referendum on any traction legislation which you may pass."

Time for "Deal" Hinted.

Not a peep has been heard from the governor on this message since the transportation bills have been under consideration, and it has been rumored that he had forgotten about the message. But now it is said he remembers it. The reason, as handed around among Chicago politicians yesterday, is as follows:

The governor desires to succeed himself. Mayor Thompson, State's Attorney Crowe, Homer Galpin, and others of that faction have not promised the governor their support in the primary next year. A story has been printed that this faction has been flirting with Secretary of State Emmerson. It is said now that the governor has investigated that story sufficiently to convince himself that the faction has been doing more than flirting.

Mayor Thompson appeared before the state senate and spoke in favor of the traction bills. He was quoted in Chicago newspapers yesterday as saying that he had not changed his position, so the governor or his advisers are reported to have decided that this is a good spot to make a deal with the Thompson-Crowe faction. So the rumor was spread that the governor is not in love with the traction bills, will insist upon a referendum throughout the state, and may even take more drastic action against them.

Some color was given this report by the statement of Representative Howard Castle before the City club yesterday noon. He said publicly:

"I heard today that the majority leader in the house will vote against these bills."

The majority leader is Reed F. Cutler of Lewistown, representing the 43d district.

"Mayor Thompson has been to Springfield and spoke on the traction bills," went on Representative Castle. "His corporation counsel, Samuel Ettelson, has been at the capitol right along ostensibly in the interest of the city's revenue and bonding bills. When Mr. Ettelson was a member of the senate he was a member of the combination. It was then Barr, Dailey, and Ettelson in the senate. You can't tell me that he has lost all his influence.

Blames Chicago Alone.

"If Ettelson or Thompson had told the senate they did not want the bills, they would not have passed the senate. It was Chicago votes which put the bills over in the senate. It can never be charged that downstate turned such a trick on Chicago. It will never do to say that downstate jammed these bills through the senate.

"They were put through the senate by the influence of Mr. Thompson and Mr. Ettelson."

CHEMICAL PLANT ROBBERY STILL STAYS MYSTERY

Police theory that eight burglars overpowered two watchmen and ransacked the plant of the Abbott Laboratories, North Chicago, on Sunday night in a search for a secret patent medicine formula owned by the company was discounted by C. O. Brown, an official of the laboratories yesterday.

"The remedy mentioned has been on the market for five years. That theory is foolish," Mr. Brown said, adding that the motive of the robbers, who touched neither money nor stamps found in the plant, still is a mystery.

George Montgomery and Joseph Herrman, the watchmen captured by the invaders, were taken by surprise, they said, and bound with heavy cord before they had a chance to resist. Police failed yesterday in their efforts to get trace of the robbers.

MAY NEED CREPE ON THAT TRANSIT BILL BAND WAGON

Old Timer Recalls Grief in Wake of Allen Laws.

BY THE SENATOR.

Springfield, Ill., June 13.—[Special.]—If history is any guide, some of the statesmen backing the Chicago transit bills may discover that instead of getting on a popular band wagon they've climbed on a hearse.

I was talking with a bunch of old-timers in the rotunda when a downstate heavyweight remarks:

"More and more this reminds me of the days of the Humphrey and Allen bills; it isn't any bed of roses."

"Yes," says I, "and don't forget that the Humphrey and Allen bills proved the graveyard for many a political hope. Many an ambitious lad who voted for these bills, in later years, found his vote rising before him like a specter at the feast. The ghost refused to be laid. L. Y. Sherman was carried in on a cot to vote for the Allen bill, and all through his subsequent career it kept on coming up every time he ran for office. Old L. Y. was politically strong enough to live it down and get elected United States senator, but the Allen bill vote caused him a lot of trouble, which would have been otherwise avoided."

"Killed" Many Politically.

"Yes," says one old-timer, "but there were a lot of them who voted for the Allen bill who were not as strong as Sherman. They couldn't come back. Some of them did, including Charley Allen himself, but many were killed off in politics by their vote."

"If these transit bills pass," says another, "won't it be equal to putting a halo on the old Allen and Humphrey bills? These interminable permits, for instance, seem to me to sew Chicago up until the trumpet of judgment day."

"You're right," says I. "They ought to label them indefensible permits, for they'd tie the city up for the rest of this economic age—they aim to be eternal grants, it seems. Home rule? It's a joke in the bills, and some of the lads who have been yawping loudest about local selfgovernment on local utilities seem to have changed their tune."

For Clean Sweep of Calendar.

"A change seems to have stolen over the spirit of their dreams," says another statesman.

"Now the big hearted guys seem willing to give away everything on home rule. We'd better adjourn before somebody puts in a bill giving away Lake Michigan."

"What a swell idea," says I, "it would be for somebody to get through a motion in the house wiping out everything on the calendar; today's sheet has 351 measures on it. If nothing but roll calls were had on these bills it would keep the boys here until the fourth of July and after. Why don't they adopt efficiency methods and send the calendar down to the governor, let him check off the bills he is for and then let the assembly wind up and adjourn for ten years? The populace would give three rousing cheers.

"Simon Legree is going to try to sell Uncle Tom down river—that's the story of the final week. They'll try to send Chicago down river on eternal franchises for the street cars, for that's what indeterminate permits appear to mean.

"Selling Chicago."

"Then downstate wants to levy an income tax that will take some taxation off the farmers and slam it on the necks of the wage earners and white collar boys, in the city, the rent payers and people of small means. Income tax was one reason why the proposed new constitution was beaten a few years ago. Then they want to sell Chicago down river also with a gasoline tax that will levy tribute on every owner of a car in Cook county and all other cities. On top of this a resolution is in to restrict permanently Cook county's representation in the assembly, giving legality to the crime of the assembly in not following the constitutional requirement for reapportionment. Only a few years back we knocked out a proposed constitution containing restricted representation.

"The whole program here is to sell down river Chicago and the other industrial centers of the state."

Greeks' Heroine Raising Cash for Ailing Veterans

Mrs. Anna Papadopoulo, known as "the soldier mother of the Greeks," was the principal speaker last night at a ball given at the Trianon dance hall for the benefit of the fund she is raising for the construction in Greece of a sanitarium for tubercular veterans. Mrs. Papadopoulo has the authorization of the Greek government to solicit funds and according to Peter Sarelas, a leader of the Chicago Greeks, a considerable sum was subscribed.

Realty Broker Asks $20,000 of Edward C. Waller Jr.

Edward C. Waller Jr., real estate operator with offices at 160 North La Salle street, was named defendant in a $20,000 suit filed in the Circuit court yesterday by Philip Mango, real estate broker, alleging the sum is due in commissions. Mr. Waller is one of the defendants in the suit brought by The Tribune to recover $1,763,000 paid real estate experts by the city during the second administration of Mayor William Hale Thompson.

RECOUNT STARTS ON THURSDAY IN ELECTION FIGHTS

Recount of the ballots cast in the November, 1926, election, for sanitary district trustees, for county commissioners and for municipal court judges, will proceed on Thursday morning, it was decided yesterday by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki.

Principal interest centers on the sanitary district recount, in which Charles E. Graydon, now sheriff, contends that he was elected a sanitary district trustee, and that George Hull Porter, declared elected and who died before taking office, was really defeated. Should Sheriff Graydon's contention materialize, the sheriff's office will again be vacant, and the Republican faction headed by State's Attorney Crowe may again assume control over the sanitary district.

Reports circulated that the recount of the county commissioner vote would be dismissed were given credence when former Commissioners Daniel Ryan Jr., Mrs. E. W. Bemis and Joseph Fitzgerald, who were defeated for reelection, intimated other petitioners had been persuaded to drop the matter, and they pressed for immediate action.

BOARD OF TRADE DIRECTORS FIRE GEO. E. THOMPSON

Former Armour Elevator Manager Ousted.

George E. Thompson, who was superintendent of the Northwestern elevator at South Chicago, then operated by the Armour Grain company, was expelled from the Chicago Board of Trade by the directors late yesterday. The charge was dishonest conduct. The vote of the directors stood 13 to 5. The trial of John Kellogg and K. V. R. Nicol, also former Armour men, will start on Thursday.

Case Attracts Wide Attention.

The case has attracted unusual attention in business, financial, and agricultural circles. It has been before the public for months. A special investigation committee composed of L. F. Gates, Josph P. Griffin, and James A. Patten handled the case. The committee had before it all the evidence taken in the Armour-Rosenbaum case, in which Edward Eagle Brown was arbitrartor; likewise the evidence taken by the Illinois legislative committee. The Armour Grain company was suspended some time ago from trading privileges on the board. The trouble arose over grading of wheat turned over to the Grain Marketing company, a coöperative formed by farmers' elevator interests, etc., and the Armour and Rosenbaum grain concerns.

Fight Hard Against Charges.

The first defendant, Thompson, was represented, and Kellogg and Nicol will be by a battery of attorneys. George E. Marcy, former head of the Armour Grain company, was a witness for the Thompson defense for three days last week. Kellogg, who succeeded Marcy as head of the grain company, along with Nicol, its former vice president, will be tried at once. The greater part of the evidence used in the Thompson case will also be used in their cases.

Finds Brother Shot to Death; Tied Hand and Foot

Pineville, Ky., June 13.—(AP)—The body of Billy Partin, who had been missing since March 28, was found today behind a log at the foot of Great Cliff, on Pine mountain. The hands and feet had been tied and a wire bound around the body. Partin had been shot five times.

GAS TAX FACES FIGHT IN SENATE; INCOME IN HOUSE

Lobbyists Gather to Put Measures Over.

BY JOHN HERRICK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 13.—Led by officials and lobbyists for the Illinois Agricultural association, the farm owning interests of the state are scheduled to descend on the legislature during this, the closing week, in full strength.

They are intent on imposing two new taxes on the state—gas tax and income tax—taxes which will largely exempt the farmer, especially the farmer owner, and by the same token shift the burden onto the shoulders of the city dweller and renter.

Faces Senate Fight.

Both bills are now in the house of representatives. The gas tax measure is ready for its final vote in the house and then goes on to the senate, where it must get past a resolute opposition that once forced its withdrawal but may or may not hold fast in the face of compromise amendments.

The income tax bill has already been passed by the senate and is on second reading in the house.

Gov. Small is behind the gas tax, and the greatest pressure will be put forth for its passage.

Test This Week.

But if the senate opposition holds fast the attack will shift and the income tax will be pushed for all it is worth. The test will come this week.

Like its companion farmer supported bill—the gas tax—the income tax bill is a product of the legislative bi-cameral system, a system conceded to have been particularly kind to Small and the farmers this session.

When the gas tax bill was withdrawn in the senate, it was revived and amended and given a new lease of life in the house. When the income tax bill was killed in house committee, thanks to the efforts of Chicago members, it was resurrected in the senate and put through.

Contains Referendum Clause.

It emerged from the upper chamber with two amendments of major importance. As a safeguard for those whom it will principally affect, a referendum clause was attached to it and the city dweller and the tenant will be given the opportunity to go to the polls and express their disapproval.

But counterbalancing the referendum clause there was added an amendment seeking to win over big business and making it more than ever clear that an income tax such as is projected in the bill is meant to be and would turn out to be a tax on the incomes of a particular class.

In the original bill, the property owner was virtually exempt because of the provision that any property tax he paid was deductable from his income tax.

Other Tax Deductions.

In its amended form, not only are taxes so directly paid deductible, but so are the taxes indirectly paid. A stockholder may deduct a pro-rate share of the taxes paid by the corporation in which he holds an interest. A partner may deduct a pro-rata share of the taxes paid by the partnership. A beneficiary under a trust may deduct a pro-rata share of the taxes paid by the trust estate.

In short, taxes are to be deemed paid and deductible "if paid by any one under such circumstances that the burden thereof or a part thereof falls on the taxpayer or his property or income, so as to decrease the property or income of the taxpayer, the taxpayer to receive a credit of the amount by which his property or income is so decreased."

Exempts Farm Landlords.

"In other words," a Chicago representative put it, "the bill was originally designed to exempt the squirearchy—the big farmer landlords, whose property tax, paid direct, will wipe out, many times over, any income tax to which they would be liable even in the most prosperous year.

"It could not help but exempt the big city property owners also, and now it adds this amendment exempting the owners of property no matter how indirect or distant that ownership is.

"It leaves out of account entirely the fact that the man who rents a farm or lives in a city apartment pays an indirect property tax just as surely as a stockholder or partner or beneficiary under a trust estate.

"The representatives of the Illinois agricultural association stated honestly that the bill was framed to do just exactly this—soak the city man of moderate means. What they've succeeded in doing, however, is to go so far that the bill certainly is class legislation. It is my guess that even should it pass the legislature and get by a referendum, the Supreme court would knock it out on that one ground. That's how discriminatory it is."

PROMOTIONS OF FIVE GENERAL OFFICERS MADE BY PRESIDENT

Washington, D. C., June 13.—(AP)—Five promotions and appointments among general officers of the army were made today by President Coolidge upon the recommendation of Secretary of War Davis.

Brig. Gens. Malvern-Hill Barnum and Robert Alexander were made major generals, replacing Maj. Gens. Benjamin Poore and William Weigel, who retire for age June 2 and Aug. 25, respectively.

Cols. George C. Barnhardt, cavalry, and George H. Jamerson, inspector general's department, were promoted to brigadier generals, replacing Barnum and Alexander. Col. Meriwether L. Walker, engineer corps, was made a brigadier general upon the retirement of Brig. Gen. James C. Rhea June 30.

HOUSE PASSES REVENUE BILLS FOR $136,010,054

Committee Hearing on Transit Bills Today.

Springfield, Ill., June 13.—[Special.]—The house of representatives tonight passed appropriation bills totaling $136,010,054. Chief among these was the Omnibus bill providing for the expenses of the executive departments for the next two years with a sum total of $83,485,322.

The general tax revenue bill carried an $18,000,000 annual levy for general state purposes, or $36,000,000, and an annual $8,000,000 for state school purposes, or $16,000,000. The court of claims bill carried $524,723.

Turn to Other Measures.

With these three bills safely out of its hands, the house has disposed of all appropriation questions but a minor few. The legislators turned next to clear its calendar of measures held to be the most pressing, and placed on a preferred list.

Of chief importance to Cook county was the passage of the judiciary committee bill enabling the $15,000,000 road bonds voted last November to be used for the widening, as well as the building, of roads and bridges.

In the Kersey bill, licensed embalmers are required to have a four year high school course or its equivalent. The measure was passed 82 to 10. In the Douglas bill, it is made a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of from $50 to $200, for any hospital where surgical operations are performed, to refuse first aid. The vote was 107 to 0.

Transit Bills on Hearing.

Traction, the gas tax and the women's 48 hour week bill are scheduled to occupy the house tomorrow. The Chicago traction bills will come up for hearing in the municipalities committee, with Chairman Sidney Lyon of Chicago promising a hearing to any one who has any suggestions to offer.

An effort will be made to add referendum clauses to all the bills in addition to that already attached to the "indeterminate permit" measure.

The gas tax is on third and final reading and will probably come to a vote with excellent chance of passage.

DAY IN SPRINGFIELD

SENATE.

Bills passed—Mason bill to split up Chicago school building fund tax, giving 40 cents of the dollar tax to the city's general corporate fund; Smith bill to appropriate $1,000,000 for flood relief in Illinois; McDermott bill for trees and shrubs along state roads; Joyce bill to increase pay of election judges and clerks; Joyce bill to create commission to study election laws.

HOUSE.

Bills passed—Browne bill validating hard road near Ottawa; Fahey bill permitting towns under 5,000 to purchase community buildings; appropriations committee $83,485,322 omnibus bill; appropriations committee $524,732 court of claims bill; appropriations committee general tax revenue bill, levying $18,000,000 a year tax for general state purposes and $8,000,000 for school purposes; Luckey bill refunding $19,500 to Vermilion county for bridge near Georgetown; judiciary committee bill permitting $15,000,000 Cook county road bond issue to be used for widening roads and bridges; Sinnett bill changing and increasing number of Appellate court terms; Chynoweth bill increasing commission merchants' indemnity bond to $5,000; McAdams bill exempting general park tax under Juul law; Allen bill changing definition of imitation butter; Kersey bill requiring licensed embalmer to have high school education; Kasserman bill to validate laying out of certain hard roads; Douglas bill to prohibit hospitals from refusing first aid; Sullivan bill providing mayor and two commissioners shall form board of local improvements in cities of less than 75,000 under commission government; Fekete bill permitting cities to dispose of city owned utilities by referendum; judiciary committee, including deceptive and misleading advertising under fraudulent advertising act; Overland bill providing for treasurer in villages of 35,000 or more; Goods bill permitting school boards to establish classes for adults; Castle bill validating issue of certain city bonds; Schnackenberg bill providing for reassessment of subdivisions.

Three Are Killed as Train Crashes Into Automobile

St. Joseph, Mo., June 13.—(AP)—Three persons were killed when a Burlington passenger train struck a motor car three miles south of St. Joseph early today. The dead are Thomas Wright, 33, St. Joseph; Ronald Dunham, 25, and Mrs. Dunham, 22, Westboro, Mo.

CHARGE GAS TAX BILL WILL HALT ROAD WIDENING

Autoists Say Measure Cripples Cities.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Highway widening, emergency road improvements and relief for the peculiar traffic problems which each community in Illinois must face in the future will be automatically prohibited to counties of the state if the legislature passes Gov. Small's gasoline tax bill, according to motor club officials.

In another broadside charging that the gas tax bill contains jokers, the automobile men declared yesterday that the possibility of passing bond issues or raising emergency funds within counties and townships of the state will be made practically impossible if this new and heavy tax levy is forced on motorists.

Hayes Cites Provision.

"Under paragraph 2 of the proposed house committee amendment, no part of any money returned to a county from the gas tax could be used for the widening of highways already built or for the improving of existing roads where traffic has created dangerous situations," declared a statement signed by C. M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club. "The purpose for which this limited refund of the gas tax can be used is so hedged about as to be practically negligable in meeting emergency traffic conditions such as faced by Cook county in its vital need for pavement widening. It narrows down the uses of the fund to the building of new state aid roads in the manner provided by section 15 D of the road and bridge law.

"With our license fee money pouring into the state and used at the direction of the state administration; with our own county tax money also tied up tight and directed by the state highway department, and then with this gas tax of approximately $13,000,000 a year controled entirely by the state, the people who want to meet their own individual road needs will find it impossible to finance local highway bonds."

Called Benefit to Rich.

"The greatest part of the tax will be collected from drivers of modest automobiles and will go to build roads that will double and triple the value of large estates. Why should motorists be bled so that wealthy men in Cook and other counties may multiply in worth? The gas tax will make the poor the benefactors of the rich."

Wholesale and retail florists of Chicago and Cook county, truck fleet operators and a score of big busines organizations yesterday added their protests to the thousands of messages written to legislators against the proposed gas tax.

THOMPSON BILL TO SPLIT SCHOOL FUND TAX PASSES

Finds Senate Steam Roller Working Perfectly.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Springfield, Ill., June 13.—[Special.]—Another illustration of what observers say is the smooth imperturbability of the Illinois state senate organization came today when, shortly after reconvening for what probably will be the final week of this session, it passed without even the slightest interruption the bill sponsored by Mayor Thompson of Chicago, splitting up the city's present $1 school building fund tax.

Miss Margaret Haley, representing the Teachers' federation; Douglas Sutherland, secretary of the Civic Federation of Chicago; Harris Keeler, director of the Chicago bureau of public efficiency, and others have protested against this bill, but when the signal was given for final action in the upper chamber—approval still being required in the house — there wasn't even a peep of argument.

Vote Is 36 to 2.

Senator Loyal B. Mason of Oak Park, who introduced the bill, briefly outlined its provisions and the roll call began. It resulted, 36 to 2, the negatives coming from John J. Boehm of Chicago and Harry Wilson of Pinckneyville. A number of Chicagoans had not yet arrived on the scene.

According to Miss Haley and its other critics this bill will put an end to the Chicago school building program, which made such strides under the Dever administration. Mayor Thompson's proposal is that schools be built out of bond issues, whereby the next generation will pay its share of the cost; but an important phase of his plan is that under it 40 cents of the tax now levied for this purpose will go to the city's general corporate funds.

Bill to Increase Tax Rate.

In accordance with this schedule there will be presented in the house of representatives a bill increasing the city's tax rate from the present $1.85 to $2.25; but the argument of the Thompson spokesmen is that this will not be an increase in taxes, since the amount already is levied for school purposes.

An additional 40 cents of the $1 tax is to be turned over to the school board's educational fund. The remainder, 20 cents, is to be left in the building fund, and Miss Haley contends that it will not much more than pay for repairs and maintenance.

There was slight surprise when the senate, upon motion of Senator Adolph Marks of Chicago, who lined up with the Lundin-Small organization, adopted an amendment to the Small primary bill whereby Chicago, like the rest of the state, would elect precinct committeemen, instead of ward committeemen.

If it becomes a law it may disarm some of the political powers that be in Chicago, require operations to be directed by a county committee of 2,400 precinct committeemen, and otherwise upset the existing state of affairs.

FOES CLASH WITH BACKERS OF CITY FINANCE BILLS

Efficiency Bureau Says Measures Are Outrage

Friends and foes of Mayor Thompson's bills to boost the city's revenue and lift its bonding limit clashed yesterday with conflicting statements as the bills approached a showdown in the legislature.

From the office of the mayor came a vigorous defense of the measures, declaring that they have the approval of big business and organized labor. The statement censured Margaret Haley of the Teachers' federation, who opposes the bills. Coincidently the Chicago Bureau of Public Efficiency issued a statement terming the bills "an outrage upon the taxpayers of the city."

Although Mayor Thompson, it is understood, endorsed and authorized the defense statement, he was disinclined to make it directly and it was issued over the signature of an office attache.

Predicts Miss Haley's Defeat.

Miss Haley, in fighting the bills, according to the statement, is figuratively sawing off the limb upon which she sits. Their defeat, the mayor has said, will mean a reduction in teachers' pay.

"Miss Haley has been trying for a long time to justify her job with the school teachers and she finally has placed herself in the position of sponsoring a 20 per cent salary cut for them," the statement asserted. "I think Miss Haley is out of luck in her efforts to defeat the bills. If she does succeed I know she'll be out of luck with the teachers.

"Miss Haley presumes to represent and speak for organized labor. I am advised that she has a grossly exaggerated opinion of the weight of her voice. Perhaps she thinks the trade unions place greater faith in her opposition to the bills than they do in the endorsements the measures have received from labor leaders.

"When big business men and organized labor join in approving a revenue measure, it's pretty safe to quit hunting for jokers."

Urges Bills' Defeat.

The report of the Bureau of Public Efficiency, of which Julius Rosenwald is chairman and Harry S. Keeler, director, is entitled "A Protest" and recommends the bills' defeat.

Discussing the plan to raise the bonding power by doubling the assessed value of taxable property and halving tax rates, the statement charges that it is not justified by any well defined improvement program and hence is "almost certain to result in the issuance of bonds for extravagant or poorly considered projects that should not be undertaken."

The report scouts the argument that the city has reached its bonding limit citing the $34,000,000 to become available this year. It also discredits Mayor Thompson's talk of cutting teachers' pay to avoid closing the schools in connection with the proposed 2-2-1 split of the $1 school building tax between the city corporate fund, educational fund, sinking fund and the construction of schools by bond issue.

Scouts Pay Cut Alarm.

"The facts relative to the condition of the educational fund do not jusify any such alarming statement," it continues, "no one need be alarmed about the schools being closed or teachers' salaries reduced."

As an alternative the Bureau of Efficiency suggests a direct increase in the corporate fund tax to make up the city's treasury deficit. An increase of 24 cents would be sufficient, it maintains, "whereas the contemplated diversion plan would bring a boost of 40 cents."

"To increase the corporate fund 44 cents—from $1.85 to $2.25—would be an outrage upon the taxpayers of the city," the statement concludes. "The amount that would thus be produced would be aproximately $3,100,000 more than should be required to meet 1927 expenditures and about $5,400,000 annually in excess of reasonable requirements in 1928 and succeeding years."

NORTH PARK HOTEL HELD UP.

Locking three employés in the washroom, two bandits yesterday looted the cash register of the North Park hotel, 1936 North Clark street, of $350.

When you've taken command of a Commander you'll know Harry Hartz, American Racing Star, is right when he says:

"It is my opinion that The Commander will maintain any given speed, up to 65 miles per hour, longer, more smoothly, and at less expense per hour traveled, for gasoline, oil and repairs, than any other stock automobile now being built in the United States."

4 KLEIN KILLERS BREAK JAIL THIRD TIME; ONE SLAIN

Capture Joliet Sheriff; Battle Around Gallows.

asked by Joliet authorities to watch the home of Jack Cummings, 5709 South La Salle street, step-father of Shader.

An unusual part of the procedure was that Robert Torrez, companion in crime of the others, made no effort to escape, although released from his cell. He was in the other breaks, the first one being when Klein was killed and seven fled the penitentiary, all being recaptured except James Price, the second being that in which Bernard O. Roa reached Chicago and faded from sight of police.

Sheriff Markgraff was so stunned about it all that he couldn't exactly figure how it happened. He had pleaded with the state authorities, after the last time, to take the convicts and keep them in the penitentiary until such time as the Supreme court said they could be hanged. Originally he had six to hang, now only three.

Sheriff Builds Gallows.

Markgraff was a business man until in the fall of 1925 he was induced to become the Democratic candidate for Sheriff of Will county. There hadn't been a Democratic sheriff here in over forty years and no one thought there ever would be, but Markgraff was elected and had to quit his stone and quarry business and become the keeper of six desperate men who had killed often before and would do so again.

The six were under sentence of death when he became their custodian and he made arrangements to hang them. A gallows was erected in the jail yard, but the three condemned Mexicans raised some money to take their case to the highest court.

Stalesky and Shader were cellmates yesterday in a second floor section of the jail that has three cells. Rizo was in the next cell. Torrez and Duchowski were in another section.

Assistant Jailer Evan Isaacs was in charge when the break came, Jailer Leo Lamb, the sheriff's son-in-law, being at dinner in the sheriff's house next door. Isaacs went to Rizo's cell and cuffed his hands to the bars, preparatory to letting Shader and Stalesky exercise in the bull pen.

The usual custom was for him to say, "All right, Ben," when Rizo's wrists were chained to the cell bars, and then Guard Ben Suva would come in and lock the door behind Rizo, after which the usual procedure would have been to open the cell door of Stalesky.

Isaacs said he hadn't yet said "All right, Ben," but anyway Ben Suva went in and put his key into that door and as he did so Stalesky and Shader made use of the key they had fashioned from the bone of a short rib. It worked and they were on top of Suva in a second, Suva being but a youth of slight build.

Next, Stalesky had the leg of an iron bed in his hand and was menacing Isaacs, who submitted. The only other guard at hand was W. H. Hinkle, who stood in the opened doorway and who had charge of the section containing Duchowski and Torrez. Hinkle and Isaacs are elderly men.

Stalesky and Shader first freed Rizo, then went to the other section and opened the cells for Duchowski and Torrez, but Torrez was reluctant so the other four marched down stairs with Isaacs, first locking Hinkle and Suva in cells. Hinkle concealed his police whistle and at the first opportunity blew it, then shouted from a window where he could see Sheriff Markgraff, State Highway Policeman James O'Neil and a railroad detective named Stockerd all standing in front of the jail.

Plead for Sheriff's Life.

These three rushed into the door of the passageway between the sheriff's home and the jail, an enclosed passageway. Markgraff ran right into the arms of the prisoners. Isaacs, meanwhile ran up stairs and told the women prisoners to scream, which they did. The screams brought Mrs. Markgraff and Linda to the passageway and Linda afterwards told how she and her mother pleaded with the convicts not to kill Markgraff.

"Rizo put up his hand as a sign they wouldn't kill papa," Linda says, "but of course we couldn't believe him."

Sheriff, wife, daughter, and prisoners went through a back door into an enclosure surrounding the gallows. Policeman O'Neil and the other arriving policeman were being besought by Mrs. Markgraff "not to shoot." She was in front of her husband and the desperadoes were keeping him in front of them. So no one shot, just then. All the men went out a side door to where the sheriff's car was parked.

O'Neil and others climbed on top of the gallows and aimed their guns over the high fence—but dared not shoot.

Duchowski wanted to drive but Markgraff said no, he would drive. He said he purposely flooded the carburetor and turned on the lights instead of the magneto. Anyway the car failed to move.

Gun Battle Around Auto.

About this time the general and miscellaneous firing had commenced. The sheriff bade his daughter and wife go back, and Mrs. Markgraff went back and fainted. From all around the shots poured into the car, as by this time every one within a mile of the jail had rushed toward it.

No one up to now has admitted being the one who furnished Bell with the gun, but Bell got it, and shot first into the gas tank and then at the convicts, never missing. He is a year and a half out of the army. Stalesky was hit by a bullet that went through the back of the automobile, upholstery and all.

All this shooting was right beside a shanty where a guard was stationed, but some time before he had handed his rifle through a basement window to Jailer Lamb, who came to the jail after the sheriff and party were in the stockade. Lamb later said he shot Rizo from a window of the sheriff's house.

Bell had at least a five dollar bill with him last night, and his intentions were to ride a freight train in the general direction of Revere, Mass., but may wait over to testify at the inquest and another proceeding.

States Attorney Hjalmar Rehn questioned all concerned to determine if any persons were criminally helpful or negligent. He remarked there was more bone apparent than the bone key, but when asked what he had to say about this occurrence he exclaimed:

"There is nothing to be said but there is some thinking to be done."

He and Assistant States Attorney James Burke were mapping out a plan of future action tonight. After the last break the grand jury recommended contempt action by Judge Fred A. Hill. Sheriff Markgraff wasn't [illegible] sweetheart, was sent to jail and she is there yet bemoaning his death and the fact he left the jail without a farewell word to her.

London Hears Egyptians Yield Control of Army

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 13.—A favorable settlement of England's contention of its rights to participate in the control of the Egyptian army was reported reached today. Lord Lloyd, high commissioner to Egypt and members of the Egyptian government are said to have agreed on the disputed points on the Egyptian parliamentary control of the army, functions of the superior war council and jurisdiction over Egyptian territories. It was announced in the house of commons this afternoon that a statement would be made shortly.

BIRGER DENIES HE HAD HAND IN PRICE SLAYING

Intimates Newman May Know Actual Killers.

Springfield, Ill., June 13.—(AP)—"Art Newman seems to have known a lot about that murder, and perhaps his wife could tell who the actual killers were," said Charley Birger, Southern Illinois gang leader as he discussed the finding of Mrs. Lory Price's body in an abandoned mine shaft near Herrin.

"I'm innocent of a thing like that. I would rather kill several men before I would lay a hand on a woman. What's more, I don't know a thing about Patrolman Price's death.

"We had been friends for a long time and to tell you the truth Newman and Price were not on the best of terms. I don't say Newman killed Price, but if the truth was known things would be different.

Stayed at His Home.

"On the night Mr. and Mrs. Price disappeared I was at home with my family and several friends. A deputy marshal was there and Art Newman came to my home that night.

"Tell you what. Newman was not on the best of terms with Lory Price, because Price turned him over to Detective Joe Schrader, East St. Louis, for the Pocohontas bank job. I won't say Price was ever threatened by Newman, but there was an ill feeling there, and perhaps if he told the truth he could bring about the arrest of the slayers and not hang it on the wrong man.

"Price and his wife were my friends. We were on the best of terms, and I haven't seen Mr. and Mrs. Price since ten days before my cabin was burned down.

Will Prove Innocence.

"I am going to prove that I am not guilty of these charges he has made against me. I will bring witnesses to prove that I was not away from my home that night and also that Art Newman left my home with several companions and that he was drunk when he left and feeling in a fighting mood.

"He has killed plenty of men, if the truth were known, but I'm not going to hang anything on him. He's afraid a few of these murders will be solved and that he'll get the rap which belongs to him," Birger said.

Find Woman's Body.

Marion, Ill., June 13.—(AP)—Bearing out the confession of Art Newman, former lieutenant of Charles Birger, southern Illinois gang chieftain, the bullet pierced body of Mrs. Ethel Price, wife of Lory L. Price, slain highway patrolman, was found today in the abandoned coal mine shaft near here, in which Newman declared Birger followers had thrown it.

Mrs. Price's body was identified and claimed by her father, Dale Jackson, and by two relatives of Price.

The body was brought to an undertaking establishment here, where examination showed it was in a good state of preservation, attributed to the depth at which it lay. The face was recognizable, although the nose was bruised, possibly broken. There were seven bullet wounds in the back, further supporting Newman's story. His hearsay testimony, however, had mentioned only four shots fired in the back.

Rebel San Blas Indians Assassinate Panamanians

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BALBOA, C. Z., June 13.—The San Blas Indians are reported to be on the warpath and to have assassinated several Panamans. A native gunboat has been dispatched to San Blas bay. Details are lacking.

OLD IRONSIDES REPAIRS START NEXT THURSDAY

Chicago's "Save Old Ironsides" campaign will go on, and the old frigate's going into dry dock on Thursday will mark the beginning of renewed efforts to reach the city's quota of $75,000, local leaders said yesterday.

"Old Ironsides" buttons will be sold at Wicker park this afternoon, members of the mayor's committee announced. Contributions received yesterday by the committee included $92 from the bureau of engineering, $71 from the license bureau, and $50.64 from George Seebacher's Republican organization. Reports are still due from 23 schools.

Commander A. G. Dibrell's picture committee at 332 South Michigan boulevard yesterday received an additional $184.

NOTED NEW YORK PHYSICIAN DIES SUDDENLY HERE

Dr. Walter J. Otis, 75 years old, prominent New York physician, died late yesterday at St. Luke's hospital, where he had been taken after being seized with a heart attack while riding in an automobile in Michigan avenue with his brother, Phil A. Otis, wealthy patron of the arts, whom he had been visiting here for about a month.

When Dr. Otis was suddenly seized, he was taken into the Drake hotel, where restoratives were administered. He was then placed in an ambulance and rushed through the traffic to St. Luke's but he died there before further aid could be given him. His daughter, Mrs. Hans Wickenhauser, was on her way to the city to accompany him back home, when he died.

A WARNING IN TRACTION FROM EXPERIENCE.

Michael L. Igoe, minority leader in the house of representatives, wrote Mayor Thompson asking him to advise the house what the city wanted by way of amendments to the traction bills to make them satisfactory. Mr. Thompson says that he has spoken his piece to the legislature and has nothing to add to it. He said that so long as the bills contained his traction fundamentals he was for them and that he saw no particularly dangerous spots in them.

A good many citizens see more than the mayor does. They cannot understand the mandatory provision of the indeterminate franchise. They cannot understand why it is not entirely adequate that the legislature should give authority to the city council to grant such franchises as will meet the requirements of any particular situation. That would reserve to the council its proper field of decision and action.

There is no excuse for this serious restriction of the council's power to control the use of the streets. The city may seem indifferent now but it will wake up if past experience in traction matters is worth anything in predictions. It may require a definite ordinance based on this proposed law to take the matter out of the realm of abstraction and give it the point to prod popular realization of what is taking place.

It would be very strange if the people of Chicago, raised in traditions of guarding their streets, should pay no attention to the granting of perpetual franchises knowing that the legislature at the request of the traction interests had made it impossible for the council to grant any other kind. No one would count on that. The chances are that if this legislation is passed there will be a flare up which will turn the relation of the people and the traction interests back into the old animosities. There has been an improvement in the public attitude because the people thought that there was a fairer intent on the part of traction management in politics. That is the best basis for a reasonable settlement profitable to the city and the companies.

If the city reverts to its old convictions the financial reorganization of the companies is bound to get into the rough sooner or later. An investment in political discord is not attractive and the wiser buyers will not want it. Politics now may be organized as traction wants it but politics cannot face popular indignation long. There will be an upset and a change in administration which will not do traction investments any good. The wiser buyers will consider that.

Mr. Insull and his associates have been warned that they may get too much in Springfield for their own good. It may be that they can get what they want. After they have it they may not want it so much.

Also, we would remark, that it doesn't do any good when the mayor and the aldermen say they will accept what they get. That is the best alibi the legislature could have.

There is nothing in the record of Chicago traction to indicate that such things can be done. Chicago streets cannot be put in such a market. It is not to be believed that the people have entirely changed here since the days of the Humphrey and Allen legislation and the consequent attempts in the city council to use it.

MR. McADOO SINGS A SONG TO A HARP OF ONE STRING.

William H. Stayton, national chairman of the Association Against Prohibition, asks William G. McAdoo not to be ridiculous by choice. Mr. McAdoo in sounding a Democratic note of alarm against Gov. Al Smith as a candidate for nomination has been asking citizens in the south and elsewhere to stand against nullification of the constitution, meaning the eighteenth amendment to it and the Volstead act under it.

Mr. Stayton calls Mr. McAdoo's attention to the fact that by congressional disregard of the provision for reapportionment of congressional districts his own state of California is denied from three to five members in the national house of representatives. Other states lose because of this. Some profit. It is nullification in the national assembly just as there is nullification in the Illinois assembly. Mr. Stayton says the drys support the nullification. We know they do not object to it and if they are not actively for it at least care nothing about it.

Mr. McAdoo knows that the purpose of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments in the south, which he frequently addresses as a favorite son, is defeated and that restrictive measures even if not expressed in statutes pervert the aim of these amendments. It may be said that it would not be possible to have it otherwise or wise if possible but that leaves it practical nullification. Mr. McAdoo is only one of the many dry constitutionalists to whom this is a matter of no importance. The immorality of nullification involves only one amendment.

That is one with respect to which there has been no word or act of nullification directed. Congress appropriates for its support what the drys ask. The administration tries to please the Anti-Saloon league in the control of enforcement. The federal courts go the limit to punish offenders with the penitentiary, with the confiscation of their property and the denial of their normal constitutional rights. There is only one respect in which nullification and the eighteenth amendment may be coupled together. It has nullified every other provision of the constitution or of statutory law which might have tempered its application or modified its severities.

Probably the reason Mr. McAdoo finds himself frequently referred to as Mr. McAdoodle is because he is so frequently macadoodling.

ETERNAL PEACE WITH FRANCE.

The state department makes it known that the administration is willing to discuss with France a treaty forever outlawing war between the two countries. It has been proposed by the French foreign minister, Briand, to Ambassador Herrick in Paris and by him reported to Washington.

Nothing in the future seems less probable than a war with France. America and France have unsettled issues, it is true. One of them is the unpleasant subject of the debt, but even with that as an irritant war is a thing which seems incredible as a prospect. American sentiment for France has been a real thing, and it has survived some trying circumstances, one of which was a French army in Mexico supporting an alien emperor.

To pledge eternal peace with France would be pleasing to some Americans, who would regard it as the first step in obtaining a permanent and universal peace with war at last banished from even the thoughts of men. In reality it would be a promise made by men who could not guarantee performance. Any preventable war will be prevented. We had a century old treaty with Prussia not to seize the property of private citizens in case of war. That went into the discard. It was a rational treaty not based on illusions. The men who made it intended that it should be kept. It was a scrap of paper which did not get high-lighted by a diplomatic outburst of candor, as did a celebrated German violation of treaty in Belgium.

If Mr. Bryan had been a little longer in his peace activities when he was in the state department we might have had one of his thirty or more treaties signed with Germany. Nations were obliging him with their signatures and making him happy. If he had succeeded with Germany the United States would have been pledged to wait a year before it went to war after the issue of war had taken shape. That would have been torn up.

These bows of grace and pledges of friendship are gratifying, but in later times they do not control realities. So far as people now living can govern the future it is safe. So far as they cannot govern it they ought not to write pledges for it.

THE FRIENDS OF LIBERTY.

The revival of terrorist executions in Moscow as a retort to the British government's raid of the propaganda headquarters in London has so far brought no meetings or petitions of protest from the friends of liberty who have been demonstrating so passionately on behalf of Sacco and Vanzetti. And there will be none. But the Nation this week is down on the British government for what it alleges is a breach of treaty and for the high handed manner in which proceedings were conducted, without warning and even with violence—"two of the clerks in the cipher room being assaulted by the police."

There is the capitalist beast exposed—two clerks assaulted! As for the proceedings in Moscow and Leningrad, they will leave Mr. Villard's capacity for righteous indignation untapped. No doubt we are to understand that as to executions in Russia, (1) they are entirely justified, and (2) they did not take place. In other words, the victims were executed after fair trial for treason to the Soviet state, and furthermore the reports of such execution are fictions of the capitalist press.

NAVAL OFFICERS FROM THE RANKS.

More than a hundred enlisted men of the navy have passed the mental examinations for admittance to the Naval academy at Annapolis. Each year a hundred places at the academy are reserved for ambitious young men in the ranks who desire to rise in their profession above the grade of petty officer. The examinations are not easy. It is a source of gratification that all the places have been filled.

Class consciousness is strong in all armies and navies and our establishments are always in danger of following European precedents in this matter. The appointment of a hundred enlisted men to Annapolis is an encouraging sign that our navy has not become snobbish. The navy, like every other business and profession in this country, offers a career to any young man who has ambition and ability to take advantage of his opportunities. There is no line of class distinction which cannot be crossed.

Editorial of the Day

THE TAMPA MOB.

[The Peoria Transcript.]

Whether the sergeant who ordered his detail to open fire on the mob milling about the jail in Tampa, Fla., was justified, will probably be considered by experts. It appears he was as much prompted to take this drastic action because he had been hit in the head with a brick as because the mob was menacing the jail. Nevertheless, the results were sufficiently serious to justify national interest in the case. Three are known to be dead and more than a score wounded.

The case is unique in the annuals of mob violence because it involves a continued thirty-six hour effort by a mob to storm a jail in spite of police, firemen, and finally troops. The object of the mob's wrath is a confessed slayer of five who is held in jail.

Mob violence is always deplorable. Sometimes it uncannily reveals popular temperament. In the Tampa case the mob is apparently determined because of the ferocity of the man they are seeking to lynch. No race hatred or class struggle is involved. The mob was terrible because it represented a community outraged by a criminal whose confession indicates his offenses were committed in a manner that was almost inhuman.

The popular reaction to the Tampa mob will be condemnation. This will also be the attitude of the majority of law abiding citizens. But the mob was more significant than the ribald crowds which lynch Negroes in the south, because it was indicative of a determined mass rebellion against the law.

Perhaps our leniency with respect to murderers will bear an uglier fruit than more murders. Mob violence may be one.

HOW TO GET RID OF A TAPEWORM.

A RECENT number of the Journal of the American Medical Association included an article by Dr. W. A. Thomas telling of the advantages of eating raw meat, while just a few pages away was an article by Drs. Magath and Brown which told us that if we ate raw meat the tapeworms would get us.

Perhaps there are no tapeworms in Greenland, where Dr. Thomas worked. It may be too cold for them. It is more likely Dr. Thomas did not examine for tapeworm. Drs. Magath and Brown say that if you do not examine for them you will never find them, for there are no symptoms of tapeworm.

The common notion is that ravenous appetite is a symptom of tapeworm. People with tapeworm have appetites just like other people—neither more ravenous, nor less so, nor even fitful and uneven. There is nothing in the notion that a man with tapeworm must eat for two.

About fifty years ago Hirsch gave fifteen symptoms of tapeworm. Itching in different parts of the body led the list of symptoms in frequency, abdominal pains was next, and nausea third. Disturbance of appetite, disturbance of the bowels, disturbance of nutrition, and even epilepsy were in the list. Drs. Magath and Brown upset the entire Hirsch teaching. Experience has taught them that there is but one sign of tapeworm and that is—finding the worm.

They found it an easy matter to get rid of the worm, head and all, if it was gone at in the right way. Gone at in the wrong way, failure was the rule, or almost so. I presume the easy cases never got to this pair of higherups. In their experience nearly every person who had a tapeworm knew he had it, and had taken a few shots at it. Some of these attempts had been made by the patients themselves, forgetting a tapeworm is generally a counter-prescribing proposition. However, a respectable proportion of the failures were chargeable to physicians.

The method consists in starving for at least half a day before giving the medicine. During this half day coffee, tea and water are allowed but no other food. Fruit is so hurtful in obtaining good results that it should be left off the menu for a day at least before the food strike is begun.

The night before the seance with the worm is scheduled the patient takes a dose of salts. This is repeated at six the next morning. No breakfast is allowed. When the bowels have moved the patient is ready for his first dose of worm poison. One hour later another dose of the worm poison is given, and two hours after that a third dose of salts. Two hours after the giving of this dose of salts a large soapsuds enema is given. Unless the enema is used the head of the worm is likely to break off and remain inside and eventually catch hold on the wall and start another worm.

The final step is to properly save and then examine the worm for the head. Treatment that does not bring one or more heads is useless. Drs. Magath and Brown think the custom of eating raw beef and raw fish is not decreasing and, in consequence, tapeworms are frequently found.

FOODS FOR T. B. VICTIM.

Mrs. W. H. S. writes: Would you please mention a few of the more important foods for a tubercular person to eat? Also, the most important to avoid.

REPLY.

The foods around which the diet should be built are milk, meats, breads and vegetables. If there is any one especially good food for consumptives it is milk.

There are no foods that a consumptive should avoid so long as they do not cause indigestion and so long as the disease has not caused ulcers of the intestines.

In the late stages of the disease corn, stewed apples and a few other vegetables and fruits are to be avoided because they tend to make the bowels loose.

VACCINATE FOR SAFETY.

H. W. writes: I have lately lost a child nearly four years old from diphtheria. I have another child, 2 years old, and I would like to know whether or not it would be advisable to have her vaccinated for both diphtheria and scarlet fever as a preventive. The child is four pounds underweight.

Do you think it would be too much of a strain on her health?

REPLY.

Have the child vaccinated against diphtheria.

Delay vaccinating against scarlet fever until a more auspicious time.

HEMOGLOBIN PERCENTAGES.

V. L. A. writes: 1. Do most people have 100 per cent hemoglobin in the blood, or are there more who are slightly anemic?

2. Do you think it necessary for a person with 85 per cent of hemoglobin to take the same treatment as an anemic person?

REPLY.

1. One hundred per cent hemoglobin is rather unusual. Probably the instruments are scaled a little too high.

2. As a rule, the answer is—no.

MUST HAVE SCREENS.

Chicago, June 8.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Is there a law compelling landlords to furnish all window screens and door screens during the summer months?
J. W.

Sec. 2174 of the city code provides that "it shall be the duty of every . . . person . . . owning or controlling . . . any place where persons are housed . . . and where foods are kept . . . to maintain on all . . . openings . . . from April 15 to Nov. 15 . . . screens . . ." Since this wording is equally applicable to landlord and tenant it authorizes the assessment of a penalty against either or both, but as to their mutual civil rights leaves standing the rule that the tenant cannot in absence of express agreement charge against the landlord the cost of repairs or alterations.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

WIFE RUNS UP BILLS.

Chicago, June 8.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—How much can I demand of my salary in case of garnishment of wages? I have been married but my wife and I are now separated. My wife has a number of bills against my credit. I believe she has accounts with five different credit houses. I am sure they are going to attach my wages for they demand more than I can pay.
G. B. S.

The exemption to the head of a family is $15 per week. If you are not now the head of a family there is no exemption.

It may be that you are not liable. In which case it would be much wiser to defend the suit brought against you than to try to resist the subsequent garnishment.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

LIABILITY FOR LEASE.

Chicago, June 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Due to difficulties, I cannot pay my rent, or cannot pay $75 per month for a flat. The furniture is owned by the party I took the lease from.

1. Can I be held liable for the rent until the expiration of the lease, next April 1?

2. Can they garnishee my wages?

3. Is the party from whom I took the lease over liable?
J. M.

1. Yes, if you so agreed.
2. Yes.
3. It seems probable that he is also liable.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 14, 1862.

NEW YORK.—The steamer British Queen brought Havana papers. News from Mexico confirms reports of the defeat of the French troops by the Mexicans. The latter are actively fortifying Mexico City and the French will march against it when reinforcements arrive.

WASHINGTON. — Gen. McClellan telegraphed Secretary Stanton that his statement concerning Gen. Casey's division at the battle of Fair Oaks in front of Richmond that it "gave way unaccountably and discreditably" was based on official reports made to him when he arrived. He says he now believes most of the division "made a most gallant stand against superior numbers."

WASHINGTON.—A general order extends the limits of the department of the Mississippi to include the states of Tennessee and Kentucky, under Gen. Halleck.

WASHINGTON.—A Baltimore slave trader, who is largely engaged in the traffic in human flesh, testified before the emancipation commissioners that slaves are worth nothing in Maryland. He said they are running away so fast their value is greatly depreciated.

CHICAGO.—Friends of Capt. C. T. Hotchkiss, of the immortal 11th regiment, Illinois volunteers, will be pleased to learn that he has been appointed assistant adjutant general on the staff of Maj. Gen. McClernand, commanding the reserve army corps near Corinth, Miss.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 14, 1902.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Roosevelt urged congress to pass a bill granting tariff concessions to Cuba. His message declared the reciprocity measures would save Cuba and benefit the United States.

CHICAGO. — Thomas J. Noonan, treasurer of the Illinois theater, is suffering from erysipelas contracted through the handling of paper money. Noonan was near death night before last, but is believed out of danger now.

CHICAGO.—Henry Siegel, president of the Simpson-Crawford company of New York and Siegel, Cooper & Co. of this city, has purchased from Leopold Schlesinger a half interest in the firm of Schlesinger & Mayer for approximately $2,500,000. The capital stock of Schlesinger & Mayer is to be increased from $1,000,000 to $6,500,000. The firm is to be entirely reorganized with David Mayer as president, and is to build upon its present location at State and Madison streets a 12 story building costing between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000.

CHICAGO.—Wiley Piatt, the White Stockings' southpaw, administered a 9 to 0 whitewash to Jimmie Collins' band of ball tossers from Boston. Comiskey's men simply murdered the delivery of Dineen, one of the Boston team's stars.

NEW YORK.—Moses Leonard Frazier, a Negro, born in slavery 42 years ago, was given the degree of Master of Arts at Columbia university.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 14, 1917.

LONDON.—Three German airplanes succeeded in penetrating the air defenses over London and rained death down on the city. The casualties as officially announced number 534, including 97 dead and 437 wounded. The dead include 55 men, 16 women and 26 children. Of the wounded 221 are men, 122 are women and 94 are children. The invaders were attacked by British aviators and shelled by anti-aircraft cannon and thousands of business men and their employés watched the battle staged at least two miles above the city. The most pitiable scene of the raid was furnished by the bombing of a school house.

CHICAGO.—With all the abandon of an expiring institution the school board reëlected John D. Shoop superintendent for four years and raised his salary; reëlected Lewis E. Larson for four years and raised his salary, and voted to reinstate 66 "federation" teachers dropped a year ago. The board sewed up every proposition against a reconsideration by an incoming Thompson school board.

PARIS.—The entente allies apparently are in control of the whole of Greece. The war office announced that French cavalry has occupied the city of Larissa in Thessaly.

CHICAGO.—The net for slackers is spreading into every nook of Chicago. Chief Schuettler and his police are compelling every man of military age to show his registration card. In all places where men congregate—pool halls, restaurants, saloons and places of amusement—police compelled the showing of the blue cards. Today the search will spread to elevated trains, street cars, park golf links, incoming ships and railway trains.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

ON ENDING.

There is a quietness since you are gone—
And days that clattered by in yearning haste
Now sprawl in listless, apathetic waste,
And quivering nights lie still, begrudging dawn;

For, losing you, I also lost the fear
Of losing you . . . those childish prayers to be Beloved forever hushed and stilled in me—
Finality cuts clean and sharp and clear.

WE WISH WE MIGHT print every one of the many beautiful letters we have received regarding the farewell to Dennis King on Line Nite last Saturday. It was a wonderful evening. Dinny hated to say good-by to you all. Tears were in his eyes when he gave you his last message. "They're all so beautiful to me," he said, as he turned away from the microphone. "I wish I could tell them how grateful I am, but I don't seem able to." And will you ever forget how Dinny said, "Hello, there!" every time he came to the mike? But even if your letters aren't published Dinny will read them all. The last thing he asked for before he left Chicago was to have every letter sent to him so that he could take them with him on the boat next Saturday and read them as he goes back to England.

WE'VE TOLD YOU ABOUT "The 'Canary' Murder Case," now running in Scribner's. It intrigues us mightily and it probably will you. But why? That's the great question. Ordinarily detective stories give us a pain in the neck. But here is a detective story, full of mystery and with suspicion thrown on everybody except the editor of Scribner's and the proofreader, and we simply can't wait until the next installment. We have come to the conclusion that we like it because it isn't cast in the argot of the ordinary detective story or underworld play. Nobody says, "Say, it's a cinch, the broad croaked that guy an' she's a-going to squawk." In "The 'Canary' Murder Case" the chief character, Vance, seems to run the whole gamut of literature in his quotations and he uses words that we have to see Mr. Webster about, and when we find out we think they are lovely words we hasten to add them to our vocabulary. Just at random, here are some bits from this month's installment of the story:

"Really, y' know—remember the Red Queen in 'Through the Looking-Glass—.'" . . . "Chacun à son gibier, sighed Vance." . . . "Maybe yes, he might qualify as a modern Cayley Drummle—." "The elder Cato in his Disticha de Moribus wrote Fronte capillata." . . . "The modern woman in this febrile age—." . . . "His disorder is in the category of psychoses—associated with the maturation or waning of the sexual instinct." . . . "Bewarê of these pseudo-pyriform faces, Markham." . . . "I am something of an antinomian." . . . "You should be crowned with an anadem of myrtle." . . . "He may still have hay on his horns, or, like Hotspur, be drunk with choler." . . . "His small eyes were bright; his nose bibative." . . . "Festina lente, says Cæsar, or as Rufus has it, Festinatio tarda est." Why do you like this story? Or, do you?

THE FUTURE OF THE CALUMET REGION.

Whiting, Ind., June 10.—Some time ago there appeared in THE TRIBUNE an estimate of the trend of population increases in the Chicago region for the next two decades. Although I have only the highest regard for the scholarship and statistical ability of Miss Helen Rankin Jeter, who prepared the estimate, yet I must take exception to her predictions concerning the Calumet region of northwestern Indiana. Pressing duties have kept me silent, but now that President Coolidge's visit is putting the Calumet region in the limelight, I beg leave to present some estimates of my own for this great region which, I believe, is to become eventually the great workshop of America.

Miss Jeter's estimates were evidently worked out by plotting a continuous curve based on past increases. This works out fairly satisfactorily for an old region of large population with no radical changes in industrial conditions. But the Calumet is a virile, young industrial region just beginning to realize its possibilities. Right now certain factors are greatly accelerating the growth in population along the southern shore of Lake Michigan. For instance, the abolishment of "Pittsburgh plus" is bringing in new steel mills; one under construction in Hammond will employ 12,000 men and this means, with their families, a population of 50,000. Additions to present plants and the building of two new refineries will mean a like increase in the number of men employed in the oil industry. We are also becoming quite a general manufacturing area; but, of course, much of this is of iron and steel products. There are just a few samples of present possibilities. The ultimate completion of the Illiana harbor project along the state line will mean another wave of acceleration.

Now for my estimates—I'll make them short and snappy! For 1940: The Whiting-Hammond-East Chicago-Indiana Harbor region will all be grown together into one city of 225,000 population, while Gary will have a population of 190,000. By 1950, all these cities will have grown together into a great city of 600,000. Any one feeling inclined to laugh at these predictions should visit Newark and other New Jersey cities opposite New York. We are in the same relative position to Chicago as these cities are to New York. And then, again, the bulk of the population of the Chicago area tends to keep in touch with the lake—just note the shape of Chicago for this. This means that there will be a sweeping movement of population around the southern end of the lake in the near future. I shall even extend some hope for poor old Crown Point to which Miss Jeter ascribes a lingering illness. It will become a fine suburban residential town and in 1940 will have a population of 8,000, with 20,000 in 1950. [You're welcome! Same to you!]

All Chicago people who occasionally motor out to the Dunes have gone through Robertsdale, along to Indianapolis boulevard between "Five Points" and 119th street, Whiting. In my work as an economics instructor, one of my pet hobbies is to describe the tall buildings and live-wire business houses which will line that street in 1940 and the skyscrapers to be found in that street in 1960. Yes, they think I'm trying to be facetious and get a great kick out of it; but my students of today will be the business men along that street in another century.

Now that THE TRIBUNE has sent out members of its staff to visit and extol the glories of other sections of Chicagoland, why not send someone out here on the trail of President Coolidge, to visit the most important part of Chicagoland outside the loop?
HERSCHEL H. GRIFFITH.

SNOBS.

Chicago, June 10.—L. J. F. probably does not realize that we are only paid from $7 to $10 weekly and depend upon the generosity of our customers for our livelihood. When these "poor working girls" come in they never fail to take the best tables in the house where they sit and gossip and smoke cigarets during the rush hour. They do not consider the fact that they keep us from making money as well as demanding more service, as a rule, than the regular fellows. They certainly give me a pain with their high and mighty air. One would think they were a lot better than a horse thief or a safecracker.

I am always courteous to my customers, both men and women, but have found these little office snobs the most demanding and exacting and entirely devoid of consideration. They are petty, mean, and small, and take great delight in reporting any dereliction on the part of a waitress.

THE CONSTITUTIONALITY OF THE GAS TAX.

West Allis, Wis., June 10.—It would appear that to tax the exports of one state entering another is unconstitutional. "No state shall have the power to levy a tax upon the exports of another state."

The gas tax is the first and only tax of this kind in operation. Coal, stone, iron ore, copper, fruit, grain, lumber and manufactured products from any state may be shipped freely into this state or into Illinois. You cannot tax a single product from another state. Why should the products of Indiana, Oklahoma, or Texas be taxed? A good constitutional lawyer should be able to put the quietus on taxing a petroleum product coming from another state.

GERMANY TELLS LEAGUE IT HAS RAZED 34 FORTS

Offers Photos; Resents French Inquiry.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, June 13.—Germany put another pawn into play in the Geneva negotiations today at the opening of the forty-fifth session of the League of Nations with an official notification to the ambassadors' conference that thirty-four forts on the eastern border, in accordance with the Paris agreement of Jan. 31, last, had been destroyed.

The thorny point of confirmation of Germanys' word is yet unsettled. The French appear unwilling to take seriously the German offer to prove by photos that the forts are destroyed and refute the contention that the word of one power bound by treaties to another must be taken. The Germans declare they will oppose an official investigation as an attack on their sovereignty.

Briand and Stresemann Meet.

GENEVA, Switzerland, June 13.—(AP)—M. Briand, the French foreign minister, after a private conference with Gustav Stresemann, the German foreign minister, said tonight: "We are continuing the reconstruction of Europe along the lines of the Locarno pact."

Dr. Stresemann said he had asked M. Briand to agree to a reduction in the army of occupation in the Rhineland, but without result. The conversations, however, will be continued.

The two statesmen also discussed the attitude of the powers towards Russia.

Dr. Stresemann at a secret session of the league council today won his point that the council should not discuss whether Germany must file its aviation lists with the league.

Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones and Rear Admiral Andrew T. Long arrived in Geneva tonight. They are the first of the American delegates to the naval conference.

TOKYO, June 13.—(AP)—The Associated Press is informed that Japan's delegation to the Geneva naval conference is instructed to propose an equal ratio for auxiliary war vessels to be built by Japan, England, and the United States.

LAW MEET AT THE HAGUE

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune]

GENEVA, June 13.—A conference for the codification of international law, so dear to the hearts of President Coolidge and Senator Borah, will be called probably by Holland, the league of nations council decided today.

The committee decided that seven major subjects are susceptible to regulation by international conventions:

1. Nationality.
2. Territorial waters.
3. Diplomatic privileges and immunity.
4. Responsibility of states for damages done in their territory to the person or property of foreigners.
5. Piracy.
6. Procedure of international conferences.
7. Exploitation of products of the sea.

It is believed if the Netherlands summons the conference the United States and Russia will participate, whereas, if it is under the league's auspices, Moscow and Washington may decline to attend.

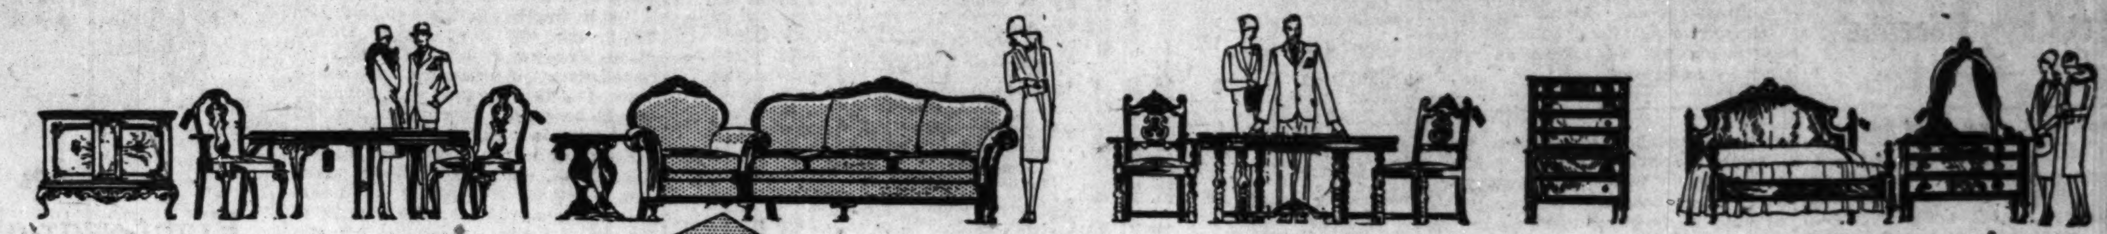
A "Green Tag Sale" of Furniture Begins Today



We have not had a June Furniture Clearance to equal this one for many years either in amount of merchandise offered or in extent of reductions made. We expect that every special value we offer will be sold before the end of the week. We have made the prices low enough to insure this. Several thousand pieces of Furniture—odd pieces and suites—have been drastically reduced in price. Green Tags mark the pieces and suites that have been placed in this Clearance—wonderful values in Living Room, Bedroom and Dining Room furniture marked so low that no one looking for good furniture at low prices will go away disappointed.

ON THE FURNITURE FLOOR—THE EIGHTH

A Display of Colored Damasks On Set Tables

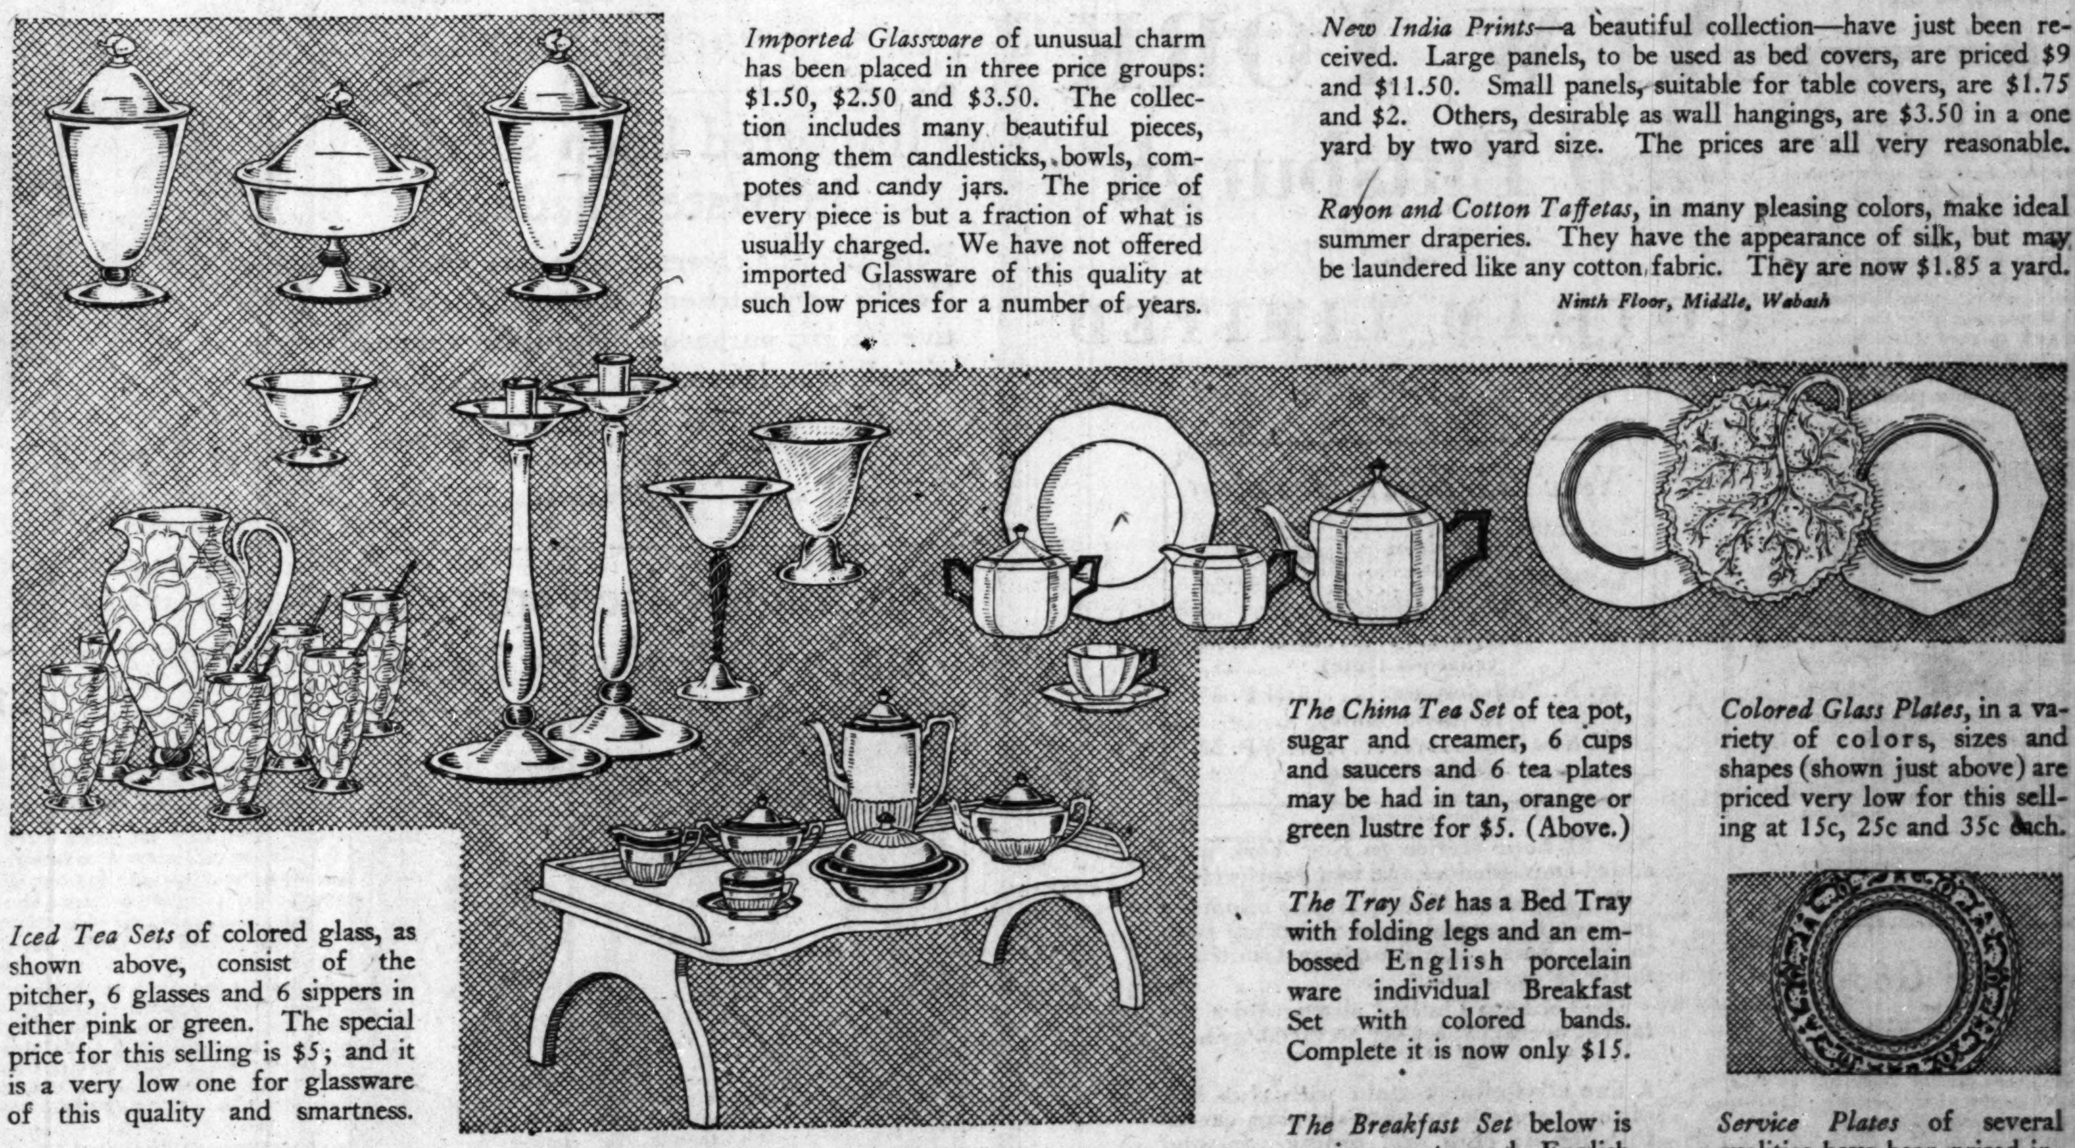
You are cordially invited to visit a display of table arrangements in which exquisite colored damasks are prominently used. The striking color compositions achieved by the combination of these damasks with flowers, china and glass explain the great vogue of colored damasks with discriminating hostesses. The display is made in the Wedgwood Room, on the Seventh Floor, today and tomorrow, from ten until five.

The Colors—

Heliotrope Primula Gold
Silver Shell Pink Blue
Ivory Oak Apple Green
Marron Aquamarine

This Week—A Mid-Year Clearance Of China and Glassware

Clearance prices prevail on hundreds of pieces of China and Glassware in this important selling. The pieces described here are but a very few of those included in the event. But they are typical of the fine values which a visit to the China and Glassware Sections will reveal.



Imported Glassware of unusual charm has been placed in three price groups: $1.50, $2.50 and $3.50. The collection includes many beautiful pieces, among them candlesticks, bowls, compotes and candy jars. The price of every piece is but a fraction of what is usually charged. We have not offered imported Glassware of this quality at such low prices for a number of years.

Iced Tea Sets of colored glass, as shown above, consist of the pitcher, 6 glasses and 6 sippers in either pink or green. The special price for this selling is $5; and it is a very low one for glassware of this quality and smartness.

The China Tea Set of tea pot, sugar and creamer, 6 cups and saucers and 6 tea plates may be had in tan, orange or green lustre for $5. (Above.)

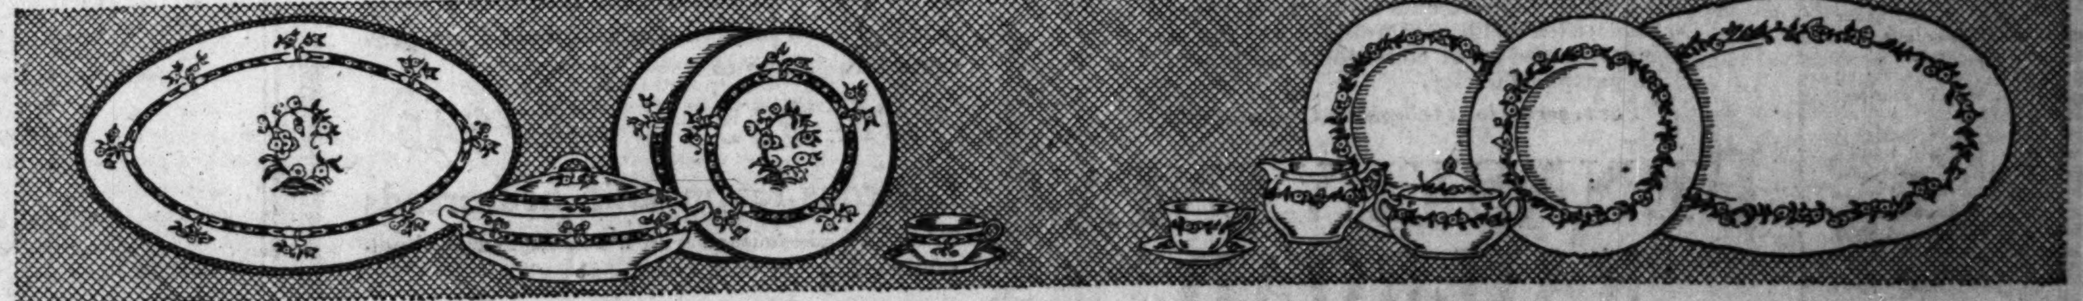
The Tray Set has a Bed Tray with folding legs and an embossed English porcelain ware individual Breakfast Set with colored bands. Complete it is now only $15.

The Breakfast Set below is an ivory-toned English porcelain, decorated with a rim of closely entwined flowers; a splendid value at $10.

Colored Glass Plates, in a variety of colors, sizes and shapes (shown just above) are priced very low for this selling at 15c, 25c and 35c each.

Service Plates of several qualities have been priced individually at $2.50, $3.50 and $5; Plates of gold encrusted French China are included.

The Dinner Set illustrated below is a new open stock pattern of Japanese China, offered in this selling at a very low price, to introduce it quickly. The special price is $50 for a 90-piece set—complete service for twelve people. The pattern is a delightfully colored decoration of the Indian Tree type.



CHINA AND GLASSWARE, SECOND FLOOR, WABASH AVENUE

Let These Summery Shades and Draperies Aid You—

Vudor Porch Shades have been favored for many years by discriminating people. They keep out the hot sun, yet let in cooling breezes. And they are available in striking color combinations that are effective for summer decoration of a porch. They are priced from $2.75 to $18.50, in the various sizes and colors.

New India Prints—a beautiful collection—have just been received. Large panels, to be used as bed covers, are priced $9 and $11.50. Small panels, suitable for table covers, are $1.75 and $2. Others, desirable as wall hangings, are $3.50 in a one yard by two yard size. The prices are all very reasonable.

Rayon and Cotton Taffetas, in many pleasing colors, make ideal summer draperies. They have the appearance of silk, but may be laundered like any cotton fabric. They are now $1.85 a yard.

bile parking purposes and visitors are to be directed to the various parking grounds by guards assigned to all roads. In the event of rain a number of newly made concrete roads bisecting the territory surrounding Wicker park will be thrown open for parking purposes, the committee announced last night.

Traffic Routes Marked.

The main highways leading to Wicker park have been marked by thousands of guiding signs as well as the less important highways leading to the main arteries. Automobile traffic over the thoroughfares on which the presidential party is to travel will be prohibited at 1 o'clock, as at that hour the way is to be cleared for the President.

The presence of detachments of soldiers and sailors and of fleets of airplanes from neighboring flying fields, the sounding of innumerable sirens and whistles throughout the Calumet region at the time of arrival, and the scattering of flowers in the path of the President's party by school children of the district will lend the only colorful phases of the occasion.

The President's party is scheduled to board the train for the west at 5 o'clock at the Hammond station.

START FOR BLACK HILLS

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 13.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Coolidge departed tonight for their summer sojourn in the Black Hills of South Dakota, a vacation to which the politicians attach the utmost political importance.

There will be a two hour stop tomorrow afternoon at Hammond, Ind., where the President will dedicate Wicker Memorial park. The train will pass through Chicago late in the afternoon and arrive at its South Dakota destination Wednesday night.

Accompanying the President are Secretary Everett Sanders and Mrs. Sanders, his personal secretary, Edward T. Clark, and Mrs. Clark, office clerks, household servants, reporters and photographers. Also the Coolidge collies, Rob Roy and Prudence Prim, and Mrs. Coolidge's five canaries. Rebecca, the White House raccoon, also is going. She was taken aboard at the last minute after plans to leave her home were changed.

Politicians Watch and Wait.

With the President established in the corn and wheat belt, the politicians will be training their spy glasses on that region for the next two or three months in an effort to determine whether Mr. Coolidge is likely to be a candidate for another term. They are confident that, by the time he returns to Washington in September, he will have a pretty clear idea whether he is going to stand for renomination.

The corn and wheat belt is reputed to be a hotbed of anti-Coolidge sentiment, engendered by the President's veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill sponsored by the organized farmers of that part of the country. Whether the President during his stay in the west will succeed in retrieving his popularity is the question uppermost in the minds of politicians.

Thinks Selection Significant.

The selection of South Dakota for the President's vacation has struck the politicians from the start as highly significant.

The President, on more than one occasion, has testified to the value he places on the executive getting out among the plain people for a protracted period, learning their problems and getting their point of view.

Not a few of those who admire the President are confident that he will get to the root of distress on the farms and bring back a remedy to be written into legislation at the next session of congress.

Will Organize Demonstrations.

If this should happen, and the solution should be acceptable to the farmers, the path of the President to renomination would be speedily cleared of all obstacles. The corn belt attitude was expressed a few days ago by Gov. Hammill of Iowa, who said his state will be for Coolidge if he puts through a satisfactory farm relief measure; otherwise for Lowden.

The Coolidge boosters are preparing to organize corn belt demonstrations for the President during the summer. Various committees are to board his train as it passes through Minnesota and South Dakota and, as soon as he is settled in the Black Hills, the visits of delegations of farmers and of framers of farm relief legislation are to begin. It is expected by the Coolidge boosters that there will be considerable booming of the President by these visitors for another term.

CANADA SHAFT TO U. S. HEROES IN ARLINGTON NATIONAL CEMETERY

Washington, D. C., June 13.—[Special.]—Selection of a site in Arlington National cemetery for a monument to be presented by the Canadian to the American government, in commemoration of Americans who were killed in the world war when serving with the Canadians, was begun today, when a commission from Ottawa conferred with war department officials. The monument will be known as "The Cross of Sacrifice."

SMALL MUST GO, MRS. McCORMICK TELLS WOMEN

Carbondale, Ill., June 13.—[Special.]—Mrs. Medill McCormick, Republican national committeewoman for Illinois, arrived here this morning to make a tour of the towns of Egypt for the purpose of solidifying the women's vote. Following her visit she will return to Chicago and after a few days of rest will cover other points in the state with the same purpose in mind.

Reiterating her defiance to Gov. Len Small, the widow of former United States Senator Medill McCormick declared that, "if necessary," she would enter the lists against the governor should be persist in running for the third term in next year's elections.

Referring to the declaration against Gov. Small, she said: "What comes now is action. Everything that I said goes, every word of it. He has got to get out, if I have to get him out myself."

FOUR HURT AS FLOORS FALL.

Collapse of the second and third floors of an uncompleted addition to the Chicago Salvage Stock company building, 509 South State street, yesterday injured four workmen. The structure tumbled as the partition from the adjoining building was being torn away.

Boric Acid Good But Not Enough

We recommend Iris, America's Eye Bath, because we know it is such a vast improvement over the time-honored eyewash of plain boric acid.

Iris contains camphor, menthol, witch hazel, boric acid, and pure distilled spring water, all sterilized and put into sealed sterile flasks.

Iris does three definite things for you. It makes your eyes sparkle and look alive and vivacious. It cleanses the corners, the tear ducts, and under the upper and lower eye lids. It contains astringents which tighten sagging eye muscles and therefore eliminates crowfeet and eye wrinkles.

If you will try one bottle of Iris we know you will realize its virtues. All of our stores are instructed to refund your money if you are not thoroughly pleased. Both the 50c and $1.00 size come complete with handy eye cup. Try Iris today.

APPEALS COURT UPHOLDS LANDIS AWARD WORKERS

Refuses Injunction in Suit of Carpenter Unions.

The Appellate court of Illinois yesterday affirmed a lower court decision which denied an injunction sought by the carpenter unions of Chicago against the Citizens' Committee to Enforce the Landis Award.

Two justices, Charles M. Thomson, who wrote the opinion, and John M. O'Connor, held against granting the injunction. Justice Thomas Taylor Jr. dissented, and in a separate opinion declared the Citizens' committee to be an illegal body engaged in an unlawful conspiracy against workingmen, and stated that the injunction should be granted. Final judgment will be asked of the Illinois Supreme court, attorneys announced.

"Carpenters' Rights Invaded."

Both opinions agreed that the Landis committee had been guilty of some illegal invasions upon the rights of the union carpenters. The majority opinion held that the acts of violence and oppression committed by the union men in their battle against the Landis committee had brought them into court -with "unclean hands," and thereby foreclosed them from the protection of the court.

Excerpts from the majority opinion follow:

"In our opinion, the efforts of the citizens' committee put forth . . . to persuade the owners, contractors, and architects, to support the Landis award, and, to that end, have all contracts provide that the work done under them was to be performed according to the terms of that award, were without any element of coercion . . . and that those efforts were, therefore, legal.

"But it is urged that this may not be said of similar efforts put forth by the citizens' committee and the contractors, whereby they sought to have the mortgage bankers of the city cut off the supply of money sought in the way of loans, unless those who applied for such loans agreed that the work in connection with which the borrowed money was to be used, would be done under the Landis award.

". . . in our opinion there was sufficient ground . . . to have justified an order of injunction against the defendants as to this matter, but for the acts of complainants themselves."

The employment of guards sworn in as deputy sheriffs and armed was also criticized by the court.

Then relating the sluggings, intimidations, and other violent acts against nonunion workers and contractors, the opinion stated:

"A prayer for 'even handed justice' involves an appreciation of the legal rights of others, as well as one's own. Equity may properly grant relief by injunction to employers, only when they can show both an infringement of their legal rights and an observance on their own part of the legal rights of the employés. No different rule may be applied to the latter when they come into equity for similar relief. 'In the fullest recognition of the equaltiy and the mutuality of their rights and their restrictions lies the peace of capital and labor.'"

"Interference of Freedom."

Justice Taylor's decision stated in part:

"In my judgment, the general conduct of the citizens' committee unlawfully interfered with the freedom and rights of the union carpenters; it injured their good name; it persuaded or coerced contractors not to employ them; it poisoned the minds of contractors and architects against them; it produced something in the nature of a boycott and blacklist, preventing the union carpenters from getting work.

"As the law stands today workingmen and employers have well known rights; both are quite free to deal with each other without the collective interference of outsiders. In reality under our law there are neither masters nor servants, but only equals; and so the law certainly looks with especial disfavor on a combination of outsiders who arrogate to themselves authority to bring about what they want as to wage and terms against the desire of either employer or employe or both.

"Worth More to Society."

"The law prohibiting such activities and conduct as that of the citizens' committee is based chiefly on the economic postulate that workingmen's freedom is worth more to society than it, pecuniarily, may seem to cost.

"It is my opinion that . . . all throughout the history of the citizens' committee it and its members have injuriously infringed and impaired the constitutional and common law rights of the union carpenters; that, notwithstanding certain misconduct on the part of the union carpenters towards certain contractors and nonunion carpenters, a court of equity, under the law, with the evidence as it is, was in duty bound to grant relief by way of injunction, and to permit evidence to be introduced on behalf of the complainants on the subject of damages."

TRADE WAR SEEN IN FRENCH BAN ON BRITISH COAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 13.—On the heels of the Geneva economic conference, to lower the commercial barriers, there looms today an extensive trade war between France and England. It was announced in the house of commons today that the British ambassador had made strong representations to the French government against the embargo on British coal. If the embargo remains, it was proposed to apply restrictions here against French coal, 3,000,000 tons of which are received annually. The French restrictions will throw 30,000 British miners out of work.

Find Six Keys to the Popularity of Coca-Cola

THIRST

The only real drink is a thirst-quenching drink. Coca-Cola, a pure drink of natural flavors, quenches thirst as nothing else can.

THROUGH a national survey the public has given us six outstanding reasons why everybody likes Coca-Cola—over 7 million a day. We have named them "six keys to the popularity of Coca-Cola." And they are being illustrated and presented in Coca-Cola advertising between the first week in May and the middle of August.

How to find them

You'll find all these "keys" (one "key" to each advertisement) in each of the following weeklies at intervals between the first week in May and the middle of August: The Saturday Evening Post, Literary Digest, Liberty, Collier's Weekly, and Life. You'll also find them in posters and outdoor signs throughout the country, and in the show window displays and the soda fountain and refreshment stand decorations of the many thousands of places that serve Coca-Cola.

"Key" number one has already appeared. Did you find it? If you did not, you may still enter this $30,000 cash prize contest by looking through one of your magazines of last month. The second "key" is illustrated and presented in the picture and the copy that goes with it above. All "six keys" are easy to find if you just keep your eyes open to Coca-Cola advertising.

Note that there are just three things to do to enter this $30,000 cash prize contest. You'll find it simple and interesting. And the first prize is $10,000.

Just three things to do to enter this $30,000 cash prize contest

1. Find and write down the "six keys" and tell where you found each one. (See rules.)
2. Pick out the one key that appeals to you most and tell in one paragraph why it is a good reason for the popularity of Coca-Cola.
3. Then write an answer (in one paragraph) to this question:

Other than magazine and newspaper advertisements, what Coca-Cola advertisement (a wall, poster, red sign or any one of the various pieces used to decorate show windows, soda fountains and refreshment stands) best illustrates or presents to you one or more of the "six keys"? Tell why—and also where you saw the advertisement.

For the correct naming of the "six keys" and the best answers to the questions, the following cash prizes will be awarded:

2nd prize	5,000
3rd prize	2,500
4th prize	1,000
5th prize	500
10 sixth prizes (each)	100
20 seventh prizes (each)	50
200 eighth prizes (each)	25
400 ninth prizes (each)	10
A total of 635 prizes	$30,000

Follow these simple rules

Do not mail any entry before the first week in August. You must see all "six keys" before you can write correct answers, and the final "key" will not appear until then. Contest closes August 25, 1927. All entries must be mailed by midnight of August 25, 1927, to Contest Judges, The Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, Ga. The contest is open to everybody except those connected with The Coca-Cola Company, a Coca-Cola bottling company, or their families. Write on only one side of paper. Use typewriter, pen or pencil, but please write plainly. Write your name, occupation and address plainly at the top of the first page of your entry. Prizes will be awarded strictly on merit, including the correctness, neatness and clearness of your answers.

All answers become the property of The Coca-Cola Company and may be used in advertising or otherwise. None will be returned.

Address all answers to

CONTEST JUDGES
The Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, Ga.

Announcement of the winners and awarding of the prizes will be made as soon after the close of the contest as the judges can complete their work.

The judges will be three former Presidents of the International Advertising Association (formerly Associated Advertising Clubs of the World) and the President of the Coca-Cola Bottlers' Association, and their awards shall be final.

Radio Program—The Coca-Cola Girl—telling a story with music—every Tuesday evening during the contest, 9 to 9:30 Eastern Standard time, 8 to 8:30 Central Standard time, over the following stations: WEAF, New York; WEEI, Boston; WFI, Philadelphia; WRC, Washington; WGR, Buffalo; WCAE, Pittsburgh; WWJ, Detroit; WMAQ, Chicago; KSD, St. Louis; WHAS, Louisville; WSM, Nashville; WMC, Memphis; WSB, Atlanta; WOC, Davenport.

When the June Bride "Shops" on the Avenue

MICHIGAN AVENUE—"The Street of Romance"—is naturally the logical center for all those things so necessary for the success of "The Great Day" and for the happy years to follow in the New Home.

FIRST comes the selection of the Wedding Slippers at the Drake Hotel Shop of F. E. FOSTER & COMPANY —because every bride naturally wants Foster Shoes and Hosiery.

THEN to TOBEY'S—"Mecca of Chicago Brides" —to select the Furniture of the new home... for Tobey Furniture is always in good taste for the modest apartment or spacious mansion.

AT the PEOPLES TRUST & SAVINGS BANK the Bride receives her check—the result of a systematic savings plan in anticipation of the new housekeeping needs.

LITWINSKY'S—Chicago's Original Linen Store—is decided upon, of course, for the selection of Linens and Laces for the Trousseau and future household needs.

THE Wardrobe Trunk and Honeymoon Luggage naturally entails a visit to the HARTMANN TRUNK CO., where the Bride knows she is sure to find the very nicest travel necessities.

THEN comes the important choice of "The Bride's Silver"—a "chest" perhaps or it may be "by the dozen." In either case the collection of Silver at SPAULDING & COMPANY'S store will provide just what the Bride wants.

AND, then, perhaps the most interesting event—the visit to MILGRIM'S—for what could give greater gratification to family and friends than a wedding "gowned by Sally Milgrim"—America's Foremost Fashion Creator.

DEMAND JAPAN KEEP MANCHURIA FREE FROM WAR

Nipponese Ask Tokio to Guard Investments.

BY RODERICK MATHESON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

TOKIO, June 13.—Preliminary to the meeting here of the minister to Peking and consuls in north China and Manchuria, who have been summoned to consider Japan's general policy on China, representatives from every Japanese community in Manchuria met at Darien yesterday to voice demands for presentation to the home government.

One hundred and thirty delegates who participated adopted three resolutions. The first demands that Japan take steps to prevent the civil war from entering Manchuria and Mongolia.

The second urges Japan to safeguard all Japanese investments in Manchuria and Mongolia and secure the right for the Japanese to emigrate into Manchuria, obtain land and engage in railroading, farming, mining, and lumbering on a basis of equality with the Chinese.

The third resolution says the Japanese government should establish a ministry of colonies to carry out a positive policy in Manchuria and Mongolia.

CHINESE ASSAIL JAPAN

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

SHANGHAI, June 13.—Chinese antagonism against the Japanese flared up again today when the vernacular papers published a report that Japanese troops had arrived at Tsinan, capital of Shantung province. Local Chinese expressed the belief that the Japanese intend to reoccupy Shantung province in order to prevent the Nationalists from driving out Marshal Chang Tso-lin.

The efforts of the Japanese to convince the Chinese that the troops in Shantung were landed for protective purpose were unavailing, since the anti-Japanese agitation apparently is supported officially by the Nanking government.

One Nanking official told THE TRIBUNE correspondent today it is his conviction that Baron Tanaka, the Japanese premier, who is a member of the old military clan, is planning to "upset the housekeeping" in Shantung by taking advantage of the "bolshevik scare."

See Japan's Hand in Compromise.

This official claimed the Japanese are behind the advertised scheme to bring about an alliance of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, Marshal Chang Tso-lin, and Yen Hsi-shan, tupan of Shansi province, for the purpose of hamstringing the radical Hankow Nationalists. He declared Gen. Chiang is absolutely opposed to any sort of an alliance with the Mukden war lord.

LONGWORTH SAYS SPECIAL SESSION IS NOT PROBABLE

NICHOLAS LONGWORTH.

Cincinnati, O., June 13.—(AP)—Speaker Nicholas Longworth of the national house of representatives does not believe it likely there will be a special session of congress unless something unforeseen should happen.

"The United States engineers who are at work on plans for flood prevention in the Mississippi valley," he said, "will hardly be able to report before the regular meeting of congress in December. The appropriations committee, which will probably present a bill appropriating funds for the relief of flood sufferers, and the ways and means committee, which will submit a revenue bill, have both been organized and will meet probably in the middle of October and will be ready to report immediately upon the assembling of the regular session of congress."

Mr. Longworth said he discussed the probabilities of a special session with President Coolidge before he left Washington.

MURDER WITNESS MISSING, STATE QUITS GANG CASE

Drops Charges Against Zion and Orlando.

CRIMINAL COURT.
Peter Mooney, burglary, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary by Judge William N. Gemmill.

Gangland won another victory over the legal authorities yesterday when Assistant State's Attorney Charles Dougherty entered an order striking off, with leave to reinstate, a murder charge against Ralph Orlando and Ben Zion, also known as Bennie Yanger.

The state's identifying witness has disappeared. According to the prosecutor, the police have no idea where that witness can be found.

On Feb. 5 John Petrack, 22, of 538 West Thirty-seventh street, was being shaved in the barber shop of Harry Fidler, 1341 South Peoria street. Without warning a man walked into the barber shop and fired several bullets into Petrack's body as he slumped from the barber chair to the floor.

Solution of Case Slow.

Although six or more persons were in the shop at the time, the police for several days were unable to make any headway in the investigation other than to determine that the killing was the result of a gang war.

Finally Willie Wright, 1351 South Morgan street, a porter, confessed that he had witnessed the shooting and could identify the slayers. He told the police that Zion drove up in a Hudson coach and that Orlando alighted from it and was the man, who walked into the barber shop and did the shooting.

Wright explained his refusal to talk by saying that soon after the shooting he met Sammy Kaplan, who said to him: "Go home and stay home and don't show up."

Fidler, Wright later said, told him to say the killer weighed 200 pounds, and had a dark complexion. Wright may have followed Kaplan's advice, according to the prosecutor, because no trace of him can be found.

Orlando Often Taken.

Orlando has been in police custody many times, according to the bureau of identification records. On Dec. 19, 1921, he got a 10 day Bridewell sentence on a burglary charge; Jan. 23, 1922, another burglary charge was stricken off with leave to reinstate; Sept. 5, 1924, he was put on probation on a third burglary charge; on Dec. 30, 1925, an indictment for malicious mischief was dismissed for want of prosecution, and on Jan. 11, 1926, a burglary charge was dismissed for want of prosecution.

Aged Man Tries to Drown Self in Lagoon; Rescued

Roger Gilbert, 87, of 6568 Bishop street, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by jumping into a lagoon in Ogden park. Bystanders called a park policeman and the aged man was dragged, unconscious, from the water. After working for half an hour a fire department squad revived him and he was taken to the Englewood hospital, where it was said he probably would recover. Gilbert said he was despondent over the death of his wife.

PETITION MEXICO FOR TAX CUT AS 9 MINES CLOSE

MEXICO CITY, June 13.—(AP)—A reduction of government taxation upon mines to relieve the present depression and to halt suspension of operations, is asked in a petition of the Chihuahua Mining Chamber of Commerce.

The petition says that high taxes and low returns have caused nine mines, producing silver and other metals, to close and that others contemplate doing so.

Finance Minister Montes de la Oca has announced he would call a meeting of bankers to discuss remedies for the business depression and the low rate of silver exchange.

It's "YELLOW MASK" that denies you Teeth Beauty!

IN YOUR saliva is a "liquid cement". Science calls it Calculus. It glues to your teeth—then hardens.

It veils the glistening whiteness of your teeth enamel with a glassy slippery mask. Though glossy to the touch of the tongue, this mask of Calculus is really an absorbent. It drinks in coffee, tobacco and food stains as a blotter absorbs ink. These give this glassy mask its yellowish tint.

Ordinary dentifrices cannot lift this mask. They glide over it like one piece of ice over another.

But dental science now makes it easy to remove.

Foremost dentists use a marvelous substance known as "Tri-Calcium Phosphate" for cleaning teeth. It banishes Calculus as sun does mist. It makes teeth fairly dazzle. Yet it cannot injure the most delicate enamel. Otherwise your dentist wouldn't use it.

Dental science has tried to embody this precious but elusive ingredient in a tasty, pleasant tooth paste so that all might have pearly, white teeth all the time. Now it has succeeded—and here is the preparation, ORPHOS Tooth Paste.

Often in one application this magic ORPHOS erases the entire mask. Its powers to beautify will amaze you.

A thousand times a night a baby cries and your light company answers

IF, long after midnight, a baby cries—a thousand babies, ten thousand even—light must be ready at the touch of a mother's hand on the switch. It is your light company's job. It never fails.

Yet it is not a simple matter to provide this continuous, unbroken service. Equipment, more costly than you dream of, must stand idle, ready for the nightfall when millions of lights shine from your city's windows; man-power must be recruited at hours when you would not care to work. And many thousands of dollars must be spent on equipment that is used only in emergencies. A lightning arrester, for instance, may cost more than $10,000, yet not actually be needed for more than one full second a year.

"There is no service without continuous service", says your light company. Next time your baby cries in the night think of the time, the money, and the men it takes to make these words come true.

POLAND LOOKS ON NEW RUSSIAN NOTE AS BLUFF

Pilsudski Paper Says: "We'll Do No More."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, June 13.—The final decisions on the Russo-Polish dispute rest in Moscow and Geneva, where Polish Foreign Minister Zalewski is conferring with Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary; Foreign Minister Aristide Briand of France, and Foreign Minister Gustav Stresemann of Germany, the Polish foreign office informed THE TRIBUNE corrspondent today. Warsaw remains entirely calm.

The Poles look on the second Russian note regarding the murder of Soviet Minister Peter Voikoff as a bluff and an effort to distract public attention from the internal troubles of the soviet government.

"Poland is strong enough to master this as well as other problems," a Polish diplomat told THE TRIBUNE correspondent. "Russia is weak. The consciousness of this weakness is causing the Russians to make unfounded charges of Polish complicity in and tolerance of the monarchist plots.

"The uneasy internal situation made the Voikoff murder a godsend to the soviet government, which can use it to throw dust in the eyes of the Russian people, with high talk of czarist conspirators and relentless hatred of the British."

Allied Diplomats Worried.

Interallied diplomatic circles frankly are worried. They see in Russia's ruthlessly imitating the attitude of Austria in the days after the Serajevo assassination in 1914 proof that the bolsheviks are deliberately courting war.

The paper of Marshal Josef Pilsudski, who is administering the Polish foreign office in the absence of Foreign Minister Zalewski, declared today: "Poland has done everything in its power to keep up good relations with Russia. It will not do more. The Polish answer to Russia probably will be sent today."

The official press of Warsaw forecasts the tone of the Polish rejoinder. It will be a short, emphatic denial of the Russian charge that Poland has violated article five of the Riga treaty permitting monarchist plots to be fomented on Polish soil. As for the Russian demand that in the future "White Russian" organizations be broken up, the Poles will oppose it with a statement that they are willing, provided such organizations can be found.

Warsaw Press Sees Red Plots.

The Warsaw press is hounding the government to bring counter charges of communist plots in Russia against Poland. The general tone of the press is that the soviet government has gone beyond all possible bounds, and Poland has been too courteous.

The diplomats see only two bright spots on the horizon. One is the calmness shown by official Poland and the other is that the Poles have cleverly side stepped the soviet demand for participation in the inquest of the Voikoff murder by closing it today.

It was announced that the young student murderer Boris Kowarda will appear Wednesday before a general court martial, with the certainty of a speedy trial and a death sentence, with which it is hoped to appease the Moscovite thirst for blood.

Zalewski Expects Settlement.

GENEVA, June 13.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Zalewski of Poland, in an interview here today, said he thought Poland could easily reach a satisfactory agreement with Russia concerning the assassination of Peter Voikoff, soviet envoy in Warsaw.

The foreign minister gave an impresion that the young assassin would not be executed, but would be imprisoned, when he said that only on rare occasions was judgment of death passed upon minors in Poland.

HALTS MEDICAL RUM DISTILLING AFTER DRY LEAGUE KICKS UP ROW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 13.—[Special.]—Issuance of permits for a resumption of medicinal whisky distilling has been indefinitely postponed, it became known at the treasury department today.

While neither Secretary of the Treasury Mellon nor officials of the prohibition bureau would discuss the reversal of policy, it was admitted in the latter bureau that the consumption of medicinal liquor had fallen off considerably in the last year and as a result, existing stocks are now expected to last much longer than had been anticipated.

Announcement a few weeks ago by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews of the completion of plans under which several groups of distillers would be authorized to resume distillation to replenish existing stocks of medicinal liquor, was followed almost immediately by a vigorous protest from the anti-Saloon league and other dry organizations.

Prohibition bureau officials refused to admit that the anti-Saloon league's protest was responsible for the change in the Andrews plan which already has been submitted to and accepted by the interested distillers. It was asserted, however, that a survey disclosed that in the last year the consumption of medicinal whisky had fallen from 2,000,000 gallons, the average maintained during several previous years, to about 1,600,000 gallons.

Jailed at Rockford for Peddling Bibles on Sunday

Rockford, Ill., June 13.—(AP)—Emil Cosetti, 33, arrested Sunday on a charge of peddling without a license, when he was alleged to have been caught trying to sell Bibles, was fined $25 in police court today, and committed to jail in default of payment. Cosetti, who is a Seventh Day Adventist, said he didn't know an ordinance forbade peddling on Sunday.

DOCTOR GRANTED SEPARATE TRIAL IN MACKAYE CASE

Los Angeles, Cal., June 13.—(AP)—Dr. Walter J. Sullivan, indicted with Dorothy Mackaye, on a felony charge as an aftermath of the death last April of the actress' husband, Ray Raymond, won his fight for a separate trial in Superior court here today. Miss Mackaye will go to trial June 16 and Dr. Sullivan June 27.

Dr. Sullivan and Miss Mackaye are charged with having attempted to cover up facts surrounding the death of Raymond two days after he was beaten severely in a fist fight by Paul Kelly, screen juvenile. Kelly is under sentence of one to ten years' imprisonment for manslaughter.

Dr. Sullivan is said to have been paid $500 by Raymond's wife for treating the actor two days in the hospital.

NEGRO SLAYERS BURNED TO DEATH BY MOB IN SOUTH

Louisville, Miss., June 13.—(AP)—Two Negroes, accused of having slain Clarence Nichols, a sawmill superintendent, were seized by a mob early today, paraded through the streets of Louisville, and then taken a short distance from town, where they were tied to a telephone post and burned to death.

Three officers were taking the Negroes to Jackson for safekeeping, but were overtaken by a mob, which demanded the prisoners. The officers fired several shots into the air in an effort to frighten the mob, but the mob was insistent.

The Negroes were tied to the improvised funeral pyre and several cans of gasoline were poured on them.

Nichols was shot to death Sunday after an altercation with Jim and Mark Fox, brothers, over work at the mill.

Ambassador Herrick to Sail Home June 22 for Rest

Washington, D. C., June 13.—[Special.]—Myron T. Herrick, American ambassador to France, will return to the United States, sailing from Le Havre June 22, on two months' leave of absence, it was announced at the state department today.

18 Persons Hurt, 75 Autos Damaged When Bus Skids

Philadelphia, Pa., June 13.—(AP)—Seventy-five automobiles were damaged and eighteen persons were injured, early today when an interurban bus containing fourteen passengers skidded and smashed into a double line of automobiles on the Delaware river bridge.

25 years old tomorrow

Yet growing in popularity with youthful rapidity because of three outstanding advantages

BROADWAY LIMITED

Three outstanding advantages of the Broadway Limited

1: Travels a route over 70 miles shorter than that of any train of comparable schedule to New York.

2: Arrives in, departs from the magnificent new Union Station in Chicago, convenient to business, hotels, homes, yet out of the traffic congestion of the Loop.

3: Two stations in New York, one in the heart of the Wall Street district, one convenient to all of mid-town and upper New York.

TOMORROW a birthday cake with 25 bright candles shining on it will be cut in the dining car of the famous Broadway Limited as it speeds across the land.

A special dinner will precede the cutting of the cake, a birthday banquet for the train, dedicated to the men who, for the better part of their lives, have driven it back and forth between the nation's leading cities, have attended to the comfort of its patrons.

One of the regular enginemen of the Broadway Limited has been at the throttle of Pennsylvania trains for over 40 years; its chefs average 23 years in the service of the railroad; its veteran waiter has seen over 20 years of service as a Pennsylvania man. Altogether the men who man only one section of the Broadway Limited represent almost a thousand years of service to their railroad.

To them, to their 200,000 fellow members of the Pennsylvania service and to our patrons with whom we have been brought into such delightful contact on this train is dedicated this 25th birthday dinner of the Broadway Limited, leader of the largest fleet of trains in America.

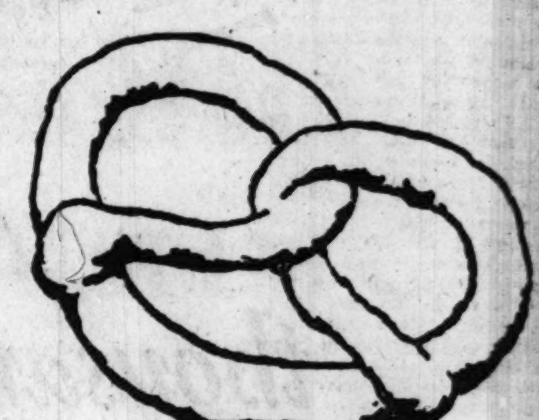
Bite yourself an Alphabet



"Mr. Pretzeleer is busy in conference"

Very, very high pressure executives make it a rule to pretzel at least once every afternoon. They find that biting out letters rests their 90 H. P. brains. Try it. Lock the doors. Send out word you're in conference and start biting. A good word to bite is because it helps make you believe you are—busy, at least, being a pretzeleer.

It was a pretzeleer who invented the word toothsome. He was thinking of the fine hearty salty flavor that comes free with every O-So-Gud. And the crispness and brittleness. To say nothing of the crunchiness.

The more you pretzel with O-So-Guds the better you like it. Pretzel before going to bed. With soup, salad, dessert. When you drink ginger ale. If the youngsters will eat between meals there's nothing better than a knotty but nice pretzel . . . And you don't have to worry about digesting them. That's easy.

Uneeda Bakers pretzels, of course. We call them O-So-Guds because they are.

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckleface, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes your freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any drug or department store, and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine, as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove your freckles.

PARIS FINALLY WINS 3 DAY SIEGE OF KING DAUDET

But His Reluctant Troops File Out 'Under Arms.'

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, June 13.—The menace of revolution quickly faded today before the menace of a battery of fire hoses, and Leon Daudet, leader of the French royalists, is in Sante prison tonight rounding out the first day of his five months' jail sentence for criminally libelling the chauffeur of a taxicab in which M. Daudet's son, Philippe, was found dead.

He probably is happy, too, because he now is a martyr instead of a mere well fed blusterer beating the drum for a lost cause, and because the prison authorities have decided to accord him the best of food and special treatment.

Firemen Train Hoses.

The three day siege of the offices of the newspaper Action L' Francaise was lifted this morning after the government, its prestige challenged, took determined measures to snatch M. Daudet, the editor, and his co-defender, M. Delest, proprietor of the paper, from the bodyguard of 1,000 husky young camelots du roi. It brought up a small army of two companies of republican horse guards with swords and shining helmets, 500 police and four fire brigades and completely invested the monarchist stronghold.

It was the fire laddies who turned the trick. They brought ladders in readiness to scale the walls and trained ten powerful fire hoses on the doors and windows of the improvised fortress, promising the cohorts of M. Daudet with a severe, ignominious wetting.

Just at dawn M. Chiappe, the prefect of police, marshalled his forces, giving expert attention to the fire hoses, and then stepped forward, wearing a monocle, white gloves and cane, and demanded to speak to the commander of the troops which had held off the government for three days, at a cost of some forty broken heads. The bulky royalist leader stepped out on the balcony.

Retreat in Military Order.

"I am alone," called Chiappe, the prefect. "I call on you as a Frenchman to surrender without shedding more blood which will not buy back the the life of your son."

M. Daudet took a long look at the fire hoses and then bellowed: "Though charged with performing an inhuman act, you talk like a human being. I know the strength of my troops, but I will surrender rather than have the blood of Frenchmen, and even civil war, on my head. Vive la France!"

The camelots, withdrawing in military formation, wept with rage at missing a good fight.

PRINTING FIRM OFFICIAL LEAPS TO DEATH IN LOOP

The possibility that he became suddenly demented was offered in explanation of what was believed to have been a suicide leap yesterday of Philip J. Willems, 58, of La Grange, from a window on the thirteenth floor of the Mallers building, 5 South Wabash avenue.

Officials of the Central Printing and Engraving company, of which Willems was vice president, were unable to explain the suicide, declaring that his business affairs were prospering, that his home life was happy, and, except for a nervous condition, his health was good. He was the father of five children.

Possibility that the fall was accidental was discounted by the police when they discovered that in order to get to the sill Willems had to crawl beneath a bar across the window. The inquest was postponed until June 25 on the request of Mrs. Willems.

SEIZE LIQUOR, HOLD OWNER.

Joseph Maygren was arrested yesterday by prohibition agents when they seized three pints of gin and a barrel of beer in his soft drink parlor at 931 Irving Park boulevard.

Flattering!

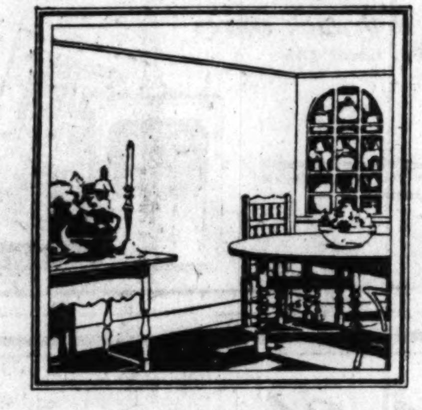
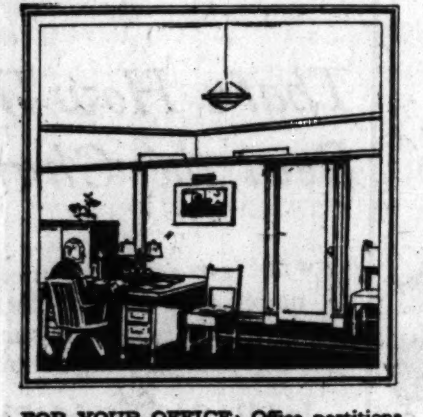
Prized mineral found hidden away which never before was available for wall board!... Now a mineral wall board, by a special air-cell process, with qualities beyond all previous standards.... Costs no more than old-fashioned wall board. Takes any decoration. Use it for new buildings, alterations, and repairs.

FOR YOUR KITCHEN: Is your kitchen ceiling cracked and broken? Cover it with National—thick, smooth, and strong. Takes paint perfectly and can be cleaned whenever necessary

MAKE YOUR GARAGE SAFE: Fireproof your garage with National Mineral Board. Insulates against cold. Broad, thick sheets which are nailed quickly in place. Saws and nails like lumber.



FOR YOUR DINING ROOM: Cover the old cracked plaster with National. Your old dining room (or any other room) made to look as good as new and with minimum expense and bother. Decorate to suit.



FOR YOUR OFFICE: Office partitions of National cannot crack, warp or buckle but are stiff and strong. Fireproof. Comes in broad sheets and sizes to suit any job.

THOUSANDS of people tramped over the ground without once suspecting what lay beneath their feet!

Snow-white mineral gypsum has been discovered in Michigan—actually 99.76% pure.

Scientists will tell you that it was deposited by the great salt sea which once covered this region. It was kept free from the usual worthless impurities of common gypsum by some favor of Nature. It is one of those choice deposits of extreme purity, sought the world over, but rarely located.

New quality walls for all who build, remodel, or repair

This discovery means much to your walls and ceilings. The old-time standards of old-fashioned wall boards need not be accepted. For the first time this pure mineral goes into wall board. The purer the gypsum, the finer the board—the more impure the gypsum, the weaker, heavier, more brittle the board.

Every advantage of National Mineral Wall Board listed here is due either to the purity of the mineral, to the new air-cell process, or to both. These advantages already have made National the fastest-growing wall board in America.

Costs no more . . . Costs no more

With all its advantages you pay no more for National Mineral Wall Board than for the old-fashioned kind.

NATIONAL Mineral Wall Board comes in the following standard sizes, 4 x 6, 4 x 7, 4 x 8, 4 x 9 and 4 x 10 feet.

Write us for a free sample of National. Examine it—test it. See how strong and tough it is. We will send the book, "7 Men," describing our gypsum deposits and facilities. National Gypsum Company, Conway Bldg., Chicago. (Main offices, Buffalo, N. Y.)

National
MINERAL WALL BOARD
30% Stronger than any old-fashioned wall board

Are you going to build, remodel or repair?

HERE are the important advantages which you get with National:

1 Saves time, labor and money.
2 Insulates while it Fireproofs—tiny air cells sealed in mineral gypsum rock stop the passage of heat and cold.
3 30% stronger than old-fashioned types of plaster wall board, yet thicker, lighter—easier to apply.
4 Safe. Permanent. National Mineral Wall Board cannot crack and fall.
5 Easy to use—goes up without dirt or litter—over old plaster if desired.
6 Can be decorated immediately. No waiting for walls to dry.
7 Takes any decoration—paper, paint or paneling. Perfect joints made hard and smooth with National filler by the carpenter who does the work.
8 Absorbs sound—softens noise.
9 Fireproofs while it Insulates. National Mineral Wall Board is approved by the Underwriters Laboratories, Inc.

The A B C of why your carpenter prefers National

A National, although thicker and 30% stronger, is lighter than old-fashioned types of plaster wall board and easier to handle. One man can easily lift and place the convenient-sized panels.
B It is easier to saw—therefore easier to fit around moldings, into corners, etc.—makes a better, quicker, cleaner, closer-fitting job.
C National Mineral Wall Board nails as easily and safely as wood.

DE VALERA PARTY POLLS THIRD OF FREE STATE VOTE

Cosgrave to Rule Irish with Coalition.

BY HUGH CURRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, June 13.—The latest election returns available at midnight show 1,022,424 votes were polled, of which 703,834 were for the government and other constitutional parties, and 318,586 for the anti-treaty parties.

One hundred and eighteen seats have been elected out of the 152, as follows: Government, 36; Fianna Fail [De Valera party], 34; Labor, 20; Independents, 10; National party, 6; Farmers, 7; Finn Fein, 4; Clan Eireann, 1.

Labor has gained eight seats and lost two. There appears to be little prospect of the government party securing a working majority, and a coalition government looms.

See Coalition Government.

DUBLIN, June 13—(AP)—While Eamon De Valera and his adherents now appear to have won the most seats in the Dail Eireann, it is still unsafe to predict that this proportion would hold when all the results are known.

De Valera's adherents made denunciation of the constitution based on the Anglo-Irish treaty creating the Free State a paramount question in their campaign. All parties except the Fianna Fail and the Sinn Fein support the government on the constitution, notwithstanding differences on other questions.

On present returns, President Cosgrave cannot form a government independent of the support of some other faction. Thus the prospect of a coalition government is still being considered. President Cosgrave and the other ministers, however, declined publicly to discuss such a contingency at the moment.

Mary MacSwiney Beaten.

Among the notable defeats in the elections is that of Mary MacSwiney, an ardent Sinn Fein leader. She is the sister of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, who died in jail after an extensive hunger strike during the disturbed period preceding organization of the Free State. The only government minister defeated is Peter Hughes, who held the defense portfolio.

President Cosgrave, Vice President Kevin O'Higgins, James Burke, local government minister, and Desmond Fitzgerald, minister of external affairs, came through with little trouble. De Valera had a surplus of 8,000 votes in his constituency in Clare.

In the list of successful De Valera candidates is Countess Markievics. She was the fisrt woman ever elected to the British house of commons, but never took the seat. She was sentenced to death for a part in the Dublin revolt in 1916, but the sentence was commuted and she subsequently was released.

REALTY DEALER FINDS CAB DRIVER IN WIFE'S ROOM

When John J. Mulkern, well to do real estate man with offices at 332 South Michigan avenue, went to his apartment at 6825 Paxton avenue, about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, he was admitted through the rear door by a maid. Mrs. Mulkern, attired only in a kimono, met him as he stepped into the dining room and demanded to know what he wanted.

"I want those keys to the vault," said Mulkern; he stated later he and Mrs. Mulkern had had words over the keys on Sunday night.

As he said it, Mr. Mulkern pushed his wife out of the way and went into her bedroom, where he found Albert Solomon, a cab driver of 2016 Le Moyne street.

Mr. Mulkern then ran out and brought Policeman McAuliff of the Woodlawn station back with him. The policeman locked Solomon up, on specific disorderly conduct charges.

DE VALERA PARTY POLLS THIRD OF FREE STATE VOTE

Cosgrave to Rule Irish with Coalition.

BY HUGH CURRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, June 13.—The latest election returns available at midnight show 1,022,424 votes were polled, of which 703,834 were for the government and other constitutional parties, and 318,586 for the anti-treaty parties.

One hundred and eighteen seats have been elected out of the 152, as follows: Government, 36; Fianna Fail [De Valera party], 34; Labor, 20; Independents, 10; National party, 6; Farmers, 7; Finn Fein, 4; Clan Eireann, 1.

Labor has gained eight seats and lost two. There appears to be little prospect of the government party securing a working majority, and a coalition government looms.

See Coalition Government.

DUBLIN, June 13.—(AP)—While Eamon De Valera and his adherents now appear to have won the most seats in the Dail Eireann, it is still unsafe to predict that this proportion would hold when all the results are known.

De Valera's adherents made denunciation of the constitution based on the Anglo-Irish treaty creating the Free State a paramount question in their campaign. All parties except the Fianna Fail and the Sinn Fein support the government on the constitution, notwithstanding differences on other questions.

On present returns, President Cosgrave cannot form a government independent of the support of some other faction. Thus the prospect of a coalition government is still being considered. President Cosgrave and the other ministers, however, declined publicly to discuss such a contingency at the moment.

Mary MacSwiney Beaten.

Among the notable defeats in the elections is that of Mary MacSwiney, an ardent Sinn Fein leader. She is the sister of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, who died in jail after an extensive hunger strike during the disturbed period preceding organization of the Free State. The only government minister defeated is Peter Hughes, who held the defense portfolio.

President Cosgrave, Vice President Kevin O'Higgins, James Burke, local government minister, and, Desmond Fitzgerald, minister of external affairs, came through with little trouble. De Valera had a surplus of 8,000 votes in his constituency in Clare.

In the list of successful De Valera candidates is Countess Markievics. She was the fisrt woman ever elected to the British house of commons, but never took the seat. She was sentenced to death for a part in the Dublin revolt in 1916, but the sentence was commuted and she subsequently was released.

BRING ON THE BULLS!

When chariots are mired and teams can't budge them, circuses call out the "bulls." The elephants get behind the wagons and push 'em to sound footing.

Just so, when combinations of lesser mediums no longer draw, advertisers turn to the American Weekly and use its elephantine strength to save their campaigns.

Its mighty influence reduces merchant resistance from Coast to Coast.

The American Weekly doesn't sprinkle the continent; it isn't an atomized spray—but a compressed stream smashing through the thickest populated, heaviest capitalized trading areas—a saturating, dominating, demand-compelling force.

Its readers are the prosperity-stabilizers of America. They spend constantly, not seasonally. They are metropolitan folk—steady earners with ready money to satisfy appetites, vanities and needs.

They are maximum wage craftsmen, prosperous shopkeepers, successful professionals and canny investors.

Their communities absorb half the nation's general merchandising output.

Three-fourths of our total wealth is carried in their pay-envelopes, their bank deposits and their property holdings.

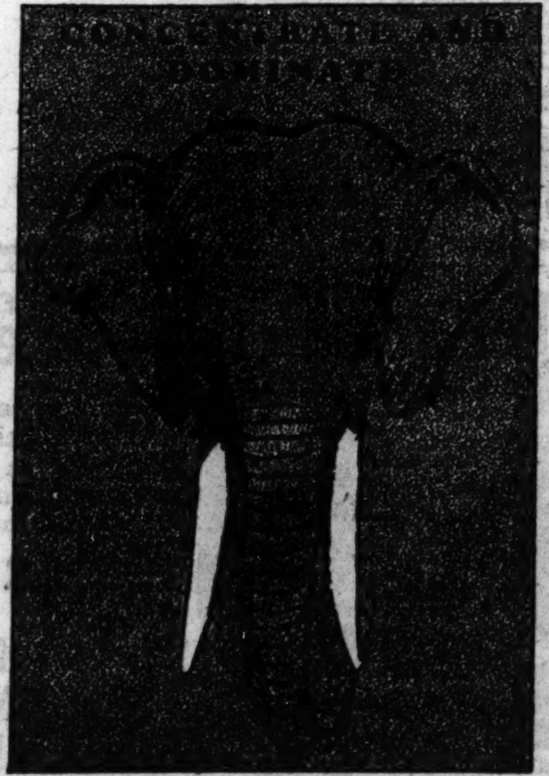
They don't pinch pennies or stint desires.

They buy the most and best automobiles and face creams—silk stockings and washing machines—electric refrigerators and canned foods.

This is the primping class—diligent users of cosmetics, beautifiers and toilet articles—always "keeping up with the Joneses," and the times.

They demand the newest, the latest, the best—and they shop advertising columns to find them.

Their local papers are so crowded with the competing displays of retailer and national products that ordinary and piking copy is lost in the shuffle.



Amid these babels of black and white, the poster-sized, full-color pages of the American Weekly alone guarantee universal attention.

Restricted in number and interspersed among the one section that never goes unread, they stand out from a drab welter of printer's ink with the distinction of a Sargent portrait among a batch of monochromes.

Five million such posters—all distributed in top pressure sales territory—five million circulation completely spreading the strongholds of business—for $15,000 per page.

Marketing power and color power—forged into battering-ram advertising.

And results, say that it's the cheapest publicity on earth.

THREE IN AUTO KILLED BY TRAIN; TWO OTHERS DIE

Watchman Arrested as Gates Remain Open.

Three men were killed yesterday when their automobile was struck by a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train on the Waukegan road crossing in Glenview, Ill. The dead are Albert Urban Jr., 22 years old, 5747 Gunnison avenue; John Sowka, 32 years old, who resided at Cherry and Division streets, and S. T. Wilson, colored, of Milwaukee.

ALBERT URBAN.

FRANK ALMQUIST.

Gates at the crossing were not lowered for the train, according to Chief of Police J. V. Miller of Glenview. He arrested John Talbert of Glenview, the watchman at the corner. Talbert was quoted by the chief as saying he failed to see the approach of the train because he was watching a group of laborers near the crossing.

Toll Reaches 410.

These three deaths and two others during the day made a total of 410 victims of Cook county automobile accidents since the first of the year.

Bruno Madej, 5 years old, 1509 Tell place, was fatally injured by an automobile that struck her at North Ashland and Madden avenues. The driver, E. J. Markowski, 1920 West Division street, was held.

Frank Almquist, 54, of 1416 Winona street, died from injuries received when struck Sunday night by an automobile at North Western avenue and Winona street. P. J. Jobst, 5436 North Campbell street, the driver, was ordered to appear at the inquest today.

MADGE BELLAMY IS QUESTIONED IN RUM RING PROBE

Los Angeles, Calif., June 13.—[Special.]—Madge Bellamy, moving picture actress and her mother, Mrs. Anne Philpot, were questioned by Assistant United States Attorney George Ohanessian today conecrning the use of Mrs. Philpot's automobile in the transportation of liquor from Santa Ana, Calif., to Los Angeles.

The actress and her mother, according to the officers, were known as friends of a former federal prisoner in the Santa Ana jail. Other persons questioned by Ohanessian in his investigation of a "rum ring," were asked about alleged payments of $1 a case to peace officers and 25 cents a case to "civilian helpers," for liquor successfully run ashore in motor launches and transferred to trucks.

SCHOLL HEARING ENDS; SLAYER OF CHILDREN HEARS FATE THURSDAY

Closing arguments in the case of Walter A. Scholl, who pleaded guilty to the murder of his two children in a Gary bungalow last March, were concluded yesterday before Judge Grant Crumpacker in Valparaiso, Ind., who will pronounce sentence Thursday morning.

D. E. Kelly and E. J. Ryan, defense attorneys, asked that Scholl be sentenced to life imprisonment while Prosecuting Attorney Oliver Starr demanded the death penalty.

The defense reviewed the testimony of three alienists who said that Scholl was a victim of monomania. Mr. Starr pointed to the finding of a physician that the slayer "could distinguish right from wrong; had held a responsible position, and was perfectly normal."

Zane Grey's Yacht Floats Again After Going on Reef

San Francisco, Cal., June 13.—(AP)—Zane Grey's yacht, Fisherman, piled up on a reef in the south seas Saturday, but has been refloated and safely anchored in the lagoon of Rangiora island. A message received today by radio from the author said his schooner was not badly damaged.

"GORILLA MAN" KILLS WINNIPEG GIRL AND WOMAN

BULLETIN.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 13.—(AP)—A man suspected by police of being "the Strangler" was arrested tonight at Reaburn, Man., 35 miles west of here. The man was walking along the railroad tracks when arrested and brought here for questioning.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WINNIPEG, Man., June 12.—The "gorilla man," who is said to have slain a score of women in American cities, including Chicago, is believed to be responsible for the murder of a woman and a girl in Winnipeg.

His first victim, Mrs. Emily Patterson, aged 27, was the mother of two children.

His second was Lola Cowan, a 14 year old girl, whose body was nude when found in a Smith street rooming house today.

Manitoba province has offered $1,000 for the man's capture.

Posses of police and civilians, aided by American officers returning from the annual police chiefs' convention at Windsor, Ont., are scouring the city and province for the slayer.

Mrs. Patterson's body was found by her husband under the bed upon which he had spent much of the evening reading. Upon his return from work tonight he missed his wife, but presumed she was out visiting. He put the children to bed and sat on the bed reading, awaiting her return. An eerie feeling made him look under the bed, where he found his wife's body.

Lola Cowan had been missing since Thursday. Apparently her murderer had retained her a prisoner in the rooming house for two days before disposing of her.

The American police chiefs abandoned their program of entertainment to join Manitoba detectives in the province-wide search for the slayer.

The American officials said the "Gorilla," whose hobby is to kill women by strangling, slew eight in San Francisco last winter and then toured the states in a dilapidated car, leaving victims dead in Portland, Seattle, Omaha, Kansas City, and Chicago.

ACCEPT CLAIM HOUDINI DIED AS RESULT OF BLOW

New York, June 13.—(AP)—Payment of $25,000 to Mrs. Beatrice Houdini, widow of Harry Houdini, magician, by the New York Life Insurance company as indemnity for accidental death today disclosed the company's acceptance of the claim that he died as the result of a blow.

Houdini's death on Oct. 30, 1926, according to George Coxey, an agent for the company, followed a week after he had challenged a McGill university student in Montreal to strike him a hard blow. He did this to prove his excellent physical condition, Coxey explained, adding that the blow landed in the region of the appendix and caused a rupture.

ROBBED OF GEMS IN OFFICE.

C. E. Nachan, president of the Central Iron and Metal company, was robbed of two rings valued at $350 and a $150 stick pin by two armed men yesterday in his office at 5650 South Rockwell street.

. . . doesn't happen when you carry them in a National Ring Book

The National Mogul No. 4661 has cover of genuine solid black leather. Steel hinge—overstuffing doesn't break it. Booster levers, to open rings easily. Ball bearing mechanism. Rings snap open, but never by accident. Index with non-soiling celluloid, or leather or cloth tips. Oval-shaped rings—not apt to tear sheets.

PAPERS are safe as well as convenient in the National Mogul Ring Book. They don't get away from you—aren't mislaid or forgotten.

The index makes it easy to turn directly to the sheet you want. Data may be typed. Sheets are easily removed, replaced or shifted about.

With papers in a Mogul, you can jump from A to Z and half-way back, as occasion requires—without fumbling, or jumbling things up.

And with advantages far beyond those of the average ring book, the National Mogul costs surprisingly little. At your stationer's—or phone HAYmarket 8104. National Blank Book Co., 618 West Jackson Blvd.

COLES PHILLIPS, NOTED MAGAZINE ARTIST, IS DEAD

Famous for Pictures of Beautiful Girls.

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—Clarence Coles Phillips, artist and magazine illustrator, died at Sutton Manor, his home in New Rochelle, shortly before midnight last night. He had been ill almost a year.

Mr. Phillips was forty-two years old. Last year he went to Switzerland in an effort to regain his health. He spent several months in the Alps and returned to work here apparently much improved. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Tera Phillips, two sons and a daughter.

Mr. Phillips was one of the most successful of American commercial artists. The "Coles Phillips girl" achieved a vogue that rivaled the famous "Gibson girl" of the 90s. Her face and figure, or, rather, the faces and figures of any number of beautiful girls, treated in the Coles Phillips manner, appeared everywhere.

For the last four or five years scarcely a magazine of any prominence has gone to press without some advertisement illustrated with a Phillips painting. His work was noted for its smoothness of line and its finish.

The artist was a noted pigeon fancier and made a hobby of his Silver Ring squab farm near the Wykagyl Country club.

U. OF SYRACUSE CONFERS DEGREE ON COL. STIMSON

Syracuse, N. Y., June 13.—(AP)—President Coolidge, in a letter read at Syracuse university commencement today, at which the degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon Col. Henry L. Stimson, former secretary of war, stated the degree constitutes recognition of "the eminent services of a peace loving American to the general cause of humanity."

Col. Stimson recently returned from Nicaragua, where as personal representative of the President, he succeeded in putting an end to the revolution there by conciliatory methods.

"It is a real satisfaction," the President's letter said, "to learn that Syracuse university is to confer upon Col. Henry L. Stimson the degree of doctor of laws. It is not only proper recognition of his lifelong good citizenship, the service he has rendered in time of war, and the administration of the great office of the secretary of war, but especially his recent accomplishment in going as the representative of the President to Nicaragua and bringing to a close the disorder and bloodshed which was becoming a great menace to the well being of all the inhabitants of that country."

STATE OFFICERS CALLED 'COMMON BOOTLEGGERS'

Indianapolis, Ind., June 13.—[U. P.]—Arrest of Gov. Ed Jackson and Attorney General Arthur M. Gilliom as "common bootleggers" is demanded in resolutions adopted by the Indianapolis Tuxedo branch of the W. C. T. U.

The resolutions criticized Jackson and Gilliom for their use of whisky for medicinal purposes. Gilliom procured whisky for three of his children while they were ill a year ago and whisky was administered to Mrs. Jackson recently. Gilliom recently explained that use of medicinal liquor had saved the lives of Mrs. Jackson and his children.

Declaring that Jackson and Gilliom had broken the Wright bone dry law, the resolutions "demand that both officers be dealt with according to the law, the same as common bootleggers."

3d Brother Saves 2d Trying to Rescue 1st, Who Drowns

Eau Claire, Wis., June 13.—[Special.]—James Pape, 5, son of John Pape, was drowned in the Chippewa river here this afternoon when he fell off a plank while fishing near a dam. His brother, Earl, though unable to swim, jumped in after him and an older brother, Donald, jumped in to save Earl while James was carried away into the rapids.

Sister-in-Law of Suicide Ends Life by Taking Poison

Harrisburg, Ill., June 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Ruby Holbrook, 26, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Helen Holbrook, who committed suicide at St. Petersburg, Fla., a few months ago, ended her life at Shawneetown, Ill., last night by drinking poison. Mrs. Helen Holbrook had been accused by Charles Birger, Harrisburg gang leader, of associating with the rival Shelton gangsters.

RADIO PROGRAMS FOR TODAY

(Tuesday, June 14.) (Daylight Saving Time.)

W-G-N Will Broadcast Coolidge Speech Today

President Coolidge will be heard on the air over W-G-N today! The President is making the only address of his trip west at Hammond, Ind., and W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel, has set up its microphones at the speaker's stand in Wicker Memorial park so that listeners can hear the chief executive's words as he dedicates the park to the memory of Indiana's soldier-dead. The President has been induced to stop long enough on his way to his vacation spot in the Black Hills of South Dakota to officially open the park, and the program this afternoon, between 2:30 and 3 o'clock, is in charge of the Chambers of Commerce of Hammond, Gary, East Chicago, Calumet City, Munster and Highlands, all northern Indiana cities.

The fourth concert by the Selinger string quartet will be heard tonight between 9 and 9:30 o'clock. The quartet has been offering a series of historical concerts, exhuming from the dust of centuries music of the minstrels, troubadors and early composers who twanged lyres and strummed guitars in the years that are gone. Tuesday night the quartet is to offer a chamber music program culled from the works of early French composers.

Sascha Corado, the famous European baritone, who has been proving such an attraction on W-G-N programs will again be heard tonight between 9:30 and 10 o'clock. Mr. Corado formerly was a member of the Berlin Civic opera, and since his arrival in this country he has been doing concert work. His songs will be presented in three languages, French, English and German. Mme. Elizabeth Moritz will accompany him.

Between 5:30 and 5:40 o'clock this afternoon, the Boy Scouts of America are to present a special Flag Day program over W-G-N. A Boy Scout bugler will be heard in color calls, and Rachel Esther Holmes of the Government club is to talk on the flag.

ROSEHILL MAUSOLEUM

Command Tomorrow with Today's Plan

"For chance fights ever on the side of the prudent."
—EURIPIDES

MAKE certain tomorrow brings you and your loved ones peace of mind—and your family name recognition throughout tomorrows of eternity—by securing today the unending and unusual protection of beautiful Rosehill Mausoleum.

There today plan for cherished family name and memories the unending guardianship and care of the two mighty Rosehill Mausoleum Trust Funds, and an unusual state charter which permits no violation or change. There, too, for the living, who would reverently visit those memorials, provide welcome comfort through the evenly regulated temperature, electric lights and sound-quelling rugs within the Mausoleum.

This privilege of commanding tomorrow, even unto eternity, may now be arranged to suit every desire, from single crypts at amazingly moderate cost to elaborate family rooms. However, this opportunity is rapidly diminishing daily. Now, while the way to the Mausoleum is charming with flowers and shady trees, let us arrange your trip of inspection. Also, write for the new book, "Rosehill the Beautiful." We extend every courtesy without thought of obligating you in the least.

Life's race well run,
Life's work well done,
Life's victory won,
Now cometh rest.

WILLIAM DOLESE, PIONEER STONE DEALER, IS DEAD

William Dolese, pioneer Chicagoan, formerly of Dolese & Shephard Co., dealers in crushed stone, died of heart disease in his home, 5341 West 22d street, Cicero, yesterday after a long illness.

Dolese was born sixty-eight years ago in the old Bridgeport district near 33d and Church streets. After the death of his father, John Dolese, William and his three brothers, Peter, John and Henry, established the Dolese Brothers Stone company, which has quarries in various sections of the country, including one in south Cicero. He was the first president of the company and held office until a few years ago.

Besides his three brothers, he is survived by his widow, Augusta, a son, John, a daughter, Miss Marie Dolese, and four sisters, Minnie, Ida and Rose Dolese and Mrs. Charles A. Klotz. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be in Oakwoods cemetery.

Dolese's grandfather, Pierre Dolese, came here from France in 1833. He established and operated a tavern for many years at what is now Lake and La Salle streets.

12 HOODED MEN FLOG WOMAN AND 15 YEAR OLD SON

Arrest Two, One of Them a School Principal.

Toccoa, Ga., June 13.—(AP)—W. J. Acree, principal of the high school at Eastonville, near here, and T. R. Lowery, foreman of a local furniture factory, were arrested late today on warrants charging that they participated in the flogging early yesterday morning of Mrs. Ansley Bowers and her 15 year old son, Floyd.

Deny Share in Mob.

Taken before a justice of the peace, they gave bond after denying unqualifiedly that they were members of the band of twelve hooded men who seized Mrs. Bowers and the boy at their home here, took them in automobiles to an outlying district and lashed them severely.

Two other men, Elmer Clark, a railroad conductor, and Charles Thomas, an employé of a railroad, are sought on warrants sworn to by Floyd, who told authorities that he and his mother recognized some of the floggers.

Woman Separated from Husband.

Acree and Lowery probably will be given a hearing in justice court when the outcome of Mrs. Bowers' injuries is determined. Should they waive a formal hearing their cases will be presented to the grand jury.

Mrs. Bowers tonight was said to be responding favorably to treatment at a hospital. She is said to have told the authorities that the flogging resulted from a "false report" circulated about her. She is about thirty-eight years of age and is separated from her husband, a railroad man.

DAUGHTER'S ILLNESS RELIEVES LATIMER OF NICARAGUA SERVICE

Washington, D. C., June 13.—[Special.]—Rear Admiral Julian Latimer, chief of the special service squadron in Central American waters, will be relieved shortly because of the serious illness of his daughter, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur announced tonight. The secretary expressed regret that it was necessary to allow the admiral to leave at this time, and asserted that the navy is "more than pleased" with the way he handled the Nicaraguan situation. Miss Laura Latimer, now at Balboa, Panama, has been ill for several days.

Flynn Beats Jensen for Carpenters' Presidency

Thomas F. Flynn defeated Harry Jensen as candidate for president of the Carpenters' District council in a hotly contested election held on Saturday night, it was announced yesterday. Clerks were still tabulating the vote yesterday and figures on the balloting were not given out. Mr. Jensen has been head of the council, with a membership of 32,000, for six years. Other newly elected officials are: Charles H. Sand, secretary-treasurer; William Osterhaus, warden; John R. Stevenson, Mark D. Taylor, and Anton Johannsen, business agents; Fred Anderson, Fred J. Bush, John C. Miller, finance committee; A. Berman, Werner Johanson, Frank Stahl, Mark D. Taylor, arbitration board.

Woman, 86, Kills Friend of 25 Years Over 80 Cents

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTPELLIER, France, June 13.—Mme. Irma Bringuier, aged 86, and Mme. Leonie Couderc, 67, friends for a quarter of a century, could not agree which owned 20 francs (80 cents) in a handbag which had been lying around their house for several months. Words flew. Finally they lunged and each grabbed the other's white hair. Both fell. Mme. Couderc died five minutes later of a fractured skull.

FLAG, ADOPTED 150 YEARS AGO, HONORED TODAY

Patriotic Exercises to Be Held Throughout City.

One hundred and fifty years ago today, Congress adopted the stars and stripes as the official emblem of the United States. Schools, clubs, societies and the public will join in observance of the anniversary in Chicago.

Acting on the suggestion of President Coolidge, the flag will be displayed upon public and private buildings, the G. A. R., Spanish War Veterans, American Legion, Boy Scouts, and various societies will join in patriotic exercises throughout the city.

Flag Code Given Police.

That police rules may be Americanized, the North Shore post of the American Legion printed 6,000 copies of the flag code as interpreted by that post and presented them to Chief of Police Hughes who will distribute them to his entire force.

Oak Park will celebrate Flag day at Fox park, Jackson boulevard and Oak Park avenue, where Willis Wilcox, trustee of the village, will present a flag on behalf of the friends and relatives of the late W. H. Fox, former president of the park board. Henry Taylor, representing the park board, will accept the flag on the part of the village.

Ceremonies by Scouts.

The Boy Scouts of the northwest district will have ceremonies in Humboldt, Kelvyn, and Lincoln parks.

Chicago lodge of Elks will have a celebration tonight in the Hotel Sherman at which Oscar Carlstrom, attorney general for the state, will speak.

Report Roadhouse Bandits' Loot Amounts to $50,000

Underworld reports yesterday placed the loot of five robbers who entered the Dells, a combined roadhouse and gambling resort in Morton Grove early in the morning, at $50,000 or more instead of the $15,000 reported to the police. The stickup was reported at 5 a. m. It is believed to have occurred, however, at about 1 a. m., when the place was crowded with patrons. All were lined up and forced to surrender their money and jewelry. Samuel Hare, the manager, asserted that only he and a porter were in the house when the gang arrived.

Fire Destroys String of Five Small Factories

A crowd of 15,000 gathered early last evening to watch a spectacular fire that destroyed a string of two story factory buildings extending from 2315 to 2327 Ogden avenue. The flames started in the plant of the American Furniture Manufacturing company.

TO STEEL OFFICE EQUIPMENT ART METAL ADDS -- BEAUTY --

STEEL office equipment can be beautiful. Art Metal craftsmen, forty years ago, visioned their product not only mechanically and structurally perfect, but also handsome—graceful—dignified.

With the characteristic skill of hand workers, they labored to attain their goal. Their knowledge of proportion, of design—their painstaking attention to little details—laid the sound foundations.

The modern Art Metal worker has carried on. Spot welded construction, open hearth steel, solid bronze fittings, specially mixed enamel—all these have been blended into a complete line of steel office equipment which really does combine beauty with the advantages of steel.

Files, cabinets, safes and desks—all await the close scrutiny of your critical eye. Look at them. Art Metal itself is our finest salesman.

Here's the secret of staying calm when a moth flies out of your closet!

THE moths aren't the menace. They don't do the eating. That's done by the moth-worms. And the moths don't fly until after they've laid eggs that produce the moth-worms.

So to prevent moth-holes you must make moth-worms absolutely harmless. That's easy—use Larvex. It is a new discovery. Not a "bug killer" or insecticide, but the only sure protection! You simply spray your clothes with Larvex and they are moth-proofed! No moth-worm can eat them.

Larvex is an odorless, colorless, non-inflammable liquid. It becomes a part of the cloth. One spraying gives a season's protection. Your clothes are safe in your closets. You avoid the job of packing them away and the annoyance of smelly moth-balls and bulky tar-bags.

Larvex is $1. In combination with special atomizer, $1.50. ½ gallons, $3; gallons, $5. At drug, department and furniture stores. Get Larvex today—it costs a hundred times less than the garments it guards from moth-holes! The Larvex Corporation, 250 Park Ave., New York, N. Y.

HUNDREDS OF PREPARATIONS CLAIM TO KILL OR DRIVE AWAY MOTHS — BUT LARVEX IS THE ONLY ONE THAT ACTUALLY PREVENTS MOTH-HOLES!

Share The Globe-Democrat's Influence

in more than 3 out of 4 homes in those sections of St. Louis and suburbs where these conditions are most favorable

WE are talking now about net paid city circulation.

Let's forget for a moment The Globe-Democrat's unchallenged dominance in the towns of The 49th State outside St. Louis.

Let's see about covering the city itself.

Here is St. Louis' largest daily.... The oldest newspaper here.... An established institution which has been read and accepted for generations. The people here have known it since they first began to read as children.... Their fathers have followed it in the same way.

So that's the sort of influence which The Globe-Democrat enjoys.

Among People Who Can Respond

The Globe-Democrat reaches both sections of St. Louis—the so-called "better section" and the "poorer section." (Any city naturally divides itself in this way.)

In St. Louis a check of the eight fundamental economic characteristics shows clearly where the principal buying power is concentrated. You'll find it in that Mass-Class section where the rent average is higher. Where home ownership and automobile ownership show the higher percentages.... Where literacy is highest.... Where native white families dwell.... Where there are few factories—or none at all.

Reaching More Than 3 Out of 4 Mass-Class Families

Now it is right in this Mass-Class Section, and in the higher ranking suburbs that The Globe-Democrat exerts its big influence.... The daily net paid circulation here reaches more than 3 out of 4 families.

In the lower-ranking section The Globe-Democrat gives adequate coverage,—reaching the sort of people who would naturally read an established newspaper.

You can picture them yourself—substantial, thrifty, more or less conservative families. Good people to do business with.

It all boils down to this:—

The Globe-Democrat has found the worth-while readers in St. Louis.... In seventy-five years a newspaper naturally does that. It builds up its good will among the great majority—the dependable people who pay the grocer regularly, and have new clothes regularly, and enjoy their homes, and rear good families.

Day after day The Globe-Democrat is going into these St. Louis homes.... Influencing these St. Louis people.... Winning business for advertisers.

If you would share this influence, we can show you how.... It's an easy matter—and economical.

The Globe-Democrat has larger circulation, by far, than any other St. Louis Daily

CUBS WHIP GIANTS FOR NINTH IN ROW

148 GOLFERS TO START PLAY IN U. S. OPEN TODAY

It Looks Like Jones Against Field.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 13.—The almost squat figure of Bobby Jones towers a full brassie shot over the ghostlike hopes of 147 other golfers on the rolling hills of the Oakmont golf course tonight. The last of the fine practice rounds that don't mean a thing are over and at 8:30 in the morning, the shots for the honor and for the cash of the United States open golf championship begins.

The course is glorious, a magnificent test of masters' golf. Once more the tees have been set back until the course now stretches just 35 yards less than 7,000 yards. But even the great length is less impressive than its severity. Uphill and downhill its perfect fairways roll along the picturesque left bank of the Allegheny river, with wooded hills in the back ground on all sides.

These hill and swale fairways and the lay of the holes demand the accuracy of a rifle shot in playing for the pin if the ball is to escape one of the pits known as traps that guard every green like dragons in a fairy story. And tomorrow, according to the greenskeeper, the holes are to be placed in spots where it requires a perfect shot to reach them.

Greens are Greased.

Though there are trees on the course also they figure little in the golf. Nor is the rough severe. Hard fairways grant a long roll but the traps are causing more than one golfer to ride a bucking nightmare tonight and the greens are greased glass, many times in the practice rounds a shot into one of the furrowed traps cost not only a stroke to get out but another one to play the ball back from a trap on the other side of the green.

A few spatters of rain fell this afternoon and the sky is overcast, giving indications of a shower or two which might slow the greens slightly for tomorrow, but at present a putt which gives indications of being half the distance short rolls serenely up to the cup.

Few of the golfers did more than play a desultory round or less today to limber up. Jones and Watts Gunn played a best ball match against Walter Hagen and Leo Diegel in the morning, the pros winning one up. When Jones missed a six foot putt for a half on the last hole, Diegel had 37—34—71, Hagen 40—36—76 and Watts Gunn, who was wild off the tee, 38—42—80. Jones said when he came in he wasn't hitting the ball as he should and he had a couple of three putt greens. But he had a 73—his worst round since his first one Sunday—and the pros admit four 74's is a bet for first place.

Gallett Turns In 71.

Francis Gallett of Milwaukee, who burned up the course with a 66 in the qualifying round at Park Ridge, scored a 71, Al Espinosa a round of 72 and another not so good, and Frank Thompson and Chick Evans, Chicago's two amateur entries, were around in 77's. Jimmy Carberry duplicated that score, while Johnny Farrell scored 75, after a 72 and 75 yesterday.

Most of the British Ryder cup team played a round or a part of a round, but kept no scores. Aubrey Boomer, a tall, thin chap, is playing the best golf of the invaders and constitutes a real threat to finish "next to Bobby Jones." He hits a fine tee shot and putts well.

One guess is a good as another for the others but this reporter's is that Johnny Farrell will be second to Bobby Jones, Aubrey Boomer perhaps a third, and then Bobby Cruikshank with Tommy Armour will be close up. A big threat for the lead comes from the four great golfers who can take a 68 and a 78 together on the same day, Walter Hagen, Leo Diegel, Bill Mehlhorn, and Harry Cooper.

The betting odds against Jones are 5 to 1 to win, 2 to 1 to place, and even to show. Against Hagen and Farrell the odds are 7 to 1; 5 to 2 and 3 to 2, the only one honored by short points, with the others ranging 10 to 1 up to 200 to 1.

The draw this year spreads the stars throughout the field, Jones starting at 9 in the morning, Hagen at 2 in the afternoon and Bobby Cruickshank 15 minutes later. Eighteen holes tomorrow and eighteen Wednesday after which the low 64 and ties will go 36 more Thursday for the championship.

FORM BETTING SYNDICATE

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—For the first time in the history of American golf the game this year will take its place along with horse racing, boxing and other forms of athletic contests which offer a medium for wagering.

This year a syndicate is in the field, headed by William D. Patterson, well known New York public accountant and member of the Lakeville Golf and Country club at Great Neck, L. I., which has widely distributed the most comprehensive list that ever has been prepared for a similar occasion, quoting the odds to win, for place and to show on the entire 150 entries to the championship which will start Tuesday at the Oakmont Country club near Pittsburgh.

RING AND MAT INQUIRY SHIFTED TO SPRINGFIELD

Yanger and Miller Tell Their Stories.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Benny Yanger and Davy Miller, boxing referees, were the only witnesses called yesterday by the legislative committee which is investigating boxing and wrestling in Illinois.

DAVY MILLER.

After listening to the testimony of Yanger and Miller, the representatives left for Springfield to attend the closing sessions of the legislature. Chairman Walter Gallas announced the next meeting of the committee would be held in Springfield tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. All members of the boxing commission were ordered to be on hand with their reports, and William Demetral, the wrestler who has testified to some of the crooked deals in the mat game, also was instructed to be in attendance.

The reason for calling the meeting in Springfield is that the committee wants to report back to the house of representatives before the legislature adjourns. If the investigation cannot be completed in Springfield, the committee will meet again in Chicago next week.

No Commission Witnesses Called.

Thus far the committee has not given the boxing commission an opportunity to defend itself. At yesterday's hearing, the commisson had thirty witnesses on hand to testify. The committee in shifting the investigation to Springfield made no arrangements for payment of expenses of the witnesses.

Davy Miller was the first witness to take the stand yesterday. Under oath he asserted he was not a bootlegger, thug or gunman. He said he refereed about twenty-five fights since boxing became a law. Previous to that time Miller said he worked in bouts for Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney, and Bennie Leonard.

Miller, who was represented by an attorney, asserted statements regarding his character would have to be retracted or he would sue for libel. He had many witnesses on hand to testify to his character. Most of his testimony was in regard to his license, how he was assigned to shows and the remuneration he received.

Yanger Tells His Story.

Benny Yanger, who refereed the world's middleweight championship bout between Tiger Flowers and Mickey Walker, was the next and last witness called. After a few preliminary questions as to his age, occupation, and years of connection with the fight game, he was asked to tell of the Walker-Flowers fight and how he came to give the decision to Walker.

Yanger related how he called the fighters to the center of the ring and warned them about hitting with the open gloves and butting with their heads. Early in the fight, according to Yanger, Flowers opened a cut on Mickey's forehead by butting. In the fourth round Flowers complained of being hit low and again in the eighth he said he was struck with an illegal punch.

Yanger said he warned Flowers repeatedly for hitting with the open glove, flicking, and heeling. All these foul tactics, he said, were taken into consideration when he gave the decision. He also stated Flowers did not land a scoring punch with his right hand.

Yanger asserted he did not know he was to referee the bout until Flowers and Walker were in the ring. No one, he said, had talked to him before the fight about the result.

Chairman J. C. Righeimer of the boxing commission said plans regarding witnesses would be made known today.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

POT-POURRI.

IN seeking reasons for present exalted positions of White Sox and Cubs in their respective league races, and therefrom to deduce some theory why they might win pennants, one does not find it in team batting averages. White Sox rank fourth and Cubs are tied for fifth.

On the fielding end, Sox are second, only fractionally behind the Yankees, while Cubs are second to Pittsburgh. It is perhaps notable that the American league's first four teams rank according to their fielding rather than their batting averages.

If team batting averages do not warrant second place—granting that averages do not tell the whole tale even so far as stick work is concerned—and fielding averages just fill the peg, we must look to the slab for the answer. Effectiveness averages are not carried week to week. We know the Sox have been getting great pitching and we know two Cub hurlers, at least, have done more than their share. Add to this the hustling qualities exhibited by both south and north siders this season and we have the best answer.

The National Collegiate track and field meet at Soldiers' field was a success from the viewpoint of performance. It was a flop in attendance. Chicago thus may lose the best meet of its kind possible to secure for this city. Other communities in the past have made more attractive bids financially. Chicago's central location cast the balance heretofore. Even Director Stagg's appeal for public support met disappointing response. Perhaps it will be just as well for the event to go where it will be more appreciated.

This is the week when Bobby Jones will receive one of his most severe tests in defending his National Open golf crown. He meets not only the pick of American players but a formidable array of invading Britons. If he triumphs again there will not be the slightest question but that he is the greatest medal player in the world.

Ker-choo! Ker-choo! Now I must go
From here to somewhere else, you know.

A-choo! A-choo! And when I'm there,
Why, I must go some other where.
Ker-choo! Ker-choo! And so you see
Hay fever spells a trip for me.

A trip to some fair mountain side,
Or to the seashore's foaming side.

We're a Tournament Player!

With great gratification we received notice that we had qualified for the Wilmette cup at Skokie. True, the Wilmette cup is for class D players with handicaps from 24 to 30 (ours is 30), but it was something to have been one of sixteen qualifiers. Then we looked on the bulletin board and found three byes. Only thirteen had entered our class. It might have been seventeen.

Test of Character.

And for any interested in our financial misadventures we have to relate that over the week-end we held five kings against five aces in one of those plague-tagued deuces wild games. Still we are observing the eighteenth amendment. That's character, Helpers, that's character!

RENEW EFFORTS TO STAGE PREP GAME WITH N. Y.

Chicago Officials Hopeful Despite Opposition.

BY FRANK SCHREIBER.

Although the board of education of New York City has canceled the annal inter-city championship high school baseball battle between New York and Chicago, local school officials are hoping to play the annual game.

Edward C. Delaporte, athletic director of the Chicago Public Schools Athletic league, announced yesterday that Dr. Abner P. Way, acting superintendent of physical education in New York, had announced that the New York board has voted the game be canceled.

Last year the game was played in Chicago. Evander Childs High school of New York defeated Lane Tech on Wrigley field. The game was attended by more than 18,000 school children and their parents. The contest was put through the coöperation of THE TRIBUNE with the Chicago Public School Athletic league. It was the sixth game of the New York-Chicago series.

New York's Turn to Stage Game.

This year it is New York's turned to hold the game.

After receiving word from New York, Director Delaporte called on Mayor Thompson and asked him to help get the game as in the past. The mayor promised to wire Mayor Walker of New York urging that the championship contest be played.

St. Louis wants a title game with Chicago. Roosevelt High school, there has entered a bid for a contest with the local champions, and in the event the Chicago school leaders are unable to alter New York's ruling a contest with St. Louis may be held. The game will be played in St. Louis.

Coaches Voting on Player Award.

Coaches and athletic directors of local schools are busy filling out ballots for the selection of the winner of THE TRIBUNE baseball trophy. This trophy is to be awarded the boy of the greatest playing ability value to his team, sportmanship and scholarship during the season. The balloting will be declared closed Friday night, and all coaches who have not sent in their selections are urged to post them with Director Delaporte before Friday at midnight.

Coach P. S. Moore of Lane Tech, chairman of the baseball committee of the Chicago High School league, last night announced that the league's championship game will be played next Monday afternoon. Today Phillips and Bowen will clash at White City; Englewood and Parker play at Hamilton park. Tomorrow Schurz and McKinley play at Logan Square park, and Harrison and Lane meet at Mills stadium. The finalists will be determined from these games.

STATE PREPARES TO PUT RACING LAW INTO EFFECT

Springfield, Ill., June 13.—(AP)—Preparations to administer the new law legalizing racing and race track wagering, effective July 1, were made today by S. J. Stanard, director of agriculture. The bill became a law Saturday without the signature of Gov. Small. Applications for licenses must be filed June 20 to legalize the operation of the tracks July 1.

The act stipulates that all licensed race tracks located within 25 miles of any city of more than 500,000 population will pay $2,500 for each racing day as a license fee. Tracks more than 25 miles from such cities will pay the state $1,500 each racing day.

Spacek's Tale Rivals Bar Room Swims

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 13.—I wonder if Mr. Venceslas Spacek, the Czecho-Slovakian swimmer who took a five minute dip at Calais a few days ago and then announced he had swum the English channel in 10 hours and 45 minutes could have done so in the bar of Mr. Rene Blondieau's hotel of the lighthouse at Cape Gris Nez. It would be a tremendous thing for a swimmer to swim the Sleeve by water in 10 hours and 45 minutes, but it has been done in Mr. Blondiau's bar in less time than that on many occasions.

In fact, it has been done in the Café of the Golden Rooster, just down the road a piece, in something like six hours, and the swimmers don't work up half the speed in the Café of the Golden Rooster that they do in the bar of the hotel of the Lighthouse.

The conditions in the bar of the hotel of the Lighthouse are ideal for barroom channel swimming. For one thing, it is the only Piggly Wiggly bar that I ever have discovered in a rather long and earnest exploration for that happy land where sloe gin rickeys grow on the trees and highballs roll on the ground. Mr. Blondieau himself is always tinkering with his automobile, an authentic relic of Gen. Gallieni's taxicab army, not to see what is the matter with it, but to discover, if possible, what miracle of perpetual motion makes it run after all these years. And his good wife generally is engaged with problems of discipline raised by their four year old son—five by now—Robert. The bottles stand unguarded on the back bar and nobody in that locality, nor any other that I ever have frequented needs to be told how to pour himself a drink, having done which it is the honorable custom of the establishment to drop the money or a memorandum in the drawer. There is an element of enticement in this, as a gentleman naturally makes opportunities to show how honorable he is.

THIS SWIMMER LOSES.

The only barroom channel swimmer who ever forgot himself so far as to swim the channel by water was a tall, garrulous photographer who became so sure of his might one moonlit night last summer that he tore out of the place yelling "meet me in England," and plunged into the surf without removing his coat, shoes or trousers. Brave comrades immediately manned the boat, drawn high up on the beach, to row beside him, but there was some confusion at the helm and they found themselves taking divots with their sweeps and rowing an overland course in the direction of Paris.

The gallant swimmer was out of his element in the water and he soon reappeared, but disaster attend his attempt for when he walked out of the water it was seen that he had lost that possession which every man holds more precious than life itself. The gentleman had lost his pants, with his expense money in the flask pocket.

There was another great barroom swimmer at the Hotel of the Lighthouse, but he was an elderly man and he did his swimming vicarously. That is, he had a beautiful young wife and he used to boast of how she would one day swim the Sleeve in better time than any other human being.

"She trains all the time," he would say. "When I go to bed at night she goes out and when I wake up in the morning she is just coming in. And when I ask her, 'Dearie, where you been?' she says, 'Daddy, I've been out practising in the channel.'"

TERRIS FIGHTS TOMOROW.

It is impossible at this time to select the winner of the main bout in Wednesday night's ball yard fight show between Sidney Terris and Ruby Goldstein because there is no guarantee that either of the boys will ever get up sufficient courage to stand and face the other one, much less commit a belligerent act. As a rule, Sidney Terris is so cautious that he spends all of his time in the ring on the run, doubtless going on the theory that he who puts on the gloves and runs away will live to get a return bout with the privilege of 50 per cent of the gross. Ruby is so cautious that he probably will remain a boy wonder until his grandchildren are voters, because as long as he claims to be less than 21 he will not be required to fight more than six rounds.

Sidney and Ruby will divide $52,000, Sidney receiving $30,000 and Ruby $22,000.

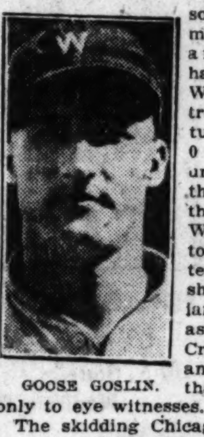
SOX SLUMBER ON PEACEFULLY AND GRIFFS WIN, 10-0

Hose Register Only Three Hits Against Crowder.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 13.—For all of the difference it would have made, some ice cream manufacturer this afternoon could have borrowed the White Sox bats to tromp down ice in tubs. The 10 to 0 score makes it unnecessary to say that the third of the series with the Washington Senators was utterly terrible. But the shy lack of familiarity with the ash displayed by Cracker's boys was an appalling sight that can be known only to eye witnesses.



GOOSE GOSLIN.

The skidding Chicagoans made but one hit in the first seven innings. Their total was three. Only 30 men faced Alvin Crower. Metzler walked in the first inning and was out in a double killing. Hunnefield singled in the fourth and was caught stealing. Metzler walked again in the seventh and died on first and Kamm and Metzler singled in the eighth and ninth innings respectively, but neither got to second. The pitiable exhibitions in the six games the Sox have lost in the last seven have reduced them to a game and a half lead over the third place Athletics.

Senators Hit and Run.

Hunnefield's muff in the third inning, after he had run to short center to get under Harris's fly for an ostensible third out, was responsible for the first score of the game. Reeves led off with a single and was held at first when Crowder struck out. He went to second on Rice's infield out, and perfunctorily ran in when Harris lofted the high fly which got away from Hunnefield. Metzler averted further damage by throwing to Ward in time to catch Harris.

At intervals since the series opened here three days ago, the Senators have been devoting an inning or two to demonstrations of the efficacy of hit and run plays. This afternoon they selected the fourth inning for their technical exhibition.

Goslin singled and was almost to second when Blankenship threw out Speaker. With the hit and run still on, Goose was rounding third when Judge singled. Goslin scored, of course. Then Ruel singled when Judge was well on his way from first to third. He tallied and Ruel got from first to third as Bluege single. Ted then broke up the hit and run technique by making a wild pitch, allowing Ruel to run across and Bluege to take second. He further wrecked the clicking routine by walking Reeves. Crowder and Rice then flied out ending the inning with the score Senators, 4; White Sox, 0.

Tris Starts Final Splurge.

Tris Speaker trotted across with the first of the six runs the Griffmen made in the eighth inning. He led off with a double, and after two outs came in on Bluege's double. Reeves beat out a grounder to Ward, sending Bluege to third. Bluege scored on Crowder's single. Reeves tallied on Rice's single and the bases were full when Harris got the sixth safety of the frame. Goslin's fourth hit of the game was a double which cleaned the bases and brought the score to its final status, 10 to 0.

Perhaps Ted Lyons can do something tomorrow.

Olympia Fields Team Wins Women's Western Tourney

Olympia Fields won the Women's Western Golf association team match at Olympia Fields yesterday with 63 points. Flossmoor was second with 42, and Beverly third with 41½. Other clubs finished as follows: Calumet, 30½, South Shore, 22½, and Ridge, 16½. Virginia Van Wie had low medal score with 33—45—88.

German Woman Swims Around Heligoland Isle

BERLIN, June 13.—(AP)—Fraulein Edith Jensen swam around the island of Heligoland yesterday in 3 hours 47 minutes. The water was cold and she was forced to fight a strong current. Otto Kemmerich, well known long distance swimmer, started with her, but was obliged to give up owing to a leg cramp.

GRIMM'S BAT IS FACTOR IN BOTH SCORING SPREES

Blake Goes Along on Even Keel.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Without even going to the trouble of making a fight of it against their traditional New York foes, McCarthy's Cubs gave their winning streak another boost yesterday, and now they own an enviable record of nine in a row.

FRED BLAKE.

What might have been another of those red blooded struggles between rivals of long standing was ruined in the very first frame. The Cubs simply walked up and slapped the ball freely at the start. Three runs right there were enough to convert the Giants into pygmies, but the Chicagoans, anxious to get away from the reputation of copping seven in a row with a one run margin, splashed some more tallies over the pan in the sixth and finally finished with a 6 to 2 decision which was highly satisfactory to about 10,000 customers who couldn't be kept away by threatening weather.

Henry Also Grants 3 Runs.

There was only once that the highly touted performers from the east were actually in the tussle. They were a bit boisterous in the first frame, and a run resulted. But the slim advantage lasted only until the Cubs could get their initial whack at the ball, and with the lead in his possession Sheriff Blake simply breezed along, even though luck was against him in spots, and the tourists didn't collect another tally until the ninth, by which time there wasn't much doubt as to how the argument was going to end.

Although Rogers Hornsby, who is acting as manager pending the return of Mr. McGraw who is scouting about the country for pitchers second hand or otherwise, had high hopes of getting along with one slabber, but the Cubs showed him it couldn't be done. This demonstration occurred against Fred Fitzsimmons in the first inning. Fred tightened up immediately but it was necessary to remove him eventually for a pinch batter. This brought "Lefty" Henry into action to start the sixth and the Cubs have such a keen dislike for wrong armed flingers that they promptly walloped three more runs over the counting station.

Lindstrom Hits Double.

The Giants got a run in the first chapter because Lindstrom poled a double to left and rode home on a single by Harper. Then Hornsby walked and as there was only one out it looked as if Blake would not be long in departing but he pulled out of the jam easily. Then the Cubs proceeded to operate on Fitzsimmons. In justice to the latter it can be said that the support he received in the first inning was not what might be expected from a first class outfit.

Adams opened the Cubs' initial frame with a high bounder that came down to Terry close to the bag. Terry foolishly tried to pass the ball to Fitzsimmons instead of tagging the bag himself. The result was a hit. Pick drove one that handcuffed Fitzsimmons. Webb, who did his batting average no good at any time during the day, grounded into a double play, leaving Adams on third. Wilson walked and Stephenson singled to score Adams. Grimm also singled, Wilson scoring. Then Hornsby, who is weak on popups, let Hartnett's looped ball fall safe and Stephenson crossed the pan.

Giants Fill the Bases.

From the first until the sixth there was only one bit of excitement. Adams got all tangled up with himself in the Giants' half of the sixth and let a couple Giants pull down scratch hits. Roush enjoyed similar luck on a bounder to Grimm. This filled the sacks with only one out but Blake stuck to his job and emerged safely when Taylor popped to Pick and Ott, a pinch batter for Fitzsimmons, lined to Wilson.

Webb, the first fellow to face Henry in the home sixth, did nothing. Then Wilson singled and Stephenson followed suit. Grimm lined the ball to right center and while Roush was chasing it Wilson and Stephenson crossed the plate and Grimm went to third. He scored the sixth and last Cub run on a single by Hartnett. The Giants collected their consolation tally in the ninth on hits by Taylor and Mueller and Lindstrom's fly.

INDIAN SPRINTER RUNS TO CHICAGO FROM MILWAUKEE

Kenosha, Wis., June 13.—(AP)—Chief Tall Feather reached here at 6:26 p. m. [Central Standard time] tonight on his 88 mile run from Milwaukee to Chicago, making the first 38 miles in about 6 and a half hours, an average of six miles an hour.

He was running smoothly, with only a little stiffness in his legs. His trainer, following in an automobile, fed him some beef broth to warm him up.

The chief said he expected to do his best running tonight.

COLLINS' TRIPLE PAVES WAY FOR MACKS' VICTORY

Ninth Inning Rally Beats Tigers, 7 to 6.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 13.—(AP)—A ninth inning rally, started by a triple by Eddie Collins, pinch hitting for Joe Boley, enabled the Athletics to land a 7 to 6 verdict over the Detroit Tigers today. Collins, who had been out of the game because of an injury to his hand, scored the tying run on a sacrifice fly. Max Bishop's double, Wheat's infield single, and a pass to Cobb filled the sacks, and Cochrane, who had hit a homer earlier in the game, ended the fray with a hit to centre that scored Wheat, Bishop having been forced by Simmons. New York, June 13.—(AP)—The Yankees converted 15 hits into a 14 to 6 victory over Cleveland today. Five New York home runs brought a parade of four Indian pitchers to the mound, Paschal getting two, and Lazerri, Dugan and Collins one each. Paschal also got a triple and a double and scored five runs. Collins' homer came with the bases loaded in the sixth.

A Healthy Head of Hair

THICK, glossy hair is a real asset. It is an indication of vitality and every one will agree that it greatly adds to one's appearance. Sooner or later every man starts giving attention to his hair. Unfortunately, he often neglects it too long.

A normal, healthy scalp is extremely rare. Every scalp is infected in some way and to some degree. This is not strange when it is considered that the hair not only is a catch-all for dirt, dust and soot, but also conceals and holds secretions of oil and sweat glands and scales that are being constantly thrown off.

Trichons' method thoroughly disinfects the scalp, makes the tissues pliant, assists nature to give the scalp an abundant supply of blood and generates activity in each dormant hair matrix. Thus, hair is again produced.

WE KNOW THAT WE CAN RESTORE HAIR IN 90% OF THE CASES OF BALDNESS EXISTING TODAY.

We accept only those for whom we are confident we can produce the best results.

Just what results any individual may expect can be quite definitely determined after a personal examination, which is given privately and without charge.

LACOSTE LEAVES SICK BED TO WIN DAVIS CUP MATCH

Saves France from Defeat by Italy.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, June 13.—Rushing from the sickbed to play the final singles match in the Franco-Italian elimination tournament of the Davis cup play, Rene La Coste today snatched victory from apparent defeat in a gruelling four set match with Giorgio De Stefani. La Coste was confined to his hotel room, suffering from the intense heat, when friends telephoned that Henri Cochet was losing his match with Baron De Morpurgo.

La Coste dressed hurriedly and rushed to the courts. He won the first set handily from De Stefani, 6-3. Patently off form at every stroke and playing with visible effort, he lost the second, 6-8.

But La Coste's grim determination would not be denied. He stroked himself into a 6-1 victory in the third set from the back court and took the final set at 6-3. Cochet was defeated by De Morpurgo, 7-5, 5-7, 6-1, 7-5.

France thus captured the elimination play by three matches to two.

TILDEN WINS; HUNTER LOSES

BELFAST, Ireland, June 13.—(AP)—In exhibition matches today at the Belfast Boat club, William T. Tilden, American tennis star, defeated D. M. Greig of Ireland, 8-6, 6-3, while Francis T. Hunter was beaten by E. Higgs of Ireland, 8-6, 6-3. In the doubles the American team defeated Higgs and Greig, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

Tilden presented a racquet as a prize for the boys' Ulster championship.

INDIANS START LONG RACE TODAY

San Francisco, Cal., June 13.—(AP)—Ready for the 480 mile run to Grants Pass, Ore., eleven Indians awaited today the firing of the starting gun by Al Jennings, former train bandit and present mayor of Crescent City, Cal. Jennings' shot tomorrow will speed away Karook and Zuni tribesmen of Oregon and New Mexico, respectively.

The Indians will run for cash prizes aggregating $2,775. Although their time allowance is fifteen days, they are expected to finish the Redwood highway course before this week's end.

Eckersall's Gossip of the Boxers

ERNIE PETERS, the local flyweight, and Tommy Milton of New York have been signed to meet in one of the preliminaries to the world's bantamweight championship bout between Bud Taylor and Tony Canzoneri at the Cubs baseball park on June 23. They will box six rounds at 116 pounds. Taylor started training yesterday. Canzoneri will be here this afternoon to complete preparation.

Society women will take part in the staging of the show at the Cubs baseball park on July 12 when Mushy Callahan of Los Angeles will defend his world's junior welterweight title. A luncheon will be held at the Hotel La Salle on Thursday to perfect plans. Miss Dorothy Peacock, Miss Elainer Blackman and Mrs. Richard Gambrill are in charge of the luncheon.

Mickey McLaughlin and Jerry Dolan, local lightweights, have been signed for one of the preliminaries of Johnny Coulon's show at White City on Monday night. Willie Davis and Alex Burley meet in the windup.

Tommy Ryan and Frank Szlonek, 145 pounders, will meet in the main bout of the amateur show at Marigold Gardens tonight. Six other contests complete the program.

Favorites Win in Net Play at River Forest

Despite threats of rain, the River Forest invitation tennis tournament got under way yesterday, most of the first and second round matches being completed.

All the out of town stars, except one, came through their first matches without serious difficultq. William Bascom of St. Louis, fell before Jack Harris of the Chicago Town and Tennis club, 6-1, 6-2.

Junior Coen, national boys' champion from Kansas City, had some trouble controlling his shots but managed to place enough in the corners to win from Andre Pajar, a local public park star, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4.

Harris Coggeshall of Des Moines, toyed with Stanley Bates, winning as he pleased, 6-2, 6-0. Fritz Bastian, Indianapolis southpaw, battered down Chick Haile, former Maroon player, 6-3, 6-1, while Ted Drewes of St. Louis, national public parks titleholder, romped over Mead Messick, champion of the Little Nineteen conference, 6-4, 6-1.

George Lott Jr. of Chicago, the defending champion, will play his first match today, facing Walter Vanzwoll, Chicago Town and Tennis club veteran. Summaries:

New Dam Spoils Canoe Trips on Lower Flambeau

BY BOB BECKER.

Peoria, Ill.—[To the Editor.]—The writer with a party of four or six is figuring upon making a canoe trip down one of the Wisconsin streams. We have decided tentatively upon the Flambeau, embarking at Manitowish and landing at Ladysmith. What do you think of the practicability of this trip?

ARTHUR J. LUTZ.

Answer—As we reported a few days ago we do not advise any one to make this canoe trip because of the change in the lower Manitowish and the Flambeau caused by a hydro-electric development. A dam has been built and the water has been backed up to flood thousands of acres of low land, thus spoiling the river scenery and the river trip. It is no easy trick to paddle your way through the flooded forests without a channel. Several parties have lost their way in this flooded land as they were unable to find any of the old river land marks which now are under several feet of water.

Why don't you consider a canoe trip below this dam, say from Park Falls down the Flambeau and take in part of the South Fork? Guides can be secured in Park Falls and boats, too, if you want to travel in a rowboat. Another dandy canoe trip possibility is to travel the Chippewa river starting at Radisson. I am sending a map to you which shows some of this country.

MACK FINDS NO RULE COVERING PROTESTED PLAY

Philadelphia, Pa., June 13.—[Special.]—When Connie Mack received the official bulletin from American league headquarters announcing the dismissal of the protest of the Yankees' victory over the A's Memorial day afternoon, he declared he would continue the fight to have the game awarded to his club.

Ban Johnson, league president, based his decision disallowing the protest on section 7 of rule 72. This rule covers a thrown ball only and makes no mention of a batted ball which has been caught.

"If Mr. Johnson thinks that rule should cover a batted ball as well as a thrown ball, let him get that provision into the official rules. But it is not in there now. Hence we must refuse to accept the decision as just and will employ every means at our command to convince Mr. Johnson that he is in error and have him award us the game, which is the right and fair thing to do," said Connie.

Whitney Asks for 4 Stalls at Homewood

Harry Payne Whitney and Edward R. Bradley were the first of the prominent turfmen to make definite stable reservations for the American Derby to be run at Washington park Saturday.

James Rowe Sr., acting for Mr. Whitney, requested four stalls which caused General Manager C. W. Hay to believe that there will be at least two Whitney color bearers at the barrier when the $25,000 race is renewed for the 19th time. Trainer Dick Thompson requested three stalls for the Bradley horses which are due to arrive today. Buddy Bauer is being shipped from New York and Boo or Bewithus will come from Kentucky.

Mr. Joseph E. Widener, president of the Jockey club in New York, also is coming, either with Laddie or Chance Shot, but the busy Mr. Widener, who has Earl Sande as his contract rider, was not certain which of his horses were eligible for the Derby here. He wired to find out, and the reply was that every good 3 year old in his barn had been nominated by his trainer, Pete Coyne.

A dark horse that is coming out of the east for the race is Dolan, a son of Huon-Rocking Chair, which will race in E. F. Cooney's silks. He won four races as a 2 year old, including the Endurance stakes at Bowie last fall, beating Whiskery and 15 other good ones; but he has been backward in his training as a 3 year old, and his coming for the American Derby created considerable surprise.

Despite his defeat at the hands of Rhinock, a 4 year old, over a muddy track at Latonia yesterday, Hydromel will get his chance in the American Derby, and probably will entrain from the Kentucky track, headed for Washington park, late today. He will run in former Senator J. N. Camden's silks.

Marion Turpie Tops Women's Golf Tourney

Kansas City, Mo., June 13.—(AP)—Miss Marion Turpie, city champion of New Orleans and former southern women's titleholder, led a field of more than 100 entrants in the qualifying round of the women's trans-Mississippi golf tournament here today.

Battling rain and water soaked fairways and green on the Blue Hills Country club course, Miss Turpie turned in an 82 for the 18 holes, four strokes better than her nearest rival, Mrs. Miriam Burns Horn of Kansas City, who scored an 86.

Mrs. O. S. Hill, the defending champion, placed third among the championship qualifiers with an 88 and Miss Virginia Pep of St. Louis was fourth with 89.

Rain, which fell most of the day, cold and the water logged condition of the links ran the scores up, making 109 good enough to qualify.

The brilliant southerner will be paired tomorrow with Miss Gladys Cranston of Kansas City and should have an easy victory in the first round. Miss Cranston turned in a 100 today.

GIRL'S CHARGES INVOLVE DIXON, BOSS OF HAWKS

Sioux City, Ia., June 13—(AP)—Cletus Dixon, manager of the Waterloo baseball team in the Mississippi Valley league has been arrested on charges preferred by a Sioux City girl whose name has been withheld, it was learned here early this morning.

LIGHT CARBINE WINS AQUEDUCT FEATURE AT 20-1

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—Light Carbine, bearing the purple silks of L. B. Humphreys of Denver, provided a sensational upset for the opening day of the meeting of the Queens County Jockey club at Aqueduct this afternoon when he defeated a field of high class handicap horses in the twenty-second running of the Queens County handicap over the mile route. A rank outsider at 20 to 1 and with little McCoy perched on his back, Light Carbine took the measure of the Arden farm's Chance Play, Walter M. Jefford's Little Mars, W. R. Coe's Pompey and H. P. Whitney's McCaw which finished behind him in that order.

Although the winner was a long shot, he had a lot of support after the word was passed around, as was shown by the fact that he was backed down ten points from an opening of 30 to 1. Only the wise ones were aboard, the money all going on McCaw, which was backed to 6 to 5, with some still clinging to the hope that Chance Play would run his best race..

TOP-FLITE..
that champions said the game needed

HERE is a new kind of tennis racket—developed at the suggestion of International tennis stars. They said no existing racket was fast enough for the modern, all-court game. They asked Spalding to try and build one that would be fast enough.

Spalding made 500 experimental rackets before the one was achieved which combined the best ideas of these stars. Never before has any bat received such enthusiastic and unanimous approval as when that 501st racket was put into their hands. With it, both men and women stars won many of last year's important tournaments.

You too will be eager to play the new Top-Flite. Lighter head—yet in perfect balance. Smaller head, which permits tighter stringing. Kro-Bat construction to give it strength for many restringings. Open throat, which gives it a new, delightful flexibility. Top-Flite is the fastest tennis racket ever made. There is one here that will suit you exactly. Come and find it. Price $15.

Lifts Neuralgics on Their Feet

New York Specialist's Prescription Amazes Hospitals and Physicians

DRUGGISTS GUARANTEE NURITO

So many thousands have found quick relief from neuralgia, neuritis, sciatica, lumbago, and rheumatism thru Nurito that it has now become the standard relief throughout the world. It was discovered by a New York Specialist famous in the East for the speed at which his own prescription banishes pains and aches. He has finally been persuaded to place it at the disposal of the general public through drug stores everywhere. Nurito contains no opiates or narcotics and is absolutely harmless. He has authorized druggists to guarantee that a few doses of Nurito will stop the most intense pain even of many years' standing—or your money will be instantly refunded.

If you want to feel again the joy of living, banish needless agony, and sleep soundly at night, go to your druggist at once and ask him to let you try Nurito, under the money-back guarantee.

IRON MASK WINS AS HE PLEASES AT HOMEWOOD

Finds Rain and Slow Track to His Liking.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Iron Mask II. came to life at Washington Park yesterday with almost everybody in the big audience backing him and galloped away with the Wellington handicap, winning by a length from Frederick Grabner's colt Chicago and by four lengths from George De Mar, which was third. It rained a bit and clouds were hanging low most of the afternoon, and under such conditions any one might expect to see two such famous sun dodgers as Iron Mask II. and his trainer, Frisco Hoag, come up for air.

Iron Mask II. was the champion mud runner of the Chicago season last year, and it wasn't any wonder that this big Monday crowd of close to 6,000 flocked to the flaming red and white silks of the Mira Monte farm, which he carried in the feature race. And he won much like most of those who backed him expected him to win.

Coasts In to Victory.

It wasn't even a contest after weak hearted Sandyman and Chicago gave up the struggle in the stretch. Jockey Pendergrass only had to let Iron Mask glide on to victory. His margin could have been much greater had he been forced to put on a bit more steam.

The Monday crowd was surprisingly large considering that it rained most of the morning and a drizzle was still falling while the early part of the program was decided. It slowed up the track about four seconds on the mile, but fast track runners were still given a royal chance to cop most of the purses.

In the Wellington, Sandyman went out and cut out a dizzy pace for three quarters; a half out he was four lengths in front and it looked as if he was already home. Chicago was running second and Golden Mac third. Iron Mask II. was so far back he seemed to be out of it.

Bedwell's Fair Anita Wins.

Then the rain began to come down and the skies blackened and Iron Mask II. must have believed he was running on strictly a muddy track. Jockey Pendergrass gave him his head. He dashed to the front and the race was all over in midstretch. Iron Mask II. whipped Sandyman so decisively that this horse from the far west dropped entirely out of it. Chicago loomed dangerously for just an instant; but he was easy for Iron Mask II. when this big fellow came along in long strides to win going away about as he pleased.

The Smart Set stakes for juveniles served as the secondary feature and it brought victory to H. Guy Bedwell of Maryland when his Fair Anita, the favorite, galloped to an easy triumph over Val Crane's Pandale, with E. K. Bryson's Angry Mood finishing third.

The Wire Pays $47.80.

There had been a plunge on the first time starter Americaine, trained by Boots Durnell and owned by the Three D's stable of Texas. This filly is half sister to the once great Carlaris, and there had been reports that she was working in sensational time over at Lincoln Fields, and the fact that Durnell was training her brought her still more backers. Perhaps the sticky track was not to her liking; or that she just isn't there, for she was last in the stylish field of half a dozen.

Jockey Steinhardt rushed Fair Anita into the lead soon after the start, and she easily held the others safe. Pandale was much the best of those which trailed the Bedwell color bearer on home. The prize long shot of the afternoon was provided by Barney Berman of the south side, when his 3 year old, The Wire, romped home in the sixth race, a mile affair out of the chute, and paid $47.80 on each $2 ticket.

United States Tires are Good Tires

US Trade Mark

PLENTY OF RUBBER in United States Tires starts out in the Far East—on the United States Rubber Company's Plantation. This Company owns 10,000,000 rubber trees—enough to make an unbroken line nearly twice around the earth. Seven million of these trees are producing rubber.

STATES-ROYAL CORD
Get more for your money

ON the very tip of your tongue is probably a most practical question:

"How do I know you are giving me plenty of rubber in my Royal Cord Balloons?"

It does not all show to the eye. Nor can you tell it by weighing the tires. Pure rubber is light . . . and a tire manufacturer can make a tire weigh almost anything he pleases by "loading" the rubber with heavier substances which add nothing to the wear.

Much of the "Plenty of Rubber" in Royal Cord Balloons is distributed where it does not show but does do its job—the right kind of rubber, in the right places.

We shall have to ask you to take our word for it—until you prove it for yourself on the wheels of your car.

Com-merce in the Air

Arthur Brisbane, in the Chicago Herald and Examiner of May 18, says, "Standard Oil of Indiana announced yesterday the purchase from Henry and Edsel Ford of a huge, all-metal, three-engine monoplane 'to provide safe, fast and comfortable trips' for its officials to outlying oil regions.

"The time of a good oil man is worth more than the price of several airplanes.

"Perhaps Standard Oil will contribute to American flying on its own account, and build that 'real flying machine' which Henry Ford suggests."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been, and is, contributing to American flying in the interest of the people whom it serves by the development of special gasoline and lubricating oil for aviation use and by its program of marking air trails.

This Company is interested in commercial aviation. It has proved in its own business that the air is an extraordinarily satisfactory medium of communication.

The Air Mail has been a tremendous asset to the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), increasing the efficiency of the organization. Other business concerns and individuals throughout the United States have appreciated this speedier mail communication it makes possible, as the record for 1926 testifies. A total of 17,345,960 letters were carried by airplane during the year.

This Company's investment in a giant monoplane is further evidence that the Company is deeply interested in commercial aviation.

The new all-metal monoplane, named the Stanolind, can accommodate eight passengers, has a wing span of 71 feet, and is propelled by three motors. It uses 46 gallons of gasoline an hour and carries fuel for a sustained flight of five hours.

The Stanolind was purchased to provide safe, fast and comfortable transportation to oil producing regions, division headquarters and outlying refineries.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is always on the alert for new ways and better methods of increasing efficiency. The purchase of the new monoplane is in line with its progressive business policy.

BROKERS' LOANS UP $56,538,000 IN BANK REPORT

BY O. A. MATHER.

Although the New York stock market was closed yesterday, one item of particular interest to market followers appeared. This was the weekly report on brokers' loans by the New York federal reserve bank.

Such loans show another sharp increase. Last Wednesday they stood at $3,118,429,000, an increase of $56,538,000 over the preceding week. The present total marks a new high point for this year and is only $22,696,000 below the record level reached in January, 1926, before the collapse of stock market inflation occured. It also marks an increase of more than $600,000,000 over a year ago. This steady expansion attests the prolonged advance of securities prices, the breadth of the market, and the inrcease in listed securities.

Bank Loans at New Peak.

Furthermore, the federal reserve board also reported that the volume of credit of member banks increased by more than $30,000,000 during the month ended May 18 and reached a new high mark. The increase was due primarily to expansion in loans on securities and to increased investments by the banks for their own account. Commercial loans showed relatively little change.

Prevention of inflation appears to be the chief consideration for the New York federal reserve bank to maintain its present 4 per cent rediscount rate. The gold and reserve position might warrant a reduction but conservative financiers believe a lower rate would encourage further wild speculation which eventually would result in another disastrous collapse of the stock market.

Retail Trade Declines.

Retail trade of stores reporting to the federal reserve system was 3 per cent smaller last month thin in May, 1926. Of the 629 stores reporting, 439 showed declines and 190 reported increases. The decline in the Chicago district was 4.3 per cent, while St. Louis and Minneapolis showed respective declines of 9.2 and 8.1 per cent. Sales of two mail order houses were approximately the same as a year ago.

Sales of 8 chains of five-and-ten-cent stores were 5.7 per cent larger, reflecting in part a growth in the number of stores. In another compilation the first 21 chain store organizations to report sales for last month show a total of $69,299,852, an increase of 7.6 per cent over May, 1926, but a decline of 10.6 per cent from April, this year.

Industrial Operations Irregular.

The rate of operations in industrial plants last month was 1.4 per cent below April, but 6.8 per cent above May, last year, based on the consumption of electrical energy in manufacturing plants, according to Electrical World. The moderate decline which occurred last month was largely seasonal in character and production conditions continue irregular, with some of the primary industries showing a drop in activity, while others are producing at an increased rate.

Last month's production of Portland cement was the greatest in any May, and shipments have been exceeded only in one other—May, 1926, according to the bureau of mines. The May output totaled 16,674,000 barrels, and shipments 16,857,000 compared, respectively, with 16,510,000 and 17,973,000 in the same month last year.

Standard Oil of Ohio.

B. C. S., Green Bay, Wis.—Standard Oil company of Ohio reported net profits of $3,207,429 for 1926, against $3,455,422 for 1925.

This is equal to $45.82 a share on the 7 per cent preferred and 19.41 per cent on the $14,000,000 common stock in 1926, as compared with $49.36 a share on the preferred and 21.18 per cent on the common in 1925.

The par value of the common was changed in March, 1927, from $100 to $25 and four new shares given for each old one held.

Dividends at the rate of 10 per cent are being paid on the new as they were on the old.

Surplus for 1926 was $1,317,429, comparing with $1,565,422 for 1925.

Total surplus stood at $20,927,139 at the end of 1926, against $19,609,710 at the end of 1925.

The common stock is high grade.

The preferred is very high grade.

We cannot predict the course of the market.

CITY & CONNECTING PFD. DROPS 4¾ AS TRACTION ISSUES LOSE GROUND

Local traction securities featured trading in the Chicago stock market yesterday with a general downward movement. There was belief among many traders that the transportation heads may get so much at Springfield today when the enabling legislation is to be acted upon by the house that may get nothing when ordinances based on the legislation comes before the city council.

Chicago City & Connecting railway preferred, which soared to new heights in recent years during the last few weeks dropped 4¾ to 13. The common stock was off ⅝ to 1½. Omnibus declined 1½ to 15½ and Chicago Railways No. 2 stock was ½ lower to 5½. Among the bonds, Chicago City & Connecting railway 5s lost 3 points to 68. Other traction declines were: Chicago Railways first 5s certificates, 1½ to 83; Chicago City Railway first 5s, a point to 87, and Chicago Railways "A" and "B" 5s ¼ each to 67⅝ and 47⅝.

Marvel Carburetor gained a point to 42½ on reports that the company will earn more than its year's dividend of $3.20 a share in the first five months of 1927. Celotex was active and advanced ½ on announcement that the company has formed an Australian subsidiary with W. M. Hughes, former prime minister, as chairman of the board. The new subsidiary is to be known as Celotex, Australia, Ltd., and construction of a plant to manufacture insulating lumber from sugar cane fibre in Queensland, is to be started at once. On small sales, Union Carbide declined 3 points to 117½ and Central & Southwest Utilities was off a point.

Net earnings of Borg & Beck company in May were in excess of $100,000 after all charges, including taxes, it is learned in official quarters. This compares with a net of $94,320 in April and brings the total for the first five months of the year to around $420,000, equal to $3.56 a share on stock outstanding. In the first five months of 1926 net earnings amounted to $382,870, equal to $3.06 a share.

NEW YORK, June 13.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Dull and easy today. The census bureau figures on cottonseed and cottonseed products for May indicating a disappearance of an equivalent of 286,747 brls of refined oil, compared with a disappearance of 205,000 brls in April, were somewhat larger than expected. The close was 5 to 20 points net lower. Sales, 5,000 brls. Prime crude nominal; prime summer yellow spot, 9.10c; July closed 9.23c; September, 9.65c; October, 9.81c; December, 9.89c; January, 9.92c.

PROVISION VALUES FIRMER

Light offerings of product, combined with smaller arrivals of hogs than expected, made a stronger and higher market for provisions. The close was at net gains on lard of 12½c, with short ribs 7½@10c higher, and bellies 17½@20c higher. Lard in Liverpool was 3@6d lower.

Cash trade was fair and values strong. Exports of lard for the week were 12,203,000 lbs, and bacon, 6,780,000 lbs, compared with 7,567,000 lbs lard, and 8,488,000 lbs bacon last year. Prices follow:

WHY WE SAY
"Investments Suitable for you"

Because investment stocks and bonds vary widely in character, each is not suitable for every investor. For example, a person of large income can afford better to consider yield before safety than a person of smaller income to whom any loss would be serious.

Those who, in their business or personal lives, must have extra funds available at any time, require greater marketability of their securities than those whose investments are made as reserve funds.

For this reason, Mitchell, Hutchins first gives thorough consideration to your individual investment needs. Then recommends securities which will best serve your purpose—"investments suitable for you."

WEATHER NEWS CHIEF FACTOR IN GRAIN ADVANCES

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wet and cold weather over the corn belt, with heavy rains in parts of the southwest where the wheat harvest is on or about to commence, gave the grain markets a higher price range with wheat up 1¼@1½c at the last. July finished at 1.45⅝@1.45½, and September $1.43⅞@1.44. Corn gained 3¼@4⅜c, with September leading. July was 96⅝@96⅜c, and September $1.02@1.02½ at the last. Oats were ½c higher, with July 47⅝c, and September 47c, while rye was 1@1¼c higher, with July $1.16½, and September $1.04¼.

Weather conditions were the dominating influence in all grains, and other factors counted for little. As much as 4½ inches rain were reported in parts of Kansas, which will probably delay rapid ripening of the new wheat crop, and late in the session there was a report of a freak snow storm at Syracuse, Kas. Liverpool wheat closed 1⅛@1¼d lower, coming better than due, cables telling of drought and a reduced acreage in Australia leading to a good class of buying.

Fear Wet Wheat Harvest.

Rains in the southwest led to some apprehension of a wet harvest. Wichita, Kas. received three cars of new Oklahoma wheat which graded high and one car of dark No. 1 hard sold at $1.54. Relatively low temperatures prevailed in the Canadian northwest, with the forecast for fine and warmer. France was after red winter at the seaboard with sales of 200,000 to 300,000 bu. in all positions, and there was some inquiry reported for new crop hard winter.

Winnipeg wheat acted heavy a good part of the day and closed only ⅝@⅞c higher, tending to increase bearish local sentiment. A decrease of 2,501,000 bu. in the visible supply brought the total down to 24,721,000 bu. against 14,162,000 bu. last year.

More Rain in Corn Belt.

Heavy rains fell over parts of the Illinois, Iowa, and Indiana corn belts and completion of plowing and planting is delayed. There was no material pressure on the market and sellers of offers were forced to protect themselves on the way up. Local bulls and strong commission houses were active buyers and some stop loss orders were uncovered on the bulge. Selling was largely by profit taking longs and against offers. Forecast indicated unsettled weather over a good part of the belt.

There was heavy buying of July and selling of Septemer by cash interests who were changing over hedges, the spread early being 4⅝c and was around 5½c at the last, the bulk of the new speculative buying going in to the deferred delivery. Visible supply increased 2,148,000 bu. for the week, and the total is 32,109,000 bu. against 29,481,000 bu. last year. Spot basis was ½@2c lower as compared with July.

Houses with eastern connections were on the selling side of oats early, but were readily absorbed and the close was strong in sympathy with other grains. The seabord reported 150,000 to 250,000 bu. sold for export. Buying of corn and wheat against sales of September rye was a feature in the latter grain. July was erratic, and easily influenced.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Foreign demand for cash wheat at the seaboard was only fair with sales of 200,000 to 300,000 bu in all positions, largely red winters to France, with small lots of rye and 150,000 to 250,000 bu oats. A Baltimore message reported very little doing in wheat with some No. 2 red sold at 5½c over Chicago July, or materially below a shipping difference from Chicago.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

NEW YORK, June 13.—(AP)—Primary dry goods markets generally were closed at noon today. Cotton goods orders in the mails were well scattered and satisfactory. Spot deliveries of printed goods and wash fabrics were wanted. Yarns were barely steady, affected by a decline in cotton. Tropical worsteds for the spring of 1928 will be opened about July 1 by some factors. The season this year was not up to expectations. Burlap markets were steady and quiet.

MACHINES RAISE BRAIN POWER OF OFFICE WORKER

BY HARPER LEECH.

Manufacturers of calculating, tabulating and recording machinery have taken advantage of the Eighth International Cost Conference at the Palmer House to put on an interesting exhibit of their latest devices. As one inspects this array of machines, mechanical and electrical, the impression is created that the brain and nervous system of the administrative, fiscal and accounting worker are being expanded in capacity today, to keep up with the tremendous expansion of man's muscular powers in the domain of production and transport. That the race has not been won is attested by the fact that the percentage of office workers is still gaining relative to other classes of employés, but when one sees machines which enhance the mathematical and transcribing ability of an individual by as much as 1,000 per cent, it is evident that great progress is being made.

The elasticity and adaptability of the electric impulse to conform with almost all acts of human volition and to reproduce things at a distance, as witnessed in telephoto—already a vigorous industry—the vitaphone, radio, television, and what not, suggest that electricity will prevent our industrial activities from ever becoming so vast and complicated as to kill themselves with administrative overhead.

This is an age of "Big Business," but the "Big Business" of today consists very frequently of millions of transactions, which are minute indeed as compared to the average size of trades and deals in former times. Mass production as well as hand to mouth buying have contributed to this—it is as evident in the family grocery bill of today as it is in the metered sale of kilowatts or the production of millions upon millions of automobile tires.

The publication of last Sunday's TRIBUNE caused the consummation of probably as many as 1,250,000 sales of one kind or another, to say nothing of the sales in the chain of industrial mobolization which led up to the publication of one day's paper and the scores of thousands of sales which followed as the result of the advertising carried. The sales of the paper were seven cent transactions at retail.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Bullish sentiment prevails among a large number of the strongest operators in wheat and corn. They recognize that weather conditions are the main factor for the present and will be for a month as regards small grains, while in corn they say perfect weather must continue until the middle of September or later to bring the crop through before frost. In the interim sharp breaks are taken advantage of to buy, while on bulges they take profits.

From the way wheat disappeared on weak spots yesterday there was said to be indications of eastern traders getting into the market again. They are understood to be mainly bullish and their buying at times, in connection with that by a few local leaders, absorbs offerings and makes the market an uncomfortable one for the bears.

Late in the day there were reports of snow at Syracuse, Kas. The town is located in western Kansas, where there is said to be very little wheat.

An enormous quantity of July corn has been put on the market of late and September bought. The spread yesterday was 4⅝c early and changes were made late in the day at 5½c premium for the September. Recently the spread was around 3c. Longs are getting away from the July and believe that the September will be the best month and are not taking the carrying charges into consideration.

Crop Expert B. W. Snow drove 600 miles at the end of last week, crossing Illinois from east to west through Peoria. He says much work was accomplished the last week, with planting and cultivating in spots and general appearance of fields clean. Most of the corn that is up is just showing check rows. Heavy rains Saturday and Sunday put an end to field work. It will take three days, he says, to permit general resumption of plowing and cultivating.

SYNDICATE TO BUILD AT DE WITT AND DELAWARE

BY AL CHASE.

Streeterville is scheduled for another good sized improvement. It's to be a tall one, erected by the Delashore Building corporation on the 95x109 of vacant at the southeast corner of Delaware and De Witt. The county records disclosed most of these facts. In addition they gave the name of the seller, Miss Gertrude Fried. But that's about all that could be learned concerning the project.

Sonnenschein, Berkson, Lautmann & Levinson declared that their clients did not want any publicity and refused to tell whether the proposed building would be seventeen or seventy stories.

Still Owns Chestnut Corner.

This is the north half of the property sold by a syndicate last June to another syndicate which took title through Miss Gertrude Fried. The site fronts 219 feet on De Witt, 100 feet on Chestnut and ninety-five feet on Delaware. The syndicate represented by Miss Fried still owns the south half of the original purchase, which means it still holds title to the northeast corner of De Witt and Chestnut.

The National Fireworks Distributing company, one of the largest of its kind in the country, has purchased from Emmett J. Cleary the former plant of the Fox Fireworks company on a twenty acre site between Rose and Rowe streets, just north of Franklin Park, for a reported $40,000. The property is improved with a dwelling and a number of small fireworks manufacturing buildings. Rathje & O'Connor represented the purchaser.

Real Estators Meet Today.

The last regular members' meeting of the Cook County Real Estate board until next September will be held in the board rooms, Conway building, this afternoon at 3:30 p. m. Reports from the special committee on repeal of the water meter ordinance will be acted upon. Action also is to be taken on certain legislation pending at Springfield.

Net bonded debt		2,724,457.01
Population, 1920 census	11,407
Population, present estimate	18,000

*Of the total bonds outstanding $350,000 issued for construction of toll bridges should be self-supporting within a short time. One bridge, constructed at a cost of $50,000, is showing net earnings sufficient to pay for itself in less than four years.

The County officially reports that it receives about $40,000 annually from the State Gasoline Tax Fund for General County purposes.

THESE BONDS are issued for the construction of Highways and Bridges, and in the opinion of counsel constitute direct general obligations of the entire County PAYABLE FROM AN UNLIMITED TAX LEVIED ON ALL THE TAXABLE PROPERTY IN THE COUNTY. These bonds have been validated by a decree of the Circuit Court of Bay County, which under the laws of Florida provides thereafter they are incontestable. In Florida, taxes for State purposes are levied upon assessed valuations of the Counties. Therefore, a low County assessment results in the payment by the County of a small proportion of State taxes. For this reason County assessments average about 25% of the actual value.

While Bay County in 1926 was assessed only $6,287,020 for County and State tax purposes, the combined assessed values of two cities, viz.: Panama City and Lynn Haven, $6,740,000 exceed the entire assessed valuation of the County. This low assessed valuation is therefore no indication of the actual value of the taxable property in the County, and as these bonds are payable from unlimited taxes there is a sufficient margin of taxable wealth to support the County's bond and interest charges.

Bay County has not been affected by the real estate boom in Florida in 1925 which is demonstrated by the fact that it has not increased its assessed valuation to exaggerated figures. Located in the extreme Northwestern part of the State—its growth has been normal and the result of the development of its natural resources. None of the cities in the County depend upon tourist business, although many persons visit the resorts around beautiful St. Andrews Bay.

Bay County has no large overlapping district debts. There are no Road and Bridge District bond issues and only three small School District issues aggregating less than $100,000.

Legality approved by Messrs. Chapman, Cutler & Parker, Attorneys, Chicago, Ill.

Following an active 10@15c higher opening in the hog market, weakness appeared as larger interests refused to follow and most of the gain was lost in dull trading around noon. Big houses withdrew from the trade late in the afternoon, with small droves, consisting mostly of sows purchased early at the full strength.

Salesmen refused to release their holdings at lower bids placed by big packers late and 18,000 hogs remained in the pens at the close. Outsiders took a bigger percentage, with advances at other points encouraging salesmen to hold stock off of the trade. General average price moved up 5c at $8.90, with extreme top 15c higher at $9.30. Receipts at 43,000 compare with 67,926 the previous Monday, being 3,000 below the Monday average during the past 12 weeks.

Cattle advanced 15@25c under brisk competition, buyers scrambling for stock at the full strength following the release of an advance estimate of only 7,000 for today, the smallest for Tuesday in many months. Arrivals yesterday at 17,000 were within a few hundred head of the smallest for Monday in over a year, against 25,712 the previous Monday and 24,005 a year ago.

Prime 1336@1339 lb. steers reached $13.85, the day's peak, with 1225 lb., averages up to $13.56 and 1172 lbs., long yearlings at $12.75. Over 400 cattle sold at $13.00 and above. Yearlings averaging 957 brought $11.75. Bulk of good beef cattle at $10.00@12.75 compares with $9.50@12.00 initial day of last week. Butcher stock shared in the advance, heifers averaging 777 lbs. at $11.00. Calves sold steady.

Last week's advance of $1.00@1.50 was fully erased in a slow trade, with the market finishing in a semi-demoralized condition at the low time of the day. Best Idaho range lambs stopped at $17.60. Washingtons late last week reached $18.75. Natives suffered most on the break, with sorting severe. Best selections fell to $16.50. Yearlings declined in sympathy with lambs, choice handy weights clearing at $14.50 downwards. Aged sheep were scarce and declined the least.

COTTON IS OFF $2.50 ON BETTER CROP OUTLOOK

An improvement in the cotton crop outlook with most of the eastern belt prospects better crop than last year, combined with a break in the drought in western Texas where planting has been resumed were mainly responsible for the break of more than $2.50 per bale in spot cotton, and more than $3 per bale on futures in most of the leading markets.

Closing trades were at around the bottom. Net losses on futures in Chicago were 58 to 67 points and in New Orleans 71 to 73 points, spots there being 55 points off at 16.20c.

New York, which closed at noon, showed losses of 48 to 57 points, with spots down 45 points to 16.60c. Liverpool was weak and closed 6 to 8 points lower.

The Memphis Appeal says the average of June 9 indicates a crop of close to the ten year average. The Watkins report estimates condition of 73.6, compared with 69.3 two weeks ago, and 75.5 a year ago. Acreage is 12 per cent under last year. Prices in leading markets follow:

Not the same old steel

The good steels of today are not the "same old steel" they used to be—they're better—much better! Alloy steels are better in every way than ordinary steels and the character of an alloy steel can be made just what you need it to be. A particular alloy steel can be made to meet the requirements of your product exactly. So why use the same old steel when a better steel is waiting for you. Interstate Metallurgists will be glad to discuss the matter with you at any time and there is no obligation.

NOTICE OF REDEMPTION

To the Holders of First Mortgage Gold Bonds of 6½% Series A and 6% Series B of Ohio Electric Power Company.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that as authorized by the Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated July 1, 1924 and/or an Indenture supplemental thereto dated January 1, 1926, made, executed, and delivered by the Ohio Electric Power Company to The Seaboard National Bank of the City of New York, as Trustee, securing First Mortgage Gold Bonds of 6½% Series A, and First Mortgage Gold Bonds of 6% Series B and as authorized by said bonds this Company will, on July 1, 1927, exercise the option to redeem and will redeem all of the bonds secured by the said Mortgage and Deed of Trust and Indenture supplemental thereto, of both 6½% Series A and 6% Series B now outstanding. And said First Mortgage Gold Bonds of 6½% Series A will be so redeemed at the principal amount thereof and accrued interest thereon to July 1, 1927, together with a premium of 5% of the principal amount thereof, at the office of The Seaboard National Bank of The City of New York, the Trustee, No. 115 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, and State of New York. And said First Mortgage Gold Bonds of 6% Series B will be so redeemed at the principal amount thereof and accrued interest thereon to July 1, 1927, together with a premium of 4¾% of the principal amount thereof at the aforesaid office of The Seaboard National Bank of The City of New York, the Trustee. All such bonds will cease to bear interest on said date.

In order that payments may be made, the bonds must be presented to and surrendered at the said office of The Seaboard National Bank of The City of New York, the Trustee, and must be accompanied by the coupons appertaining thereto maturing January 1, 1928, and subsequent thereto. Coupons payable July 1, 1927 should be accompanied by properly executed Federal Income Tax ownership certificates.

Dated, New York, May 26, 1927.
OHIO ELECTRIC POWER COMPANY,
By HARRY REID, President.

NOTICE OF REDEMPTION

To the Holders of the 6%
First Mortgage Gold Bonds, Series B, of Northwestern Public Service Co.
Due August 1, 1950,

Issued and outstanding under the Trust Indenture of Northwestern Public Service Company, to The Equitable Trust Company of New York and Lyman Rhoades, as Trustees, of date December 1, 1923, and Supplemental Indenture of date August 1, 1925:

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, NORTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY, has elected and does hereby elect to redeem on August 1, 1927, [the same being an interest date] each and all of the Series B bonds issued and outstanding under the above-mentioned Trust Indenture and Supplemental Indenture, at par and accrued interest, plus a premium of six and three-quarters per centum [6¾%] of the principal.

Said bonds are accordingly called for payment on August 1, 1927, and interest on said bonds will cease on that date, and the holders of said bonds are required to present the same for payment at the office of THE EQUITABLE TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, Number 37 Wall Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, City and State of New York, on or after said date, with all coupons maturing subsequent to August 1, 1927, annexed thereto. Coupons maturing August 1, 1927, should be detached and collected in the usual manner. Bonds registered as to principal should be properly endorsed for transfer.

DATED, February 25, 1927.

2,140,000 busy women live on McCall Street—and one of the reasons why McCall's plays a vital rôle in their lives is its outstanding usefulness in pointing the way to easier, quicker, and more efficient methods of home administration.

At the service of McCall Street is the McCall Department of Household Management, under the able direction of Sarah Field Splint. Miss Splint is one of the nation's leading authorities on foods, cookery, and home management. Associated with her is a staff of experts, each of whom is distinguished in some special branch of this interesting work.

These specialists study the whole range of household activities—buying, marketing, cleaning, laundering, time and money budgeting, household accounting, etc.—and the results of their studies, experiments, and tests are published in McCall's Magazine.

SARAH FIELD SPLINT

Director McCall's Food and Household Management Department

One of the eminent specialists contributing to the important work directed by Miss Splint is May B. Van Arsdale, Professor of Household Arts, Teachers College, Columbia University. Miss Van Arsdale and the members of her staff have made intensive studies of oven regulation, the buying of meats and vegetables in proper quantities, methods of jelly-making suited to the modern housewife's modes of life and needs, and scores of similar problems. Among Miss Van Arsdale's co-workers and assistants in this invaluable work of easing the labor and lightening the cost of the homemaker's tasks are: Bertha E. Shapleigh, Lecturer on Household Arts; Sarah G. Alling, Technical Assistant in Household Arts; Dorothy E. Shank, formerly instructor in Household Arts at Teachers College.

L. Ray Balderston, Instructor in Household Arts at Teachers College, distinguished for research in laundry and cleaning processes, contributes her findings to aid McCall Street's homemakers.

Mildred Weigley Wood, formerly head of the Department of Home Economics, University of Minnesota, and formerly chairman of the Homemakers Section of the American Home Economics Association, writes from knowledge based on scientific research and on practical home experience, on the systematic scheduling of housework to allow the homemaker time for entertaining and diversion.

Another contributor whose work has won wide recognition is Gladys Beckett Jones, formerly Head of the Home Economics Work of the Garland School of Homemaking. Mrs. Jones takes the problems of the typical family and shows how to plan and systematize the various housekeeping tasks so that the home may be run as smoothly as a well managed business.

Assisting Miss Splint in the direction of McCall's Department of Household Management are:

Dorothy W. Kirk, B. S. Teachers College, Columbia University, and formerly instructor in Home Economics at Rutgers College Summer School, in charge of McCall's Laboratory Kitchen.

Claudia M. Fitzgerald, Editorial assistant to Miss Splint.

All these experts cooperate closely with the members of McCall Food Department in the famous McCall's Laboratory Kitchen; thus all suggestions and recommendations meet the test of practical application under actual housekeeping conditions.

With such authoritative housekeeping counsel constantly at the service of McCall Street, it is easy to understand why McCall's has won a definite place in 2,140,000 homes.

Sophy Tancred's Husbands

BY ELIZABETH YORK MILLER.

SYNOPSIS.

Sophy and Piers Tancred have lately taken the Villa Mona at Bordighera on the Italian Riviera. Sophy learns that her former husband, Alan Brooke, the sculptor, is living nearby and that they are to meet at dinner that night. She is afraid of her husband's jealousy and, since he thought she was a widow when he married her, she goes to Brooke's studio to warn him against telling Piers that they had been married. Alan tells Sophy that his housekeeper, Cristina, is his wife and they have a little son. Willie Moppet, a male gossip of Bordighera, interrupts them, and Sophy flies back to the Villa Mona in fear.

At dinner Alan and Sophy meet as if for the first time, but the Princess Doblieri greets Sophy as Mrs. Brooke, recalling their studio days in Paris. Piers tells the princess she is mistaken, Sophy is his wife, not Alan's.

Willie Moppet arranges a concert to be held at the Doria hotel for his mother's companion, Cecelia Bryant, who has a lovely voice. Willie learns that Lord Landell, who is a guest at the Doria, is his father, although his mother had never been married to him.

After the concert there is a bal masque at the Casino, to which Piers refuses to take Sophy. Willie Moppet, with the assistance of Lilla Brant and Cissy Bryant, arranges secretly to take Sophy. She meets Alan Brooke there and promises to go away with him the next night. Sophy arrives at the Villa Mona before Piers and she interrupts a burglary. The burglars get away. The next morning Piers finds the rope ladder which Sophy used to scale the wall. Piers learns that Sophy had attended the bal masque against his wishes and that she had spent the evening with Alan Brooke. Piers is furious and goes up to Brooke's studio. Alan isn't there, but Cristina tells him that her husband is about to go away and warns him to watch his wife.

That evening, while smoking in his garden, Alan hears Sophy scream and he rushes down to the Villa Mona. There he finds all the servants have been drugged and Sophy is in a state of terror. Willie Moppet arrives on the scene and tells Alan that he is suspicious of Strossen, the butler. Willie and Alan leave Sophy alone in the drawing-room for a few minutes, and on their return find her being choked by Piers, who has evidently gone mad.

INSTALLMENT LVII.
THE WELL MEANING FRIEND.

There had been a plot between Strossen and that girl in the lace shop to rob the villa. They had tried it the night before, but something had interfered with them, and evidently Strossen thought that if he were drugged along with the others no one would suspect him of having anything to do with the affair. Only in some way it had come out. That clever Signor Moppet, who lived at the Doria, had seen the two together, Strossen and Mlle. Claire, and turned the police on to them, and the missing articles which had been taken the night before were found in Mlle. Claire's room. She—that yellow haired Swiss—said that Strossen was her husband and had compelled her to do these dreadful things. But at the last moment she had been frightened by the Signor Tancred going to see her and telling her he would have her put in prison.

Then, somewhere in between these various happenings, according to Maria Frensi, the poor Signor Tancred had gone mad and tried to murder everybody.

"Tried to?" Cristina questioned sharply. "You said he had done it—that he had strangled his wife."

"Glad I'm alive," Lilla murmured.

Maria shrugged her shoulders.

"So they say. The gardener told me." A sly look came into her eyes. "Very likely the Signora Tancred is dead by now, but if she lives it will be to thank your husband. He heard her cry out, it seems, and rushed to save her. As for the other, the Signora Brant, it is very queer how she happens to come into it at all. They found her lying in the old cottage, stunned by a blow on the head, but she is recovering."

"I am not interested," said Cristina. "Now, you are as good as telling me that she, the Signora Tancred, is not dead at all. What do you mean? Why can't you get a story straight?"

Maria Frensi smiled sarcastically. "I am telling you what I heard. Ask your husband if you don't believe me. You, who made such a fine marriage and kept it dark—surely you can ask your husband. Are not these Tancreds friends of his? Aha, but they are not your friends, Cristina. Everybody knows that, everybody——"

"Hold your tongue, you lying cat!" cried Cristina. "And leave my house."

Maria laughed shrilly, and tied the ends of her shawl in a hard knot. She folded her arms and tossed back her head.

"You, a lady!" she taunted. "You, setting yourself up above all your old friends! And what have you got for your pretensions? Everybody knows that your husband is mad about the Signora Tancred and that he despises you. Why, she was his mistress long before he ever heard of you. I heard that from the English maid of the Principessa Doblieri. The principessa confides to her everything. They were lovers in Paris, and every one thought they were man and wife."

"It's a lie! Get out of here!" screamed Cristina. She seized a long-handled broom, but before she could wield it to any purpose, Maria Frensi had fled.

Then Cristina sat down and held her head between her hands.

What was she to do, supposing the Signor Tancred had been so unfortunate as not to have killed his wife? O, that poor, poor man! Cristina knew well enough what had driven him mad, not through being drugged, but because of his wife's perfidy.

"She is one who drives men mad," mused the unhappy Cristina, thus giving form to a great truth concerning Sophy Tancred. "She has driven her own husband out of his mind, and she has thoroughly bewitched mine."

. . . .

About this time Willie Moppet was sitting in a darkened room in the Villa Mona beside a couch on which Lilla Brant reposed.

Lilla's head was bandaged and the usually spruce Mr. Moppet was still attired in his dress clothes, minus the tail coat, and with his shirt sleeves turned up. His hands were grubby, there was a smudge on his nose, and a shave was needed. It is unlikely that our Mr. Moppet had ever been caught like that before, and most surprising of all, he was utterly unconscious of his appearance.

He had been drinking hot coffee, several cups of it, and devouring sandwiches made with slices of rather too savory sausage. Lilla had had tea and some aspirin tablets, and now she was going to have a glass of champagne and a cigaret. It was seven o'clock in the morning and an after-the-ballish feeling pervaded the Villa Mona.

In spite of her bandaged head and the dark patches under her eyes Lilla looked fairly sprightly.

"What kind of morning is it?" she asked, blinking because of her aching head.

Willie replied moodily that the day promised to be fine.

"Glad I'm alive," Lilla murmured. "What news of Sophy?"

"She's conscious—that's all," said Willie. "I don't know . . . the doctor seems to think she may pull through. Perhaps it would be as well if she didn't."

Lilla sighed and moved restlessly. "Give me a light, please. This blessed thing has gone out. O, I don't agree with you. It's Piers who . . . have they taken him away yet? The very idea of his being in the house terrifies me."

"They've taken him to the hospital. What made him go for you, Lilla?"

Mrs. Brant took a sip of her champagne before replying. "My fault," she said. "Although that woman of Brooke's began it by putting a flea in Piers' ear. Sophy told me some things . . . well, I'm afraid I can't tell you, but I was damn sorry for her, Willie. Practically she said goodby to me yesterday afternoon, and I didn't think I'd ever see her again."

"Going to do a bolt with Brooke, I suppose?" said Willie.

"Something like it," Lilla conceded. "But I could see her point of view. What are you to do when human passions are roused to such a pitch? Sophy would have killed herself if she had to go on living with Piers.

"I felt a misery, I can tell you! I was going down the garden on my way home when just by that cottage place I met Piers and had an unhappy inspiration. Ought to've known better." She took a couple of puffs at her cigaret and lost herself for a moment in thought.

"In fact you played the interfering well-meaning friend," prompted Willie.

"You'd call it that, I dare say," Lilla conceded. "He'd been brutal to Sophy at teatime, and it was that woman at the Casa Poverina who'd put him up to it. So I intended to reason with him. I said, 'Come in here, Piers, I want to talk to you,' and we went into the pavillion. Then I told him he ought to let Sophy go, that there were certain reasons why. She'd never really betrayed him. It's a long story, Willie, and an old one, and it's not mine to repeat to you, but I felt Piers ought to know, and that if he did know the whole truth of it he might have a heart."

"And then," said Willie, "you found out your mistake."

"Something like it."

Harry Langdon Sorely in Need of Help! Help!

Difficult to Be Funny in Sad Vehicle.

"HIS FIRST FLAME"
Produced by Mack Sennett.
Directed by Harry Edwards.
Presented at the State-Lake theater.

THE CAST.

Harry Howells	Harry Langdon
Ethel Morgan	Natalie Kingston
Mary Morgan	Ruth Hiatt
Amos McCarthy	Vernon Dent
Hector Benedict	Bud Jamieson
Mrs. Benedict	Dot Farley

BY MAE TINEE.

Good Morning!

Harry Langdon needs help. He's a real comedian, but has been out of luck in his last two vehicles. "Long Pants" was more painful than pleasant, and "His First Flame" is not an inspiring number.

Harry is seen as the nephew of an irascible fire chief and "first flame" refers to both a girl and a fire—and about neither is there anything to intrigue the soul to laughter.

The plot, exceedingly slight and correspondingly futile, is not entitled to any space hereabouts. Gags are forced and unfunny, and though the picture is only five reels long—it's about five reels too long.

Mr. Langdon energetically employs all the tricks which have served him so well before, but in the present case they don't get him much. Was it in "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," we saw him as a baby? [That was funny!] In this film he again dons swaddling clothes and a bonnet, and DOES make a realistic infant. You don't laugh much, but you do say to yourself that he is a tunnin' sing.

"His First Flame" is acted as well as the story deserves and is directed as well as it could be, I suppose.

Well—better luck to ye next time, Mr. Langdon!

An Uplift Picture, but Its Muscles Are Weak

"THE RED KIMONO"
Produced by Mrs. Wallace Reid.
Directed by Walter Lang.
Presented at the Castle theater.

THE CAST.

Gabrielle D'Arcy	Priscilla Bonner
Mrs. Fontaine	Virginia Pearson
Chauffeur	Theodore Von Eltz
Police Matron	Mary Carr
Man	George Seigmann
Howard Blaine	Carl Miller
Clara	Nellie Baker
Gabrielle's Father	Tyrone Power
District Attorney	Sheldon Lewis

KIND: Underworld drama.
QUALITY: Fair.
DIRECTION: All right.
PHOTOGRAPHY: Could be better.
ACTING: Pretty good.
GRIP ON THE INTEREST: Rather limp.

PLOT: The old one of the girl who is more sinned against than sinning.

REMARKS: The Castle has raised its admission fifteen cents and no children are admitted. Mrs. Wallace Reid is seen in the prologue telling you that "The Red Kimono" is taken from real life and she appears on the screen at the end of the picture begging you to be kind to those girls circumstance has placed beyond the pale.

She is an earnest and charming little woman.

See you tomorrow!

Drew Rallies Slightly After Serious Relapse

San Francisco, Cal., June 13.—(AP)—John Drew rallied slightly today from the most serious relapse last night, experienced during his two weeks of confinement from arthritis and rheumatic fever.

"His condition was so serious that I remained with him all night," Dr. Clarence Hoffman, one of the three doctors attending the veteran actor, said today. "When I left him, he had rallied slightly. In spite of the seriousness of his condition, Mr. Drew was very cheerful through it all."

The Inquiring Reporter

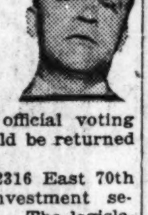
Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. Today's question was suggested in The Tribune office, and the $5 award is donated to the Algonquin ice fund.

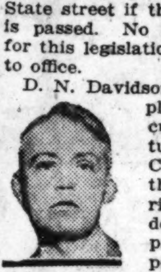
The Question.

Should the legislature deny the city the right to fix the duration of public utility franchises?

The Answers.



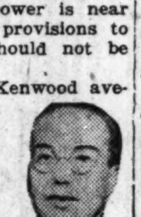
R. T. O'Keefe, 2922 Luna avenue, secretary Street Car Riders' league — Chicago needs no legislation; does not need to borrow a dollar, or issue a bond. Railroad freight cars might be allowed to operate on State street if this bill is passed. No public official voting for this legislation should be returned to office.



D. N. Davidson Jr., 2316 East 70th place, investment securities — The legislature should not deny Chicago this right. In the first place the right to use the streets does not belong to the present citizens only; posterity has something to say in this matter.

Henry M. Ashton, 6800 East End avenue, lawyer — No. All of the pending traction bills are fundamentally bad. To talk about amending them so as to make safeguards is nonsense. The indeterminate permit has been a failure everywhere. The only way to amend these traction bills is to strike out their enacting clauses.

Tom Little, 3325 Washington boulevard, automobile business — There are no amendments which the people could rely upon, therefore no legislation should be enacted at this time. The possibilities of a change in motive power is near at hand, and with no provisions to cover this, the bills should not be passed at present.



Noble W. Lee, 5615 Kenwood avenue, lawyer and secretary of the City club—No. To do so would take away one of the few strong weapons the people of this city possess. It would amount to a foreclosure of the city's future rights when we do not know what problems the future will present.

Art Students Benefit Under Will of Roche

Scholarships Created by Famous Architect.

The late Martin Roche, world famous architect, will continue to be a benefactor of his profession through a provision of his will, filed for probate yesterday before Edward S. Scheffler, assistant to Probate Judge Henry Horner. His wide collection of paintings and etchings are directed to be sold and the proceeds used for scholarships for students of the Art institute to study architecture abroad.

Mr. Roche, the last original member of the firm of Holabird & Roche, originators of the skeleton skyscraper type of office building, left an estate estimated at $850,000. He was 74 years old when he died June 4. The bulk of the estate is bequeathed to 15 cousins, nephews, and nieces, his closest relatives.

A collection of books on architecture is left to the Art institute.

Two women are rewarded for long service in his employ by trust funds of $10,000 for each. They are Josephine McLaughlin and Sarah Connors.

His favorite fishing tackle is given to a nephew, Frank M. Carroll, of 5244 Lakewood avenue, as is the library in his home at 420 Roslyn place. The library in his office is given to John A. Holabird, architect.

A second will filed during the day was that of Mrs. Sarah G. Phelps, who died May 10 at the age of 81 years. Her home, at 2427 Indiana avenue, was a gathering place for society before the death in 1891 of her husband, O. B. Phelps, wealthy real estate dealer, said to have been a cousin of Potter Palmer.

Mrs. Phelps' will discloses there is little that remains of her inherited fortune. Her personal possessions, including her jewelry, are to be distributed among eleven distant relatives, her closest surviving kin, and some of her friends. Rose O'Donnell, a servant, is given a sealskin coat and a pair of pearl ear drops. The Art institute and the Historical society each receive a portrait of Mr. Phelps.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

An item in THE TRIBUNE of June 11, regarding the arrest of Miles Smith, alleged owner of the liquor flat, gave the address as of 6145 Wentworth avenue. The address should have been 6154 Wentworth avenue.

GAAR WILLIAMS

THEATER

"LISTEN, DEARIE!":

Song-and-dance piece, in two acts, based by Harold Atteridge and Gertrude Purcell on the farce known as "Billy" and as "Billy's Tombstones," with music by Charles Gilpin: made known in Chicago (by the Shergil Corporation) June 13, 1927, in the Garrick Theater, with this cast:

Billy Hargrave	Stanley Ridges
His sister	Laura Lee
Their father	George Schiller
Beatrice	Doris Patston
Her mother	Rose Winter
Halm	Luis Alberni
Kansas Quinine	June Day
Hilbert	Fred Hillebrand
A detective	Max Stamm

THIS casual addition to the list of minor didoes possesses this distinction—that it is just like hundreds and hundreds of others that come and go. It gives out, from 8:30 to 11:00, the effect of having been seen and heard many, many times before. And this isn't because of its thin tale of the football hero who is handicapped in his lovemaking because, having lost his teeth, he can't pronounce Beatrice without giving to his inamorata the belief that he is drunk: while it is true that the basic sketch with that situation was acted over and over in the varieties by the late Sidney Drew before he became a celebrity of the comic films, and that it was used again in a three-act farce, and that a song-and-dance version called "Good-Bye, Girls!" was given here years ago, the plot is not more familiar than any other plot that is snapped up in the ceaseless effort to manufacture new shows. No: it isn't just the tale. The tunes seem old, even if you can't place them; and the jests and rejoinders and nifties seem old, even when they are apposite; and the verses, even while you are ready to swear that the performers are improvising them, fall into the expected rimes and rhythms. . . .

Yes: "Listen, Dearie!" is just another; and that, as I've tried to imply, is its distinction.

The performers go to it with that especial type of high-pitched self-assurance that would be fatal to a good piece of the sort, with never a suggestion that they don't regard the plot, dialogue, and lyrics as another "No! No, Nanette!" nor that each tune isn't another "Tea for Two" or "I Want to Be Happy." . . . Miss Patston is now an ingénue, and not so engaging as when, in "Katja," she was a soubrette; but, as she is within a week to have Jack Sheehan again vis-à-vis, it may be that she will soon be better off: Mr. Sheehan is to replace Mr. Ridges, who is rather flaccid. Mr. Hillebrand bleats staccato like Percy Helton, in the Cort; and that is his contribution to the merriment. And the others are the others: they're all loud and perfervid and, as I've said, self-assured.

Clinics Opened for Medical Research Here

Hundreds of Physicians Attend Sessions.

Chicago's growing importance as a medical center, taking rank with the great cities of the old world in opportunities for advanced study and research, was emphasized yesterday when hundreds of physicians from many states, most of whom have been in practice for years but are seeking new discoveries and methods in special fields, attended the opening of the summer clinics in various hospitals, held under the auspices of the Chicago Medical society.

Cook county hospital, with its great number of patients in acute stages of many diseases, was the center of interest for the visitors. The clinic rooms on the eighth floor were well attended, the physicians sitting in the theaters while the patients were wheeled before them for demonstration, operation or diagnosis.

It is expected before the next year's clinics that the county hospital will take still higher rank as a reaseach institution. The new laboratory and hospital buildings about to obe opened offer an unparalleled opportunity for medical study in this country, and the great need, it is stated by attending physicians, is for a noted director of pathology to lead the research work and utilize the material at hand for the benefit of the younger physicians.

Several medical schools have offered to pay part of the high salary of such a man, but the doctors at the county hospital feel that this should be a county job and that the county should get the credit for the work that is waiting to be done. A man of international reputation is already being sought.

Among the clinics at the county hospital yesterday were those by Dr. Frederick Tice, emeritus professor of medicine at the University of Illinois, in internal medicine; Dr. Raymond McNeely, professor of surgery at Northwestern, demonstrating operating work with blood vessels; Dr. Morris Blatt, professor of pediatrics at the University of Illinois, in children's diseases; Dr. Philip Lewin in surgery with crippled children, and Dr. Clark W. Finnerud, professor of dermatology at Rush Medical college, in skin diseases.

Dr. Karl Meyer, associate professor of surgery at Northwestern and medical manager at the county hospital, will hold a clinic today on diseases of the thyroid glands.

Others lecturing and demonstrating yesterday were Drs. F. H. Falls, George Apfelbach, Martin R. Chase, Leon Unger, C. K. Stulik, James Carr, A. B. Udelson, S. J. Taub, E. P. Geisler, E. A. Oliver, C. A. Parker, and George F. Suker.

Clinics also were held at the Michael Reese, Children's Memorial, Presbyterian and other hospitals. The course is for two weeks.

50,000 Shriners to Be in Atlantic City Parade

Atlantic City, N. J., June 13.—(AP)—Atlantic City's greatest parade will take place tomorrow morning when more than 50,000 red fezzed shriners march on the boardwalk as an escort to Imperial Potentate David W. Crosland, which will officially open the 53d annual session of that organization.

Caravan after caravan arrived in the city throughout the day, each being led to their respective headquarters by a band.

Fifty Hopi Indians, members of El Zaribas temple of Phoenix, Ariz., and the Boumi temple of Baltimore regaled the boardwalk throng by a series of dances staged in full regalia.

The first formal social function took place tonight in the Chelsea hotel, several hundred nobles holding a reception for Imperial Potentate Crosland, officers of the imperial council, representatives of the council and their wives.

Summer Horse Show Season Opens Tonight at South Shore Club

The South Shore Country club horse show opening at 8 o'clock this evening will be the first gun of the summer horse show drive. Joseph E. Hitt is chairman of the committee in charge of the South Shore show, which is to have afternoon and evening sessions until the end of the week and an extra program on Saturday morning for the children. The boxholders include James G. Alexander, Benjamin Leslie Behr, Nathan L. Blackman, John G. Campbell, William E. Dee, C. Groverman Ellis, Dr. John F. Golden, Lawrence Heyworth, Kenesaw M. Landis, E. J. Lehmann, Otto W. Lehmann, Arthur G. Leonard, Wilbur F. McWhinny, John R. Thompson Jr., Lawrence Whiting, and Frank F. Winans.

Arrangements are being made for what is called "The North Shore Circuit," the Milwaukee horse show on the first week end of July at the Milwaukee Country club grounds, the Lake Forest show on July 8 and 9 at Onwentsia, and the Fort Sheridan show on July 15 and 16. For those who are making this circuit the three shows offer to make arrangements for stabling the steeds in the intervals between shows.

An engagement announcement of interest to Chicagoans was made on Sunday in Milwaukee. Mr. and Mrs. William C. Quarles of Milwaukee made known the engagement of their daughter, Alice Bannard, to John T. Pirie II. of Evanston, son of Samuel C. Pirie of Sea Cliff, Long Island. Mr. Pirie is a nephew of John T. Pirie of Lake Forest.

Onwentsia is to have its first women's golf day of the season today. Mrs. Donald B. Douglas is chairman of the women's golf committee, the other officers of which are Miss Edith Cummings, vice chairman, Mrs. William R. Odell Jr., treasurer, and Mrs. Lawrence Williams, secretary.

The Junior auxiliary of the Children's Memorial hospital is to hold a bathing suit, parasol, and white shoe sale at the Rummage shop tomorrow. Mrs. Charles Granville LeForgee, president of the auxiliary, is to be in charge, and will have assisting her Miss Marion Clow, Mrs. Stephen Y. Hord, Mrs. Harry Macdonald, Mrs. Howard Bartling, Mrs. Henry Bartholomay, Mrs. Herbert Kennedy, Miss Lyla Woodruff, Mrs. Thomas Hammond, and Mrs. Thomas Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel H. Blatchford Jr. of Hubbard Woods are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Margaret Copeland Blatchford, at the Evanston hospital on June 9. Mrs. Blatchford was Miss Margaret Copeland before her marriage.

Mrs. Noble Brandon Judah of Lake Forest, arrived in New York City from abroad last Friday and was in New York over the week-end.

Mrs. I. Newton Perry and her daughters, Miss Pauline and Miss Sally Perry, are in New York City for a day or two before sailing for abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Charles Day of Evanston are to depart this week for the east to attend the commencement exercises at Smith college. Their daughter, Miss Victoria Day, is one of the graduates.

Mrs. Frank R. Wheeler of 37 East Schiller street is making a fortnight's round of visits in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Reinhard of 426 Surf street are attending the graduation of their daughter, Claire, from the University of Cincinnati. They are to be in Glencoe for the summer.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Wheel Chair Needed.

"I wonder if you could secure a wheel chair for a young boy I know. He is in a most serious condition and the doctors say he must be kept out of doors. His mother has been paying bills for such a long time, and, as her only means of support is the income from the rooms she rents, she cannot afford to buy one for him. M. E. K."

If you've recovered and no longer need your wheel chair, you know what a comfort one is to the invalid. May not this little fellow have yours so he can get out into the warm summer sunshine?

Wants a Caliper.

"About three months ago I was in an automobile accident, fracturing my left leg. I am to be discharged from the hospital soon and the doctor told me to get a spring for my foot, called a walking caliper. My mother cannot afford to buy it and I wondered if one of your readers would have one for me. I am 13 years old. J. W."

If you have this instrument, which will add so much to the comfort and happiness of this unfortunate boy, we would appreciate so much your giving it to him. Please let us hear from you.

Books for a Student.

"I have a set of books called the 'Home Study Circle Library,' including 12 books of lesson outlines, which I would like to give some worthy student. The books are beautifully bound and include the following subjects: American and English Literature, Science, Mathematics, Music, Business, etc. M. L."

U. of Chicago Takes Over Convalescent Home for Children

The University of Chicago yesterday formally took over the Country Home for Convalescent Children at Prince Crossing, near Wheaton, founded in 1911 by Mrs. William J. Chalmers, 1100 Lake Shore drive.

President Max Mason of the university, Vice Presidents F. C. Woodward and L. R. Steer, heads of the medical departments at the university and the board of directors of the home, visited the farm and officially completed the affiliation in the Chalmers Memorial library.

Representing more than a million dollars in endowments, the home was built up to furnish a cheerful environment for convalescing children and a place where they may carry on their education. "We realized," said Mrs. Chalmers, "that a crippled child may be entirely cured, but without an education he remains crippled."

Dr. Frank Billings suggested the affiliation to Mrs. Chalmers several years ago, telling her many problems could be solved there pertaining to diseases of childhood and adolescence.

President Mason, in accepting the trust, said: "The increased possibilities of this institution are wonderful. You are leaving no problems to confront us and the permanence of the home is now assured. Our body of trustees is perpetuated forever. When we pass on there will be others to carry on our work.

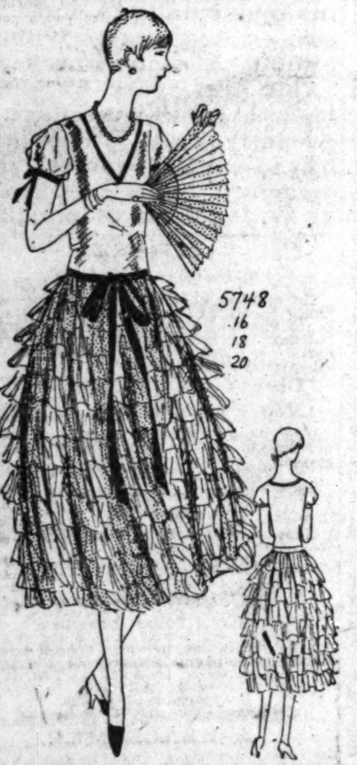
"I doubt if we can carry on the work as well as Mrs. Chalmers has, but you are not losing her. You are merely getting a new friend."

The library, manual training school, sewing room, domestic science kitchen and the wards are all endowed. Each small desk in the schoolroom and each bed in the wards bears the name of its donor.

Quaint and Sweet Is This Dance Frock



by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—We are calculating the net gain, this season. Along with point d'esprit, net has proved a good investment. The virtues of lightness and grace, which, in lesser degree, it shares with tulle, are supplemented by a greater practicality. It does not muss nor crush as does that more perishable stuff.

Particularly suited is net to the development of a bouffante frock. Here is a model which has just that reminiscent flavor of a more naïve era which at this moment is the heighth of fashion. Net, black velvet ribbon, ruffles, and little puffed sleeves—such are details, each of which had its place in the feminine fashions of long ago. With its tight bodice and skirt made entirely of ruffles, the frock is of cream net over a matching foundation.

Another period dance frock of demure charm is executed in white taffeta brocaded with silver. Its gathered skirt shows an uneven hem line and the fitted bodice is shirred from top to bottom. Still a third frock of bouffante style borrows from bygone modes the fichu and presents it in gold lace to match a front ruffle revealed by the upward movement of the tiered skirt. Apple green taffeta is the material selected.

But, of course, you can be ruffled without being "period." A one piece frock of silver lace adds to its full, flaring skirt a series of tulle ruffles stopped to show a plain panel front and back. Another frock follows a sheath line until it encounters at the bottom of the skirt a series of chiffon ruffles, set on diagonally.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

A Little Flour Soup.

The flour soups are used by people who understand fundamental principles of economic nutrition. These are not merely flour thickened liquids like cream soups, in which unfortunately the flour is often but half cooked. They are, instead, soups which contain enough fat with the flour to give the product even more nutriment or fuel value than any ordinary soup has. In making them, the flour and fat with water—soup stock could be used—are cooked together for at least an hour with some sort of vegetable seasoning or seasonings. We were amazed at the agreeable quality of one made long ago with salt pork, flour and a little potato.

And we were pleased at the superior quality of one made the other day for two people, with the following ingredients: Less than two ounces of lean beefsteak, between two and three ounces of beef fat from a club steak, two tablespoons of flour, one and one-half cups of water, one large onion, one large sweet red pepper, a few dried celery leaves, salt to taste.

The event leading up to this was as follows: A club steak was purchased. The butcher was invited not to toss the loose fat on it into the waste box. Besides loose fat on one side it had a thick frame of fat, though the bone was not attractive. It was the tail—and a little layer of lean and two of fat—that, when made immaculate, were cut in fine pieces, rolled in the seasoned flour, then seared in a little of the fat tried out. It was taken from the pan and the onion and pepper given the same treatment, or rather they were fried under a cover with gentle cooking until softened. The whole was put back into the pan with the surplus flour and the water and stirred until it was thickened. Then the whole was simmered for one hour. It might have been strained, but sweet red pepper is delicious when seasoned with onion and celery, and the onion can be cooked so as to seem like part of the thickening of the soup.

We use exactly the same preparation in making a gravy for macaroni, only it must be thicker. In that case we add other seasonings, especially some mushrooms cut fine, and a little cream also improves the gravy, or, instead of the mushrooms when we make this preparation for a soup, we can use a tomato.

Take to the Waters and Swim Off What Ails You, Sisters

by Antoinette Donnelly

I hope you are all planning a beach summer. If not, why not?

Think about it, anyway! Think of what a swimming season can do for you! People travel to Vienna chasing a rejuvenation rainbow when their own homes are within a few minutes' reach of "swimmin' holes" that would give them all the rejuvenation they can use in a year, if they only knew it.

I claim for swimming more health and youth giving virtues than all the patent medicine ads put together could list as testimonials—and the assurance that there'll be nothing phoney about the cure.

If you are underweight, overweight, tired out, played out, flat chested, droop shouldered, anemic, weak, lack pep—take to the waters and swim off what ails you. I was going to suggest that if you were knockneed or a communist you might get yourself straightened out by the same process, but perhaps that would be going a bit too strong on testimonials for my favorite exercise. Yet, crookedness of body and kinks in the brain are often ironed out, given the right physical exercise. And if there is an all around "righter-er" exercise than swimming I have yet to meet it.

There's everything in it rolled into one good piece of medicine. There's play, recreation, sunshine, open air, lungs pumped clean, every muscle in the body worked. And if that isn't enough, there's probably a nice coat of tan and a jolly little sunburn to prove you had a good time. These latter features, however, may be prevented if you'd just as soon have your fun without them.

The season will open up pretty soon now and I am eager that you get the spirit early enough to take a few lessons if you do not already know how to swim, for just sitting on the beach watching the others play isn't the rejuvenating program I have mapped out for you.

It does not take long to learn how to swim, and once you know how you will be more eager to take to the real fountain of youth, daily. Get yourself as chic a bathing suit as you can afford because any woman knows that the prettier she looks, the more in the swim she feels, the better chance of being rescued by one of the handsome life savers should she feel like yelling to be saved.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

C. G.: OVEREATING, ASIDE FROM the damage it does the figure, leads to digestive disturbances that, in turn, cause a number of cutaneous disorders. The greasy, muddy skin is but one form, but a prevalent one. Constipation is at the root of the trouble. Persons who exert enough energy in exercise to stimulate the muscles of the intestines and who do not overload the stomach are not susceptible to the skin ailments of overfed, indolent ones. Reducing frequently improves the face as well as the figure.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

On Her Mind.

One of the big department stores was having a dress sale on the fifth floor, and as the prices seemed reasonable I was in a hurry to get up there and see if I could possibly pick out a dress worth wearing. The price of the dresses was $12.

The elevator man said, "Please call your floors," and I responded, "Twelve dollars, please," instead of "Fifth floor."

You can be sure I rushed out of that elevator like a streak of lightning. J. C.

Trying to Mind Mother.

My family was invited to a friend's home for Sunday dinner. Before going I warned the children not to say anything about any food they didn't care for, or express any dislike of any kind.

During the dinner, when all was quiet, my little three year old held up a long hair, and said, "Well, I will just lay you aside and say nothing about you." It was an embarrassing moment for all. E. W. M.

It's a Hard Part and One That Needs Study, This "In-Law" Role

BY DORIS BLAKE.

What are the two hardest jobs on earth for women?

Being a mother-in-law and being a step-mother, wouldn't you say? And the harder of these is the mother-in-law job, because she has the rôle thrust on her. A step-mother does not have to be one unless she wants to mother another woman's children.

They are alike in one respect in their difficulties. Ages of tradition have built up a sentiment against them. In order to conduct their respective duties with the rewards of devotion often due them, they have to batter down with unusual fortitude and personal sacrifice the barriers that their very cognoments raise.

An own mother may be selfish, domineering, cruel, unsympathetic and still maintain a certain degree of sentiment about her position. But a mannerism of an in-law or a step-parent may be justifiably accepted as an excuse for revolt by those forced into contact with her. This being so, the mother-in-law job, which we'll speak of because it is a commoner one than the step-mother, ought to be considered as such and a study made of it so that the least friction possible may be attained.

An old formula for overcoming the difficulties of the position still remains the best one. Don't be a mother-in-law. Be a mother to your in-laws, a real one—one who knows that grown children have rights and privileges of their own. Leave them absolutely free from interference and dictation, remembering that they, particularly, have the right to choose the life partner they find most desirous.

The perfect mother-in-law rarely takes up her abode with her children. She knows that two is company and three the difference between heaven and the other place, where a young couple is concerned.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Engaged to Another.

"Dear Miss Blake: A young man who is engaged to another girl recently asked me to accompany him to the theater. Should I accept?

"ALEXANDRA."

Under the circumstances, 'twould be better to decline, and you must agree he wasn't fair to her when he suggested it.

Creating a Bad Impression.

"Dear Miss Blake: At night I know my friend wants to kiss me good night, but he is bashful. How can I encourage him? HELEN."

You don't want to encourage any such thing. He'd assume you acted the same toward every other boy you know. That's an impression you can't afford to give out.

AMERICA'S DOMINANT INDUSTRY CALLS YOU.

At last scientific salesmanship is being successfully applied to the sale of fine motor cars. More than three hundred people interested in increasing their earning power attended the third weekly meeting and enrolled in our gratis ten lesson course in scientific salesmanship, personal efficiency, and applied psychology at Stutz corner, 2500 South Michigan-av., last Tuesday evening.

These lessons are being conducted by Fred B. Smith, America's greatest demonstrator of applied psychology in sales work. So overwhelming has been the success of the new plan, and we are judging by actual sales, that F. E. Moskovics, President of the Stutz Motor Car Company of America, is coming to Chicago to address our next meeting to be held Tuesday, June 14th, at seven thirty p. m. at S. W. corner 25th and Michigan.

Mr. Moskovics is a renowned speaker, Sales Executive, and an automotive engineer of international reputation. He was personally selected by Charles M. Schwab to be the head of the Stutz Motor Car Company of America and is the designer of the new and proven invention, the Safety Stutz.

An opportunity is offered to every sales person or potential sales person in Chicago to take advantage of this remarkable course without charge, and in addition, the further opportunity of earning while learning is afforded.

If you desire to improve your position in life and to better your mental equipment, attend our next meeting. At that time full details will be furnished you regarding the course and how you can earn either with full effort or part time service an unusual amount of money for time expended.

WANTED—MALE HELP.
Salesmen, Solicitors, Etc.

AMBITIOUS MAN.
Salary to Start.
Commission and Bonus.

We offer you an association with an organization that is HUMAN.

Whether you have had any real estate experience or not, if you are 25 or over and otherwise qualified, we will place you in a position which will enable you right from the start to earn an income far above the average.

Our property is exceptionally well located right in the fastest growing section of metropolitan Chicago. We furnish leads, automobiles to carry our prospects to the property, dine and entertain them at our expense, and give you the kind of coöperation you are unlikely to find elsewhere; men starting now can enter new addition to our sales reorganization on the ground floor.

SEE WM. K. BRAASCH.
PERCY WILSON & CO.,
FOUNDED ON 20 YEARS OF REAL ESTATE SERVICE,
11th floor, 109 N. Dearborn.

AN A1 OPPORTUNITY.

The Burch Manufacturing Co. of Kansas City, Mo., makers of the finest line of Popcorn Machines and Butter Toasted Sandwich Machines on the market, need salesmen of character, personality, and industry. Our Chas. T. Manley will be at the Morrison Hotel Monday, June 13th, and Tuesday, June 14th, to interview applicants. This is a $1,000 a month proposition.

AN ENTIRELY NEW SALES PLAN.

I have an opening for two good real estate salesmen to call on brokers and contract with them to act as our representatives in their neighborhood. A very profitable connection if you are qualified for this work. 180 N. Michigan-av., Room 1617.

AN HONEST DAY'S WORK FOR $10 REAL MONEY.

I can use three men that will exchange a full day for real money. Come up and let me talk this over with you—year around work. No traveling. 9:30 to 1 p. m.

S. N. BLOCH,
Room 660, 31 S. Clark-st.

ARE YOU,
OR HAVE YOU

at some time been a successful salesman? If so, you interest me, particularly if you have made good at some form of investment or specialty selling. Check the following statements carefully:

No one else has what I have to sell.

It is absolutely new.

The sales method positively unique.

Sales resistance is nil.

Results are quick.

Earnings are enormous.

This is the first time an ad has appeared on it in this or any other paper.

This is a special and new department with a $6,000,000 firm.

While this has to do with Real Estate it is not a lot selling proposition and I am not interested in the average lot peddler. If you think you measure up, see me at once for special deal.

MR. BARTON,
ROOM 502,
7 W. MADISON-ST.

Are You An Experienced SALESMAN?

Or do you want to become a salesman? Now is the time to start. If you have experience we can place you at once in a permanent position where there is rapid promotion to the one that is ambitious. There is no limit to the future. We can also use a few who are not experienced. We will put you through a course of training and during that time you should be able to make $50 to $60 per week.

We are one of the largest concerns in Chicago selling a commodity which is used by every one. This is not a get rich quick proposition, but if you have the ambition to work hard and stick to it you should be able to make enough to make you independent for life. Call Tuesday from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m.

THOMAS F. LUNDERGAN,
ROOM 918,
77 W. WASHINGTON-ST.

ARE YOU STILL LOOKING FOR A LIVE ONE?
STOP RIGHT HERE.

This is a new deal and a good one. Not real estate. Every he-man a prospect; sales resistance practically eliminated. If you can't hit here, get a pick and shovel. This position is good for $30 a day every day.

KNOW YOUR POWER.
PROF. MICHAEL LEWIS,
CHARACTER ANALYST,
WILL READ YOU FREE

and tell you what you can do best, the type of mind you have and where your weakness lays; what keeps you back from success and how to use the right brain centers.

Prof. Lewis will describe your strong and weak points, take you out of a work that you may not be fitted for into a profession in harmony with your mind; also pointing out how your social, domestic and intellectual powers are developed.

WHY YOU ARE WHAT YOU ARE AND WHAT YOU CAN BE.

He will describe your parents and in many cases your grandparents, proving the perfection of his system. This you will hear without being asked one question. This is equal to any analysis you will pay $25 for.

ABSOLUTELY FREE OF CHARGE.

Never before in the history of character analysis were such descriptions of human nature given. 23 years of actual experience and with some of the largest corporations in the United States.

Those selected by Prof. Lewis will be given a position with a large Chicago corporation.

HOURS 10 TO 2 P. M.
RM. 318 BURNHAM BLDG.,
160 N. LA SALLE-ST.

ARE YOU SUCCESSFUL?
If Not,

DR. WILLIAM A. JOHNSON,
Character Analyst,
will point out your strong mental traits; will tell you what obstacles are holding you back from success; will help you develop a positive character.

A Positive Character Succeeds

Let Dr. Johnson start you on the right road to greater success; let him show you where you can apply yourself to the best advantage; let him tell you how to associate yourself with others to achieve greater success.

ALL ABSOLUTELY FREE.

There is no charge. This character delineation is absolutely free of cost to you, the expense being defrayed by a large Chicago concern which will offer positions to those qualifying in Dr. Johnson's analysis. The men and women selected will be given a free course in self-development.

Don't put off finding out just what you should do to succeed. Consult Dr. Johnson personally before 10 a. m. The lecture will begin shortly after that time.

Apply in person before 10 a. m., Tuesday morning. Rm. 302, 35 N. Dearborn-st.

YOUNG MARRIED MEN.

MAKE YOUR SPARE TIME PAY.

This ad is directed to the type of men who do not usually read want ads. If, after reading it, you know of some one worthy, you will be doing him a great favor by calling it to his attention.

I want to communicate with 2 or 3 men whose wives, homes, children, and future mean more than anything else in the world.

I have an opportunity for men of this type with modest income, who have an eye to the future and who will be willing to devote a few leisure evening hours toward earning an additional income that can be put into the bank for the future, while less ambitious young men are wasting their time. If you happen to have selling experience—fine. If not, so much the better. The main requisites are good character and ambition to work hard for big returns. Address O H 600, Tribune.

AMBITIOUS MAN.

Must be over 25; one who has lived in Chicago for at least 2 years. We prefer a man who has had some experience in either the mechanical or building trade, but who desires to increase his income. This position pays a salary to start and offers a splendid opportunity for quick advancement. See MR. WILLIAMS, 11th floor, 109 Dearborn.

Men Who Will Work and

Who Want to Make Money.

THIS FIRM IS FOUNDED ON 20 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

WANTED—MEN.
Work During Evenings.
A Vacation This Summer. All Expenses Paid.
A $12,000,000
NEW PROJECT.

makes it possible for this amazing opportunity and forces us to open several new departments; $40 PER WEEK MINIMUM should be earned. This is your spare time extra pay check. You are eligible, whether employed or unemployed, if over 25 years of age.

READ EVERY WORD CAREFULLY. INVESTIGATE. You cannot afford to pass up the greatest opportunity in Chicago today. The work is extremely simple and will not conflict with your present employment, and you will not be asked to sell anything. This is your opportunity. POSITIVELY NO EXPERIENCE REQUIRED. Many people in Chicago are earning a greater remuneration in their spare hours than they do at their regular occupation. We have a systematized method of placing you in a position to EARN EXTRA MONEY WITHOUT ASKING YOU TO SELL. We do not ask you for more than ONE HOUR of your spare time each day, and you will understand the work before we ask you to start. You can do this work because it is simple, yet pleasant, congenial and dignified. These positions can be filled by mechanics, tradesmen, clerks, business men and professional men DURING THE EVENINGS, AFTER BUSINESS HOURS. This is genuine and you are not just taking a chance. We are offering you a REAL OPPORTUNITY. You simply cannot afford to pass up a real money making opportunity. We DO NOT TASK YOU TO SELL and you can earn immediately a substantial extra pay check for your spare time. Stop wearing out shoe leather and chasing "Rainbows." YOU SHOULD EARN $40 PER WEEK MINIMUM. Those who seriously desire to better themselves, financially and otherwise, can get almost any kind of work at any time, but we can assure you that you cannot expect an opportunity like this to be offered for a very long time. COME AND LEARN MORE ABOUT THE WORK. We have a BONUS PLAN that will mean independence to real workers, which means a wonderful vacation, a new car, or a real Bank Account. WE WILL STAND BEHIND YOU FINANCIALLY. Included in our plan is a 10 day VACATION to those who work consistently for two months. You pick your location anywhere in the U. S. TRANSPORTATION AND ALL EXPENSES PAID. This plan is for those who are ambitious and have the will power and the determination to desire to get somewhere in this world. Idlers and wasters not wanted. COME AND LEARN HOW TO MAKE EXTRA MONEY. You will not need to answer any other Ads to increase your earning power. There are many whom you will meet at our offices who answered an Ad similar to this some few years ago who are now independent, and one who is rated at a Million. We have people who have earned in their spare hours an average of $50 per week for nearly 10 years. MAKE UP YOUR MIND TO ANSWER. Be prompt. This Ad will appear until Tuesday evening only, June 14. We want only earnest and sincere workers. No one will be considered after Tuesday evening. Applicants must be white.

APPLY TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 14, AT 8 P. M. SHARP, ROOM 701, 5 N. LA SALLE-ST. [opposite La Salle Hotel].

EVERY ONE WILL RECEIVE UTMOST CONSIDERATION.

TEAR THIS AD OUT AND MAKE UP YOUR MIND TO BE ON TIME.

WANTED—MEN!
Work During Evening.
You Can Earn a Vacation as a Bonus for Your Summer Work. You Can Earn at Least $35 in Your Spare Time Every Week.

WHETHER EMPLOYED OR UNEMPLOYED, READ CAREFULLY AND INVESTIGATE. YOU CANNOT AFFORD TO PASS UP THE GREATEST OPPORTUNITY IN CHICAGO TODAY.

READ THESE FACTS CAREFULLY: Remember, you can earn at least $35 for your spare time work during the evenings and we will show you how to do this EXTREMELY SIMPLE work and make you understand thoroughly before you start. WORK WILL NOT CONFLICT WITH PRESENT EMPLOYMENT. NO SELLING. NO SCHOOLING. NO INSTRUCTION COURSES. These positions can be filled during the spare hours [during the evening] of mechanics, tradesmen and business men. ABSOLUTELY NO EXPERIENCE REQUIRED. Full time positions can be arranged for those unemployed and those desiring permanent work. FINANCIAL CO-OPERATION GIVEN. This is not just "another ad," but a responsible, well known Chicago firm offering real, dignified employment. Positions [part time or permanent] are extremely simple, in pleasant surroundings and most congenial atmosphere. Do not confuse this ad with others of similar wording, for YOU WILL NOT BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING. This is real. This is genuine. Every ambitious person in the city of Chicago would be anxious to procure this employment if he only knew the facts. You will EARN THE MOMENT YOU START work and we will make you understand and know you can do the work before we ask you to start and you can earn as a bonus a TEN DAY VACATION WITH ALL EXPENSES PAID for three months' consistent work. YOU select your vacation site anywhere in the United States. We PAY TRANSPORTATION AND ALL EXPENSES. Vacation starts June 1. Don't be misled and don't waste your time on "wild goose chases." This is an unusual opportunity. Come and get the facts. Applicants must be white and over 25 years of age. Every one will be given utmost consideration. This is not a chance, but a REAL OPPORTUNITY. This ad will appear until Wednesday evening only, and none will be considered after Wednesday evening.

Apply Wednesday evening, June 15, at 8 o'clock, ROOM 1512 BLUM BLDG., 624 S. MICHIGAN-AV. [next door to the Blackstone hotel.]

NOTICE—Our business is becoming so heavy that we have decided to open a new department. Scores of new applicants have been given employment during the evening after business hours. Many of our employes, who are employed otherwise during the day time, have bought new cars and have opened new bank accounts as a result of this wonderful extra income opportunity. Make up your mind now to answer this ad promptly, for this opportunity will not last long. Knowing how and why means EXTRA MONEY during the summer months, A BANK ACCOUNT AND VACATION. Shirkers, buck-passers and would-be smart alecks stay away. REMEMBER THE TIME TO APPLY IS 8 O'CLOCK WEDNESDAY EVENING ONLY. Now if you really desire to open a REAL BANK ACCOUNT and ENJOY A VACATION THIS SUMMER ABSOLUTELY FREE OF EXPENSES, DON'T MISS THIS. Do not answer this ad unless you are really sincere and anxious to earn an EXTRA WEEKLY INCOME during the summer months. Another organization has attempted to copy our extra income plan and has copied this ad verbatim. "A hint to the wise is sufficient." Be guided accordingly. We will receive no applicants after 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, so make up your mind NOW to answer on time. REGARDLESS OF PRESENT EMPLOYMENT, EVERY ONE WILL BE GIVEN FULLEST CONSIDERATION AT THE ABOVE TIME.

[THIS FIRM IS FOUNDED ON 20 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.]

WANTED—LADIES.

Work During Evenings. A Vacation This Summer. All Expenses Paid.

A $12,000,000 NEW PROJECT

makes it possible for this amazing opportunity and forces us to open several new departments. $40 PER WEEK MINIMUM should be earned. This is your spare time extra pay check. You are eligible whether employed or unemployed.

READ EVERY WORD CAREFULLY —INVESTIGATE. You cannot afford to pass up the greatest opportunity in Chicago today. The work is extremely simple and will not conflict with your present employment and you will not be asked to sell anything. This is your opportunity. POSITIVELY NO EXPERIENCE REQUIRED. Many people in Chicago today are earning a greater remuneration in their spare hours than they do at their regular occupation. We have a systematized method of placing you in a position to EARN EXTRA MONEY WITHOUT ASKING YOU TO SELL. We do not ask you for more than ONE HOUR of your spare time each day. You will understand the work before we ask you to start. You can do this work because it is simple, yet pleasant, congenial, and dignified. These positions can be filled by housewives, teachers, nurses, business ladies, and office workers DURING THE EVENINGS AFTER BUSINESS HOURS. This is genuine, and you are not just taking a chance. We are offering you a REAL OPPORTUNITY. You simply cannot afford to pass up a real money making opportunity. WE DO NOT ASK YOU TO SELL, and you can earn immediately a substantial extra pay check for your spare time. Stop wearing out shoe leather and chasing "Rainbows." YOU SHOULD EARN $40 PER WEEK MINIMUM. Those who seriously desire to better themselves financially and otherwise can get almost any kind of work at any time, but we can assure you that you cannot expect an opportunity like this to be offered for a very long time. COME AND LEARN MORE ABOUT THE WORK. We have a bonus plan that will mean independence to real workers, which means a wonderful vacation, a new car, or a real bank account. WE WILL STAND BEHIND YOU FINANCIALLY. Included in our plan is a 10 day VACATION to those who work consistently for two months. You pick your location anywhere in the U. S. TRANSPORTATION AND ALL EXPENSES PAID. This plan is for those women who are ambitious and have the will power and the determination to desire to get somewhere in this world. COME AND LEARN HOW TO MAKE EXTRA MONEY. You will not need to answer any other ads to increase your earning power. There are many whom you will meet at our offices who answered an ad similar to this some few years ago who are now independent and one who is rated at a million. We have some who have earned in their spare hours an average of $50 per week for nearly 10 years. MAKE UP YOUR MIND TO ANSWER. Be prompt. This ad will appear until Tuesday evening only, June 14th. We want only earnest and sincere workers. No one will be considered after Tuesday evening.

APPLY TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 14, AT 8 P. M. SHARP. ROOM 701, 5 N. LA SALLE-ST., opposite La Salle Hotel.

EVERY ONE WILL RECEIVE UTMOST CONSIDERATION.

TEAR THIS AD OUT AND MAKE UP YOUR MIND TO BE ON TIME.

YOUNG MARRIED WOMEN

MAKE YOUR SPARE TIME PAY.

This ad is directed to the type of women who do not usually read want ads. If, after reading it, you know of some one worthy you will be doing her a great favor by calling it to her attention.

I want to communicate with 2 or 3 young married women who are really anxious to take a part in assisting their husbands to create a nest egg for the future and who can conveniently devote a few afternoon or evening hours toward earning an income of their own. This work, which is pleasant and dignified, will not interfere with household duties. If you happen to have selling experience, fine; if not, so much the better. The main requisites are good character and ambition to work hard for big returns. Address O M 308, Tribune.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR PART TIME WORKERS.

Arrange your own hours; make money in your spare time without giving up your present pleasures or duties. I represent an old responsible firm and will interview several refined, ambitious ladies who want to earn extra money.

Dignified, congenial work, no experience necessary; we train you and give you full co-operation of experienced salespeople.

APPLY TO MRS. GIBSON, ROOM 735
10 A. M. TO 6 P. M.

Miscellaneous.

[OTHER ADS OF SIMILAR WORDING ARE appearing in the Chicago newspapers. DO NOT BE MISLED. THEY HAVE NO CONNECTION WITH THIS FIRM nor is their method similar.]

WANTED—LADIES!

Work during evening. You can earn a vacation as a bonus for your summer work. You can earn at least $35 in your spare time every week.

WHETHER EMPLOYED OR UNEMPLOYED, READ CAREFULLY AND INVESTIGATE. YOU CANNOT AFFORD TO PASS UP THE GREATEST OPPORTUNITY IN CHICAGO TODAY.

READ THESE FACTS CAREFULLY. Remember you can earn at least $35 for your spare time work during the evenings, and we will show you how to do this EXTREMELY SIMPLE work and make you understand thoroughly before you start. WORK WILL NOT CONFLICT WITH PRESENT EMPLOYMENT. NO SELLING. NO SCHOOLING. NO INSTRUCTION COURSES. These positions can be filled during spare hours [during the evening] of housewives, teachers, nurses, business ladies, and office workers. ABSOLUTELY NO EXPERIENCE REQUIRED. Full time positions can be arranged for those unemployed and those desiring permanent work. FINANCIAL CO-OPERATION GIVEN. This is not "just another ad," but a responsible, well known Chicago firm offering real, dignified employment. Positions [part time or permanent] are extremely simple, in pleasant surroundings, and most congenial atmosphere. Do not confuse this ad with others of similiar wording, for YOU WILL NOT BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING. This is real. This is genuine. Every ambitious person in the city of Chicago would be anxious to procure this employment if she only knew the facts. YOU will EARN THE MOMENT YOU START work, and we will make you understand and know you can do the work before we ask you to start, and you can earn as a bonus a TEN DAY VACATION, WITH ALL EXPENSES PAID for three months' consistent work. You select your vacation site anywhere in the United States. WE PAY TRANSPORTATION AND ALL EXPENSES. Vacation starts June 1. Don't be misled and don't waste your time on "wild goose chases." This is an unusual opportunity. Come and get the facts. Applicants must be white and over 25 years of age. Every one will be given utmost consideration. This is not a chance, but A REAL OPPORTUNITY. This ad will appear until Wednesday evening only, and none will be considered after Wednesday evening.

Apply Wednesday evening, June 15, at 8 o'clock. ROOM 1312 BLUM BLDG., 624 S. MICHIGAN-AV. [next door to Blackstone hotel].

NOTICE—Our business is becoming so heavy that we have decided to open a new department. Scores of new applicants have been given employment during the evening, after business hours. Many of our employes, who are employed otherwise during the daytime, have bought new cars and have opened new bank accounts as a result of this wonderful extra income opportunity. Make up your mind now to answer this ad promptly for this opportunity will not last long. Knowing how and why means EXTRA MONEY during the summer months A BANK ACCOUNT AND A VACATION. Shirkers, buck passers, and would-be smart-alecks stay away. REMEMBER THE TIME TO APPLY IS 8 O'CLOCK WEDNESDAY EVENING ONLY. Now if you really desire to open a REAL BANK ACCOUNT and ENJOY A VACATION THIS SUMMER ABSOLUTELY FREE OF EXPENSES, DON'T MISS THIS. Do not answer this ad unless you are really sincere and anxious to earn an EXTRA WEEKLY INCOME during the summer months. Another organization has attempted to copy our extra income plan and has copied this ad verbatim. "A hint to the wise is sufficient." Be guided accordingly.

We will receive no applications after 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, so make up your mind NOW to answer on time. REGARDLESS OF PRESENT EMPLOYMENT, EVERY ONE WILL BE GIVEN FULLEST CONSIDERATION AT THE ABOVE TIME.

Winifred Webster Harlow, Character Analyst of Woman's World Fair, 1927, Wants to Meet You.

If you have the qualities needed for a successful business career Miss Harlow will quickly recognize them and place you in a special line of work peculiarly adapted to ladies where you can put in part time or full time and be rewarded by extremely large earnings.

Those coming in to see Miss Harlow will receive her own personal attention and instructions in Character Reading at sight without charge and be taught how to use this knowledge in social, home and business life.

Come in any time Tuesday. Talk to Miss Harlow in her own private office.

AMERICA'S DOMINANT INDUSTRY CALLS YOU.

At last scientific salesmanship is being successfully applied to the sale of fine motor cars. More than three hundred people interested in increasing their earning power attended the third weekly meeting and enrolled in our gratis ten lesson course in scientific salesmanship, personal efficiency, and applied psychology at Stutz [illegible], 2500 South Michigan-av., last Tuesday evening.

These lessons are being conducted by Fred B. Smith, America's greatest demonstrator of applied psychology in sales work. So overwhelming has been the success of the new plan, [illegible] we are judging by actual sales, [illegible] F. E. Moskovics, president of the Stutz Motor Car Company of America is coming to Chicago to address our next meeting to be held Tuesday, June 14th, at seven thirty p. m., at S. W. corner 25th and Michigan.

Mr. Moskovics is a renowned speaker, sales executive, and an automotive engineer of international repute. He was personally selected by Charles M. Schwab to be the head of the Stutz Motor Car Company of America and is the designer of the new and proven invention, the Safety Stutz.

An opportunity is offered to every sales person or potential sales person in Chicago to take advantage of this remarkable course without charge, and, in addition, the further opportunity of earning while learning is afforded.

If you desire to improve your position in life and to better your mental equipment, attend our next meeting. At that time full details will be furnished you regarding the course and how you can earn either with full effort or part time service an unusual amount of money for time expended.

TRADE SCHOOLS.

PLACES NOW OPEN IN MARINELLO CLASSES.

A limited number of students are now being enrolled in Marinello training classes in marcelling, permanent waving, manicuring and beauty culture to fill positions as operators in Marinello Beauty Shops. The cost of instruction in day or night classes is at the rate of 25 cents an hour and easy terms are arranged for those who qualify. Graduates are competent to pass any State examination and to earn $35 to $75 a week as operators or to open own beauty shops. Limited to girls with grammar school education and other necessary qualifications. This school is conducted without profit by the Marinello Company to meet the demand for trained operators which is now greater than we can supply. Phone Superior 3741, Desk 9-C, for appointment or call in person, 808 Tower-ct., National School of Cosmeticians.

WHY PAY RENT? FOR LOVERS
of reasonably priced, beautiful co-operative apartments. We have developed a building at the northeast corner of Sherwin and Ashland-avs., Rogers Park. Four and five room units, some with two baths, such as you would expect to find only along the Lake Shore-dr. at $10,000 to $12,000 more than our prices.

All rooms have canvased walls, painted and glazed; venetian bracket lights, mirrored doors, cedar lined closets. Frigidaire with porcelain interior and exterior boxes. Large enameled Crown ranges with oven heat regulators; electric exhaust and intake fans, glistening white tile bathrooms with fixtures and showers. Pedestal lavatory; built in bathtubs; excellent closet space; in fact every modern convenience.

Construction throughout the building, halls, lobbies, etc., is the very best. Storage space, modern laundry facilities, Kewanee heating plant with internal hot water system, water pump, directors, or play room. Large room with kitchen attached in basement for receptions, entertainments, etc., for the benefit of owners.

Can you imagine all this with assessments as low as $46.91 per month, including all interest. We are selling to discriminating people only and invite your thorough investigation.

The "VENETIAN GARDENS" is located one block to Jarvis L sta. Two blocks to Sheridan-rd. and lake.

EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY FOR WHOLESALE OR RETAIL LOCATION IN MINNEAPOLIS

We have available 7,000 sq. ft. of ground floor space, located on the 5th-st. side of the West hotel, Minneapolis. This building divides the retail shopping district and wholesale district; space is particularly valuable as a furniture showroom, house furnishing or electrical equipment store; rental $6,000 per year. This offers an exceptional opportunity to any Chicago concern contemplating a wholesale or retail branch in the northwest to get a location among the old established firms at a reasonable rental. Address manager, West hotel, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

WAREHOUSE CONDEMNED!

Starting Today

At 8:30 A. M.

¼ Million Dollar Furniture Sale

Our warehouse at Lake-st. was condemned to make way for a new street to Wacker-drive. We were forced to move our high grade furniture to temporary warehouses. Now our new, large 6 story warehouse at 152-154 W. Huron-st. will soon be ready for us and rather than move the contents of 3 temporary warehouses we will place the entire one-quarter million dollar stock on sale at a tremendous sacrifice.

STUDEBAKER GUARANTEED CERTIFIED

CARS OFFERED AT ROCK BOTTOM PRICES

These Studebakers should give you new car satisfaction. They have been thoroughly reconditioned and are certified under the terms of the Studebaker Used Car Pledge. Five days' free driving trial and 30 day free service guarantee go with each one sold. This is the most complete protection today and the cars advertised represent the MOST VALUE for the money offered anywhere!

STUDEBAKER SEDAN.

A Special Six, actually priced at the lowest figure we've ever marked a car of this caliber. Because of the thorough reconditioning given this model, you'll find it performs like a brand new car merely broken in. The appearance is unusually attractive and the extras include a large heater, spare tire, etc. GUARANTEED. Reduced specially to $585.

STUDEBAKER ROADSTER.

A current model, the famous Big Six, equipped with the most powerful motor of its size and weight. Has a world of pep, but handles very easily. There's a rumble seat in the rear, 5 excellent balloon tires, snubbers, bumpers, front and rear, step plates, windshield wings, and other extras. This is a beautiful sporty car with very low mileage. GUARANTEED. Today, $980.

STUDEBAKER COACH.

A Standard Six that's a late model. To appreciate this exceptional value, a personal test and inspection is necessary. The motor could not be improved, while the condition of the upholstery, finish, and other details suggest a new car. The five tires have had little wear and there's many desirable extras. GUARANTEED. Marked down to $785.

STUDEBAKER TOURING.

This handsome Special Six is equipped with dandy glass sides, affording the motorist open or closed car convenience. It's just been refinished, so it would be difficult to find any flaws in its beautiful appearance. The motor runs like a top. Has every essential extra. GUARANTEED. See this Studebaker for $445.

STUDEBAKER BROUGHAM.

A Light Six that originally sold for $1,700. Today there's not a mar or scratch on the body, while the luxurious mohair upholstery appears absolutely unworn. There is no doubt but that this brougham looks and runs better than many new cars now selling for $1,200. It's equipped with spare tire, heater, step plates, etc. GUARANTEED. Clearance price is $495.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN.

This 1926 Standard Six has been given so little use that one would think it was direct from the factory. Used only for a few months and during this period the driver was unusually careful. He oiled and greased it every 500 miles. We frankly believe you have a new car opportunity here at a used car price. There is a chance to make a substantial saving by buying this GUARANTEED sedan. Today, $885.

STUDEBAKER TOURING.

A Light Six that was completely overhauled and refinished an attractive color. Will give you wonderful performance, and we think our price for this high quality car can't be beat anywhere. GUARANTEED. Today, $385.
